Mark Adler, Director of MPA stated, "Michigan has always been a wellspring of creative talent, from music and art to films. We tend to be more aware of the artistic side. This session will address contracts, property and taxes, important aspects of this business freelancers need to know.

Entertainment attorney, Michael Einheuser will conduct this session and provide valuable insights for producers, independent contractors, crew and those interested in the law as it pertains to media and entertainment.

SPACE IS LIMITED - Register for the event at the MPA website indicated above, cost for non members is a nominal $5 to help MPA promote the industry. Students enrolled in Oakland County film/video classes through the countywide Career Technical Education program will be admitted free with their student ID. Teachers of these classes may also enjoy free admission with appropriate identification.

Refreshments will be served. Members pick up your name tags!
MPA members, as always FREE, others $5
