TAKEBACK PROGRAM INFORMATION

9. Please describe your takeback program.

Research In Motion Limited (RIM) provides for the collection of its end-of-life covered devices (BlackBerry® PlayBook™ tablet) through a mail-back program at no charge to the consumer. Consumers may log on to www.blackberry.com/recycling to print off a prepaid postage label to affix to their package. The consumer may then take their package to the nearest post office to be mailed to a recycling facilities. Information regarding how a consumer may erase personal data from the covered devices is provided on the website.

10. What information do you provide to consumers on how and where to return covered electronic devices that are labeled with your name or brand label?

Consumers can find information on how to recycle their end-of-life covered device on the BlackBerry Recycling Program website (www.blackberry.com/recycling). Consumers can learn how to obtain a pre-paid mailing label, how to package the covered device for mailing and information about how to erase personal data from the device.

11. How do you provide information to consumers on how and where to return covered electronic devices?

RIM references its collection program, including the website where further information can be obtained (www.blackberry.com/recycling), in the Safety Information Booklet that is shipped with each covered device. A link to the website is also provided in the PlayBook section of www.blackberry.com.
