ABRAHAM
LINCOLN'S

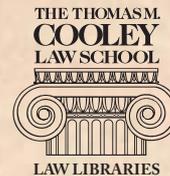

JOURNEY
TO
EMANCIPATION

Abraham Lincoln
President of the United States.
By virtue of the power in me vested as Commander in Chief of the Army and of the United States, in consequence of certain armed rebellion against the authority and government of the United States, and as a fit and necessary measure for suppressing said rebellion, do, on this first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred sixty three, and in accordance with my purpose so to do, publicly proclaimed for the first time, and designate as the days of the first above mentioned order, and designate as the days of the first above mentioned order, respectively are this day, in rebellion against the United States, the States of Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana — except the parishes of St. Bernard, Plaquemines, Iberville, St. Charles, St. James, Ascension, Assumption, Terre Bonne, Lafourche, St. Mary, and Orleans, including the city of New Orleans — Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia,

The Hon. Thomas E. Brennan Law Library at The Thomas M. Cooley Law School is pleased to announce an upcoming special event. The library will host an exhibit entitled "Forever Free: Abraham Lincoln's Journey to Emancipation." You are invited to attend the opening event, Friday, October 19, 2007 from 6-9 p.m. in the Cooley Center lobby, 300 S. Capitol Ave., downtown Lansing. Dr. William Anderson, Director of the Michigan Department of History, Arts and Libraries, will speak, and Cooley Professor Kathleen Butler will narrate composer Aaron Copland's musical tribute "A Lincoln Portrait." The exhibit has been organized by the Huntington Library and the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History, in cooperation with the American Library Association. Major grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Abraham Lincoln Bicentennial Commission made this exhibit possible. The exhibit will be on display at the Brennan Law Library in the Strosacker Room from October 18-November 30, 2007. For more information regarding the exhibit, visit cooley.edu, call Tim Innes at (517) 371-5140, ext. 3303, or e-mail foreverfree@cooley.edu.
