

Assistive Listening Devices. These devices may be an FM system, loop system, or pocket talker used by individuals with hearing aids. They amplify the speech sounds while eliminating background noise.