

Who Is Eligible to Have an Authority?

Any local governmental unit (city, village, township or county) may create a Brownfield Redevelopment Authority. A county Brownfield Redevelopment Authority may be involved with eligible property throughout the county, but may not include a project in their brownfield plan unless the affected municipality concurs that the site in their community may be included in the county's plan.