

Crossing to Bridges

To provide better service, your local DHS office is changing to a new statewide computer system called Bridges. You will notice several changes, including the following:

- Your recipient ID number will remain the same but your case number will change.
- Applications interviews may take longer; however, determining eligibility and benefits will be shorter.
- The date you receive your benefits may change. The new date will be based on the last digit of your recipient ID number. A new schedule will be mailed to you.
- Notices mailed to you will look different. Most of them will be a half-fold and mailed in a 6x9 envelope. Most forms will have your specialist's name, phone and fax numbers, and email address.
- Program redeterminations will be different. You will receive a redetermination packet in the middle of the month before it is due. A two-page form, DHS-1010, will tell you what verifications to include.
- You will receive a single notice of all case actions instead of separate notices for each program.
