PUBLIC COMMENT

Janine McKay, representing Oakland Community College, reiterated her misgivings about applicants who drop out of massage training programs and obtain licensure by simply taking the MBLEx. She recommended the Board consider honoring CE provided by schools that have the North Central Accreditation. She also suggested that only "official transcripts" from training programs should be enforced.

Mike Ryan, MSTM, had concerns that massage schools without accreditation need to be corrected. He also spoke on the difficulties he had reporting an unlicensed massage therapist complaint.

Mike Krombeen, representing Midwest Strategy Group, stated that massage CE should be provided by schools that have the North Central Association Commission accreditation. Additionally, transparency should exist during discussion of what particular massage therapy administrative rule is being reviewed by the Rules Committee.
