

Student Monitoring Program

General Motors Warren Transmission, Clinton River Watershed Council, and Sterling Heights High School

This program is a biannual event conducted by the volunteer mentors from General Motors Warren Transmission, members of the Clinton River Watershed Council, and area teachers and students. These volunteers have monitored the water quality of the Red Run Drain which is part of the Clinton River watershed. They monitor water quality parameters, macro and micro invertebrates, fish, reptiles, and aquatic vegetation.

