The Noka Recycling Program (NRP) consists of a mail back system designed to be free of charge and easily accessible to the consumer. The NRP is built upon Nokia's existing cell phone recycling program. Nokia has engaged voluntarily in the collection and responsible recycling of cell phones in the USA for over 6 years. Currently we operate over 5000 collection points in 85 countries around the world. The primary system of collection employed across the USA is a web-based mail back system that allows the consumer to print a prepaid postage label which may be applied to a container for easy, cost-free shipment of the device to Nokia's recycling partners.

Key features of the NRP include:

- Consumers do not have to pay a separate fee at the time of recycling to recycle used computer equipment under Nokia's NRP.
- Nokia provides for the collection from a consumer of any used computer or cellular device that bears the Nokia brand.
- Nokia provides for the proper recycling or reuse of used computer equipment.
- Nokia provides for the collection of Nokia computer equipment that is reasonably convenient and available to consumers in Michigan, and designed to meet the collection needs of consumers in this state.
- Consumers can find out specifically how and where to return computer equipment at <http://www.nokiausa.com/recycle>.
