Consumer Confidence Report (CCR)/ Annual Water Quality Report

February 23, 2012, 2:00 – 4:00 PM (EST)

Over ten years ago, drinking water suppliers started sending customers an annual water quality report. With advances in technology, EPA is now looking for ways to enhance the communication and delivery of the annual water quality report.

Join us by registering for the webinar & web dialogue!

Webinar Registration: Individuals must register to view the webinar at <https://www3.gotomeeting.com/register/396514342>.

Web Dialogue Registration: Individuals participating from February 23, 2012, to March 9, 2012, in the web dialogue discussions must join the community at <http://CCRRetrospectiveReview.ideascale.com>.

What's up for discussion?

- Alternative delivery options (e.g. e-mail delivery);
- CCR delivery certification resource burdens;
- Use of CCRs to meet Tier 3 Public Notification requirements; and
- How contaminant levels are reported in the CCR.

All are invited!! Consumers, drinking water system staff, state and federal drinking water regulators.

More information on CCRs can be accessed on EPA's website at <http://water.epa.gov/lawsregs/rulesregs/sdwa/ccr/index.cfm>.
