

MICHIGAN (SMALL BUSINESS) CLEAN AIR COMPLIANCE ADVISORY PANEL

Barry S. Cargill

B. Cargill Associates, LLC
517/267-2206

Mr. Cargill is the past Vice-President of Governmental Relations for the Small Business Association of Michigan, and former President of the Michigan Tax Information Council. He has also held positions as a legislative policy advisor to former State Senator Vern Ehlers and Senate Majority Leader Richard Posthumus.

Betty Gajewski, CAP Member representing the general public
616/677-1643

Ms. Gajewski is a former Senior Environmental Engineer for Steelcase's environmental regulatory team. She has a background in multi-media regulatory application, change management and environmental audits. Prior to her service at Steelcase, Ms. Gajewski worked as a Regulatory Specialist for the environmental consulting firm, Earth Tech, and as an Environmental Planner with the West Michigan Shoreline Regional Development Commission.

Ms. Gajewski has been an active participant with many environmental groups including the Air and Waste Management Association, the West Michigan Sustainable Business Forum, and the Environmental Affairs Committee of the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce.

Sue Pemberton, Environmental Regulatory Compliance Engineer
Environmental Services
Lansing Board of Water and Light
517/702-6363

Sue Pemberton is an Environmental Analyst in the Environmental Services Department at the Lansing Board of Water and Light (LBWL), involved in waste reduction and management, water quality, and air quality activities. Ms. Pemberton serves as a board member of the West Michigan Air & Waste Management Association and has been active in the chapter since its inception.

The LBWL serves Lansing, Michigan, and surrounding areas with electricity, water, and steam. Chartered in 1885, by a vote of Lansing's citizens, the LBWL remains a public power utility in its second century of service. Lansing's city charter vests the LBWL with full and exclusive management of water, heat, steam, and electric services for the city. The American Public Power Association has honored the LBWL as one of the country's best publicly-owned utilities.

Brian Warner, Environmental Services Supervisor
Wolverine Power Cooperative
231/775-5700

Mr. Warner is currently employed as the environmental services supervisor for Wolverine Power Cooperative, a not-for-profit, member-owned electric transmission and generation cooperative owned by five member-cooperatives. He is recognized as a Certified Hazardous Materials Manager by the Institute of Hazardous Materials Management.

In 1998, Mr. Warner was appointed by Governor John Engler to the state of Michigan's Site Review Board. In February of 2003, Mr. Warner was appointed by Governor Jennifer Granholm to the Michigan Land Use Leadership Council. During his 14 years of service at Wolverine, Mr. Warner has participated in several MDEQ clean air workgroups and provided written comment to legislative leaders regarding proposed clean air regulations on behalf of Wolverine Power and Michigan's electric cooperatives.
