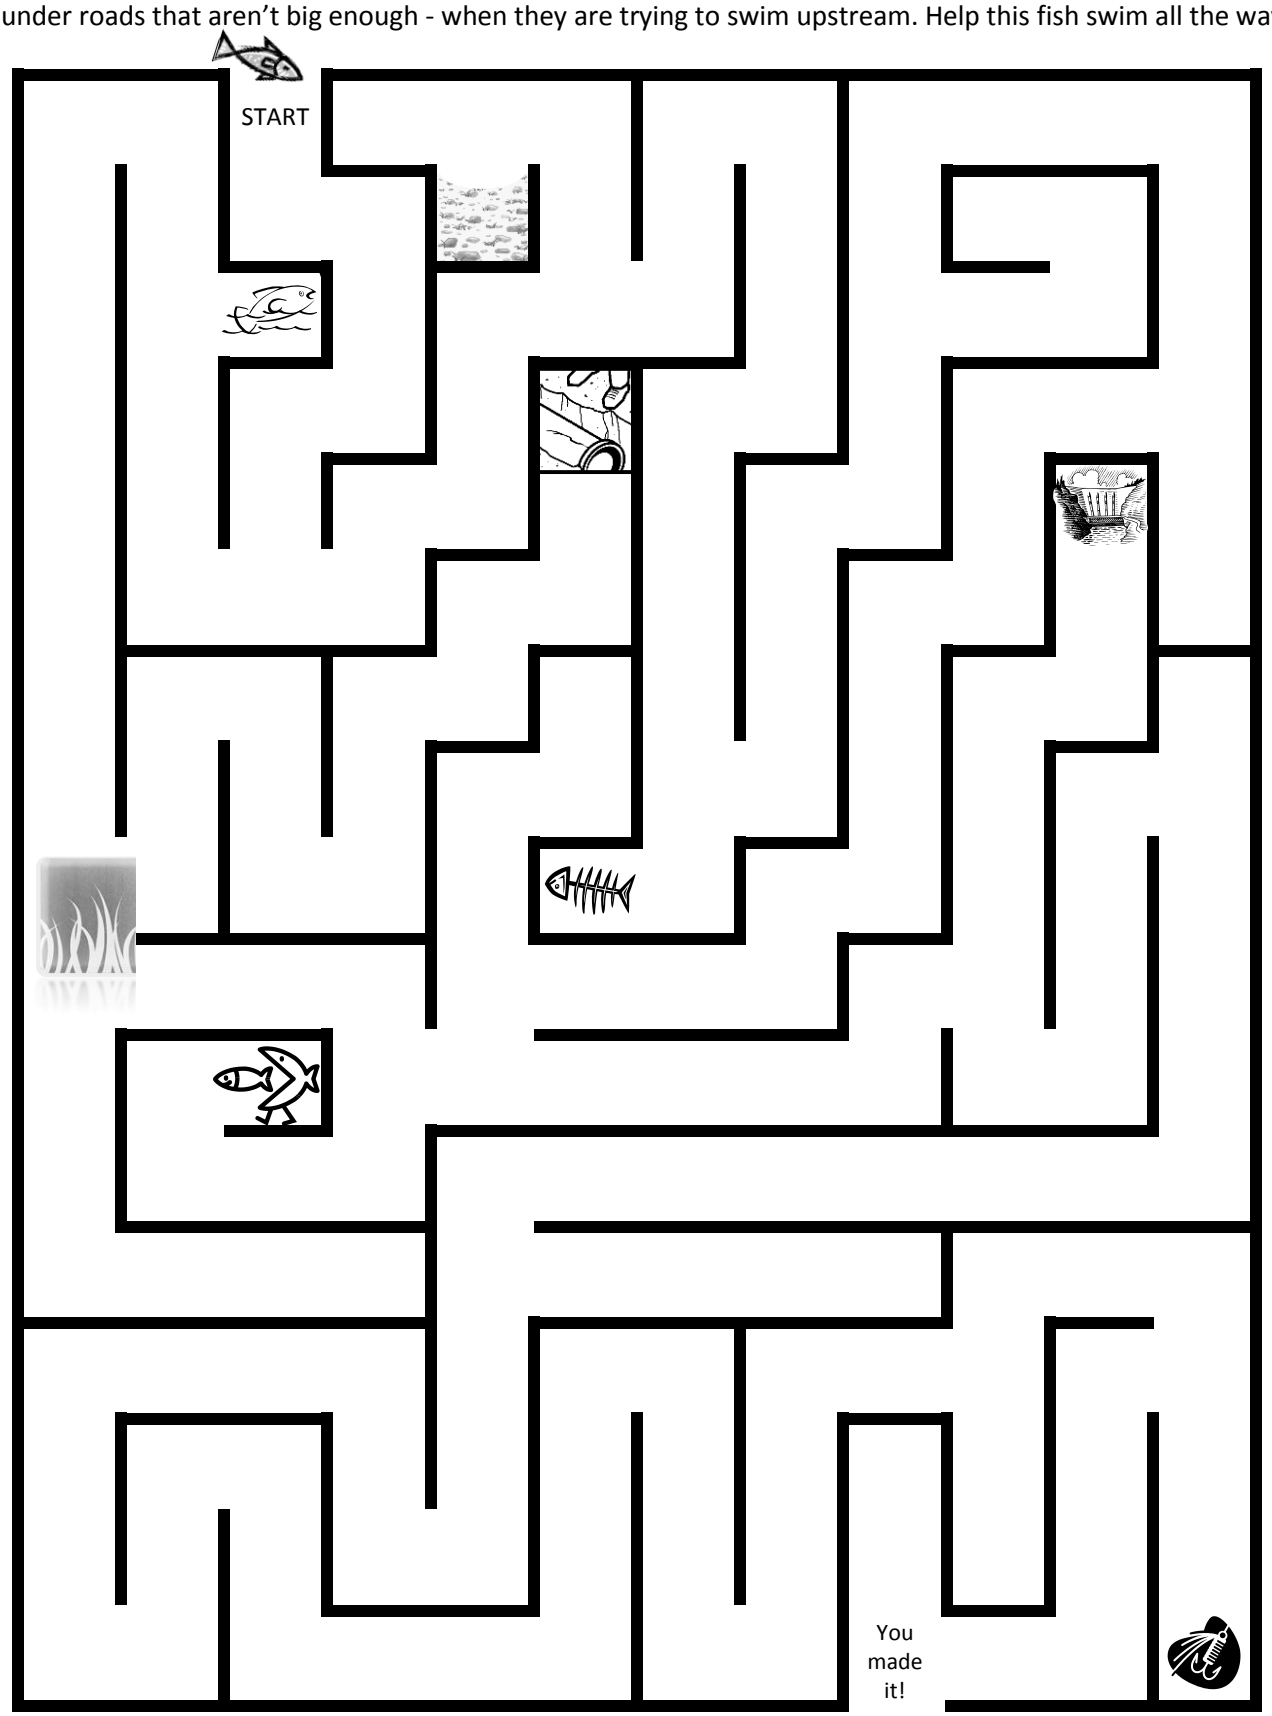
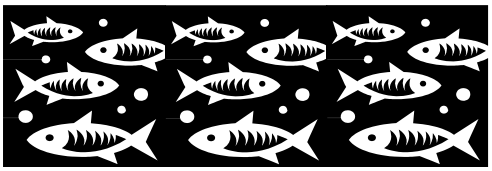
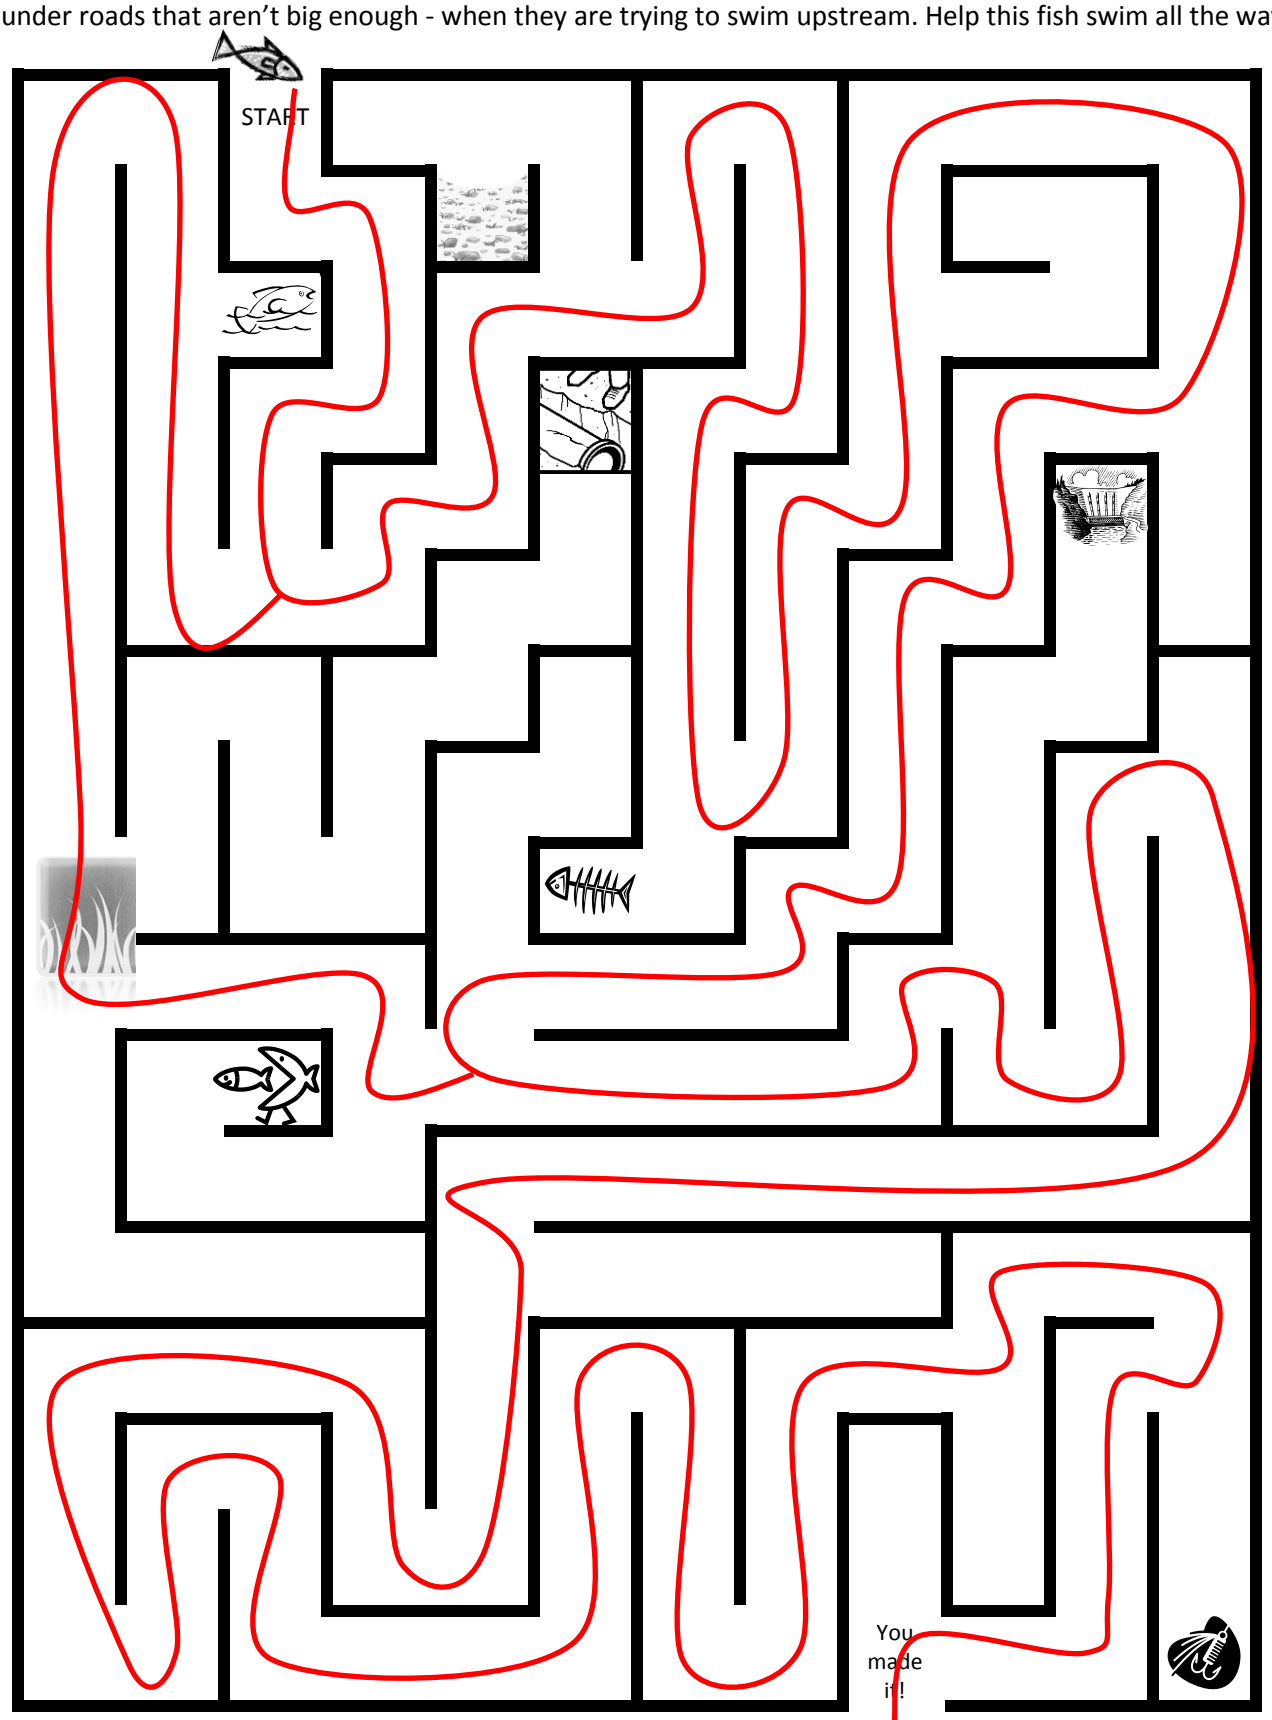
Fish run into many manmade barriers - such as dams that used to produce electricity and culverts (pipes) under roads that aren't big enough - when they are trying to swim upstream. Help this fish swim all the way!

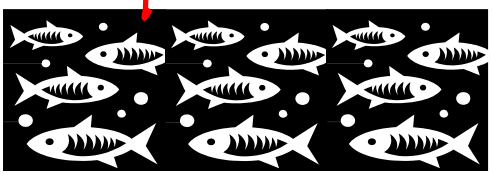


Clean water and open water passageways are needed for the continued reproduction of Michigan's many fish species.
Be a good steward and support the removal of fish barriers!



Fish run into many manmade barriers - such as dams that used to produce electricity and culverts (pipes) under roads that aren't big enough - when they are trying to swim upstream. Help this fish swim all the way!



Clean water and open water passageways are needed for the continued reproduction of Michigan's many fish species.


Be a good steward and support the removal of fish barriers!