

Robert Walther

Robert Walther has been part of Walther Farms, a third generation potato farm for 50 years. At the present time Walther Farms has 17,000 acres, all under irrigation. 10,000 of those acres are in Michigan in ten different counties throughout the state. The remainder of their acres are in Indiana, Georgia, Florida and Mexico. Robert has been active in various potato organizations including 5 years as a Vice President of the National Potato Council, several years as Vice President of the Potato Growers of Michigan as well as actively involved with the Michigan Potato Industry Commission and the National Potato Promotion Board.