

James Cain, Superintendent, Port Huron Public Schools and Bill Weston, Director, St. Clair/Sanilac County DHS

Michigan children have great potential. Together, we can help them reach it.

Through Pathways to Potential, the Michigan Department of Human Services is working with schools, communities and families across the state so all Michigan children can succeed.

How can DHS help in the schools?

- 1 Improve Attendance
Working in the schools, our staff are able to remove barriers to attendance early on before they result in truancy and negatively impact learning.
- 2 Connect Families
When issues arise that impact attendance, our staff quickly forge relationships with parents that show we're all working together. This has resulted in improved parent engagement.
- 3 Build Partnerships
When DHS partners with schools, we bring a network of businesses, faith-based organizations and community partners to the table to strategize on how we can help

To learn more about Pathways schools visit:
www.michigan.gov/PathwaysToPotential
#PathwaysToPotential

Department of Human Services (DHS) will not discriminate against any individual or group because of race, religion, age, national origin, color, height, weight, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, political beliefs or disability. If you need help with reading, writing, hearing, etc., under the Americans with Disabilities Act, you are invited to make your needs known to a DHS office in your area. Not printed with state funds.