This may result in criminal or civil action or administrative claims against persons who get Food Assistance benefits fraudulently.
- Proof of medical expenses for anyone in the household 60 years of age or older, or receiving social security disability (SSB) or supplemental security income (SSI) benefits, or who is a disabled veteran or a disabled surviving spouse or child of a veteran.

In addition, bringing the following items may help to process the application faster:

- Birthdates of all household members.
- Record of child care payments.
- Record of child support payments made.

WHAT ARE FOOD ASSISTANCE BENEFITS?

Food Assistance benefits are issued into a food account using electronic technology and a debit card known as the Michigan Bridge Card.

WHAT CAN YOU BUY WITH FOOD ASSISTANCE BENEFITS?

The Bridge Card is used to buy (1) any food or food product for human use, or (2) seeds and plants for use in a home garden to produce for your own use. Most grocery stores that accept the Bridge Card display the Quest Logo.

You cannot buy nonfood items such as (1) soap, (2) pet food, (3) tobacco, (4) paper products, (5) alcoholic beverages, (6) hot foods ready to eat, (7) lunch counter items or foods to be eaten in the store, or (8) vitamins or medicines.

WHO CAN GET FOOD ASSISTANCE BENEFITS?

Any "household" that meets the income, and other basic eligibility rules shown below can get Food Assistance benefits. A household may be one person or a group of people who live together and customarily buy and prepare their food together.

A person who is a boarder or lives in an institution (with some exceptions) cannot get Food Assistance benefits.

WHAT IS EBT?

Electronic Benefit Transfer (EBT) is the way Michigan distributes Food Assistance benefits. A Michigan Bridge Card, including a Person identification Number (PIN) allows access to a recipient's account.

The Bridge Card can be used at USDA-certified retailers with Point-of-Sale (POS) devices. Only the recipient and their Authorized Representative can access the EBT account.

WHAT IS INCOME? HOW MUCH CAN A HOUSEHOLD HAVE?

Income is all money received or expected to be received by all household members. However, not all kinds of income are counted.

Total countable income within a set limit for a household's size is used to determine eligibility for Food Assistance benefits. One or more allowable income deductions may be subtracted to determine the value of the benefits the group may get.

Allowable deductions are:

- A standard deduction;
- A 20 percent deduction from any earned income;
- A deduction for any dependent care up to a set limit;
- A deduction for monthly medical expenses of more than $35 (only for senior and / or disabled members or disabled veterans or disabled surviving spouses or children of a veteran);
- A deduction for shelter expenses that are more than half of household income after all other deductions are subtracted; and
- A deduction for child support paid for a child outside of the household.

WORK REGISTRATION

Unless deferred, household members age 16 through 59 must agree to participate in employment-related activities if referred. Information regarding work requirements will be given at application and review.

FOOD ASSISTANCE TIME LIMITS

Special work requirements and time limits apply if you are not deferred from Food Assistance work requirements and are not able-bodied (not disabled) adult who is at least 18 years old and less than 50 years old, and have no children in your household. Your specialist will give you a "Time Limited Food Stamp Notice" that explains these requirements. If you have questions, be sure to contact your specialist.

CITIZENSHIP / ALIEN STATUS

U.S. citizens and certain lawfully admitted aliens are eligible for Food Assistance benefits.

THE APPLICATION PROCESS

Anyone has the right to apply for Food Assistance benefits. The local Department of Human Services (DHS) office will give or mail an application on the day requested. Requests can be made in person, by phone, by mail, or by someone else who can do this for the household. The application must be completed and turned in at the local DHS office. Help will be given with this form upon request. The application will be taken when it is turned in, even if the worker cannot see the applicant on that day.

Each applicant must be interviewed. If he / she or someone acting for the household cannot get to the office because of special problems, (health, age, transportation, work hours, etc.), a home visit or telephone interview may be set up.

Eligible households will get their benefits by the 30th day after turning in the filling form and / or the application. Those with little or no money may be able to get Food Assistance benefits within seven days.

SSI / FOOD ASSISTANCE APPLICATIONS

Application for Food Assistance benefits may be filed at the local Social Security Administration (SSA) office if the applicant and everyone who lives and eats with him/her is applying for or receiving SSI benefits. The local SSA office will send the application to the local DHS office. The DHS office will approve or deny the application within 30 days. Contact the DHS office if a notice is not received by that time.

This service is intended to make it easier for some SSI households to get Food Assistance benefits . Anyone who wishes to do so may still apply at the local DHS office.
