John Ball Zoo: Party for the Planet!

JOHN BALL ZOO

Saturday, May 5th, 2018
10am-3pm
John Ball Zoo
1300 Fulton W.
Grand Rapids, MI 49504

The event, organized by the Association of Zoos & Aquariums (AZA), is designed to get families thinking about how very small actions in Grand Rapids can make big impacts toward saving our world's resources and wildlife everywhere. Party for the Planet at John Ball Zoo will offer several booths hosted by conservation and green-practicing organizations. They will be demonstrating easy ways to reduce, reuse and recycle.

For more information www.jbzoo.org, info@jbzoo.org, 616-336-4300

On this day we invite local conservation, recycling, environmental, etc. agencies and organizations to host a booth to let our visitors know what they do, where they need help, and how folks can get involved. We generally have about 20 organizations participate. If it's good weather, we can see attendance up to 5,000 on that day.
