MICHIGAN AIR EMISSIONS REPORTING SYSTEM (MAERS)

What's new for Emissions Inventory (EI) Year 2011

- Latitudes and longitudes that have been verified by AQD staff will be grayed out in the MAERS web based application and cannot be modified by the facility. If a verified latitude or longitude is incorrect, please send an e-mail to INFOMAERS@Michigan.gov with the correct information.
- For emission units that previously did not have the Emission Unit Type field completed, some emission unit types have been filled in by AQD staff, please review each emission unit type and change as appropriate.
- The control device list has been updated. Obsolete control device codes have been mapped to acceptable codes. Facilities should verify the correct control devices are selected on the Emission Unit Form. The updated list of acceptable control device codes is available in the MAERS web based application or via the Internet at www.michigan.gov/deqair. Go to "Emissions," "Emissions Reporting," and then "MAERS Support Resources."
- All paper submittal MAERS forms have a new field. The new field is the Inventory Year. The inventory year is the time period the facility is required to report emissions inventory; e.g. 2011 is the Inventory Year for the 2011 MAERS report.
- MAERS workshops are offered throughout January and February. You can find more information and register online at www.michigan.gov/deqworkshops
- Be sure to check out the MAERS website for additional updates at www.michigan.gov/deqair. Go to "Emissions," then "Emissions Reporting."
