TAKEBACK PROGRAM INFORMATION

9. Please describe your takeback program.

Motorola Mobility offers take back and recycling for mobile devices. Our take-back programs accept any mobile phone, tablet or accessory (not only Motorola products). Here is an outline of how the recycling program works in the U.S.:

1. Consumers may download a postage-paid label from our website: <http://responsibility.motorola.com/images/uploads/environment-recycling-mobile-phone-postage.pdf>
2. This label can be affixed to any package/envelope and the consumer can drop it in the mail at no charge.
3. The package will be received by Recellular, Inc., who manages the recycling of all shipped mobile devices on behalf of Motorola. All phones are either refurbished for resale or recycled and Recellular reports the volume of phones collected to Motorola.

10. What information do you provide to consumers on how and where to return covered electronic devices that are labeled with your name or brand label?

We provide a pre-paid mailing label available for consumers to download from our website, along with instructions for packaging. We also provide a dedicated toll free number in which consumers can call with specific questions or request a mailing label be emailed or mailed to them directly.

11. How do you provide information to consumers on how and where to return covered electronic devices?

Our recycling program information is posted on our website (link referenced above) and can also be found on the EPA eCycle cell phone website - <http://www.epa.gov/epawaste/partnerships/plugin/cellphone/index.htm> along with many other websites such as Earth 911,

TAKEBACK PROGRAM REPORT (include this information beginning with the first registration submitted after the implementation of the takeback program)

12. The total weight of the covered electronic devices received by the takeback program from consumers during the prior year:

Since we did not sell any CEDs prior to March 2011, we have not collected any CEDs through our recycling programs to date. We have collected mobile phones through this recycling program and the program will now be expanded to include the tablet computers.
