Within ten (10) days following receipt of written notice from the State relating to any claim, Contractor shall notify the State in writing whether Contractor agrees to assume control of the defense and settlement of that claim (a "Notice of Election"). After notifying Contractor of a claim and prior to the State receiving Contractor's Notice of Election, the State shall be entitled to defend against the claim, at Contractor's expense, and Contractor will be responsible for any reasonable costs incurred by the State in defending against the claim during such period.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the State may retain control of the defense and settlement of a claim by written notice to Contractor given within ten (10) days after the State's receipt of Contractor's information requested by the State pursuant to clause (ii) of this paragraph if the State determines that Contractor has failed to demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the State Contractor's financial ability to carry out its defense and indemnity obligations under this Section. Any litigation activity on behalf of the State of Michigan, or any of its subdivisions pursuant to this Section, must be coordinated with the Department of Attorney General. In the event the insurer's attorney represents the State pursuant to this Section, the insurer's attorney may be required to be designated as a Special Assistant Attorney General by the Attorney General of the State of Michigan.
- (c) If Contractor does not deliver a Notice of Election relating to any claim of which it is notified by the State as provided above, the State shall have the right to defend the claim in such manner as it may deem appropriate, at the cost and expense of Contractor. If it is determined that the claim was one against which Contractor was required to indemnify the State, upon request of the State, Contractor shall promptly reimburse the State for all such reasonable costs and expenses.

2.601 BREACH DEFINED

In addition to any remedies available in law and by the terms of this contract, if the Contractor breaches Sections 2.508, 2.509, or 2.510, such a breach may be considered as a default in the performance of a material obligation of this contract.

2.603 EXCUSABLE FAILURE

1. Neither party shall be liable for any default or delay in the performance of its obligations under the Contract if and to the extent such default or delay is caused, directly or indirectly, by: fire, flood, earthquake, elements of nature or acts of God; riots, civil disorders, rebellions or revolutions in any country; the failure of the other party to perform its material responsibilities under the Contract

(either itself or through another contractor); injunctions (provided the injunction was not issued as a result of any fault or negligence of the party seeking to have its default or delay excused); or any other cause beyond the reasonable control of such party; provided the non-performing party and its subcontractors are without fault in causing such default or delay, and such default or delay could not have been prevented by reasonable precautions and cannot reasonably be circumvented by the non-performing party through the use of alternate sources, workaround plans or other means, including disaster recovery plans. In such event, the non-performing party will be excused from any further performance or observance of the obligation(s) so affected for as long as such circumstances prevail and such party continues to use its best efforts to recommence performance or observance whenever and to whatever extent possible without delay provided such party promptly notifies the other party in writing of the inception of the excusable failure occurrence, and also of its abatement or cessation.

If this Contract (or any Statement of Work issued under it) is terminated for any reason prior to completion, Contractor agrees to provide for up to six (6) months after the termination all reasonable termination assistance requested by the State to facilitate the orderly transfer of such Services to the State or its designees in a manner designed to minimize interruption and adverse effect. Such termination assistance will be deemed by the parties to be governed by the terms and conditions of this Contract (notwithstanding its termination) other than any terms or conditions that do not reasonably apply to such termination assistance. Such termination assistance shall be at no additional charge to the State if the termination is for Contractor's Default pursuant to Section 2.602; otherwise the State shall compensate Contractor for such termination assistance on a time and materials basis in accordance with the Amendment Labor Rates identified within this Contract agreement.

2.703 LIQUIDATED DAMAGES

- A. The State and the Contractor hereby agree to the specific standards set forth in this Contract. It is agreed between the Contractor and the State that the actual damages to the State as a result of Contractor's failure to provide promised services would be difficult or impossible to determine with accuracy. The State and the Contractor therefore agree that liquidated damages as set out herein shall be a reasonable approximation of the damages that shall be suffered by the State as a result thereof. Accordingly, in the event of such damages, at the written direction of the State, the Contractor shall pay the State $5,000 as liquidated damages, and not as a penalty. Amounts due the State as liquidated damages, if not paid by the Contractor within fifteen (15) days of notification of assessment, may be deducted by the State from any money payable to the Contractor pursuant to this Contract. The State will notify the Contractor in writing of any claim for liquidated damages pursuant to this paragraph on or before the date the State deducts such sums from money payable to the Contractor. No delay by the State in assessing or collecting liquidated damages shall be construed as a waiver of such rights.
- B. The Contractor shall not be liable for liquidated damages when, in the opinion of the State, incidents or delays result directly from causes beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the Contractor. Such causes may include, but are not restricted to, acts of God, fires, floods, epidemics, and labor unrest; but in every case the delays must be beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the Contractor.
- C. Liquidated Damages will be assessed as noted above if the proposed work is not completed each season during the noted work dates.

2.704 STOP WORK

- 1. The State may, at any time, by written stop work order to the Contractor, require that the Contractor stop all, or any part, of the work called for by this Contract for a period of up to 90 days after the stop work order is delivered to the Contractor, and for any further period to which the parties may agree. The stop work order shall be specifically identified as such and shall indicate that it is issued under this section. Upon receipt of the stop work order, the Contractor shall immediately comply with its terms and take all reasonable steps to minimize the incurrence of costs allocable to the work covered by the stop work order during the period of work stoppage. Within the period of the stop work order, the State shall either:
 - a) Cancel the stop work order; or
 - b) Cancel the work covered by the stop work order as provided in the cancellation section of this Contract.
- 2. If a stop work order issued under this section is canceled or the period of the stop work order or any extension thereof expires, the Contractor shall resume work. The State shall make an equitable adjustment in the delivery schedule, the contract price, or both, and the Contract shall be modified, in writing, accordingly, if:
 - a) The stop work order results in an increase in the time required for, or in the Contractor's costs properly allocable to the performance of any part of this Contract; and
 - b) The Contractor asserts its right to an equitable adjustment within 30 days after the end of the period of work stoppage; provided, that if the State decides the facts justify the action, the State may receive and act upon a proposal submitted at any time before final payment under this Contract.
- 3. If the stop work order is not canceled and the work covered by the stop work order is canceled for reasons other than material breach, the State shall allow reasonable costs resulting from the stop work order in arriving at the cancellation settlement.

4. If a stop work order is not canceled and the work covered by the stop work order is canceled for material breach, the State shall not allow, by equitable adjustment or otherwise, reasonable costs resulting from the stop work order.

An appropriate equitable adjustment may be made in any related contract of the Contractor that provides for adjustment and is affected by any stop work order under this section. The State shall not be liable to the Contractor for loss of profits because of a stop work order issued under this section.

2.705 SUSPENSION OF WORK

The Contract Administrator may order the Contractor, in writing, to suspend, delay, or interrupt all or any part of the work of this contract for the period of time that the Contract Administrator determines appropriate for the convenience of the Government.

If the performance of all or any part of the work is, for an unreasonable period of time, suspended, delayed, or interrupted (1) by an act of the Contract Administrator in the administration of this contract, or (2) by the Contract Administrator's failure to act within the time specified in this contract (or within a reasonable time if not specified), an adjustment shall be made for any increase in the cost of performance of this contract (excluding profit) necessarily caused by the unreasonable suspension, delay, or interruption, and the contract modified in writing accordingly. However, no adjustment shall be made under this clause for any suspension, delay, or interruption to the extent that performance would have been so suspended, delayed, or interrupted by any other cause, including the fault or negligence of the Contractor, or for which an equitable adjustment is provided for or excluded under any other term or condition of this contract.

A claim under this clause shall not be allowed:

- (1) For any costs incurred more than 20 days before the Contractor shall have notified the Contract Administrator in writing of the act or failure to act involved (but this requirement shall not apply as to a claim resulting from a suspension order); and
- (2) Unless the claim, in an amount stated, is asserted in writing as soon as practicable after the termination of the suspension, delay, or interruption, but not later than the date of final payment under the contract.

2.8 Changes, Modifications, and Amendments

2.801 APPROVALS

The Contract may not be modified, amended, extended, or augmented except by a writing executed by the parties hereto, and any breach or default by a party shall not be waived or released other than in writing signed by the other party.

2.802 TIME EXTENTIONS

Time extensions for contract changes will depend upon the extent, if any, by which the changes cause delay in the completion of the various elements of performance as described in the statement of work. The change order granting the time extension may provide that the contract completion date will be extended only for those specific elements related to the changed work and that the remaining contract completion dates for all other portions of the work will not be altered. The change order also may provide an equitable readjustment of liquidated damages under the new completion schedule.

2.803 MODIFICATION

Acquisition Services reserves the right to modify this contract at any time during the contract term. Such modification may include changing the locations to be serviced, additional locations to be serviced, method or manner of performance of the work, number of days service is to be performed, addition or deletion of tasks to be performed, addition or deletion of items, and/or any other modifications deemed necessary. Any changes in pricing proposed by the Contractor resulting from the proposed changes are subject to acceptance by the State. Changes may be increases or decreases. IN THE EVENT PRICES ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE TO THE STATE, THE CONTRACT SHALL BE SUBJECT TO COMPETITIVE BIDDING BASED UPON THE NEW SPECIFICATION.

The State reserves the right to add an item(s) that is not described on the item listing and is available from the Contract vendor. The item(s) may be included on the Contract, only if prior written approval has been granted by Acquisition Services.

2.804 AUDIT AND RECORDS UPON MODIFICATION

DEFINITION: records includes books, documents, accounting procedures and practices, and other data, regardless of whether such items are in written form, electronic form, or in any other form

Contractor shall be required to submit cost or pricing data with the pricing of any modification of this contract to the Contract Administrator in Acquisition Services. Data may include accounting records, payroll records, employee time sheets, and other information the state deems necessary to perform a fair evaluation of the modification proposal. Contract Administrator or authorized representative of the state shall have the right to examine and audit all of the contractor's records, including computations and projections, related to:

1. The proposal for modification;
2. The discussions conducted on the proposal, including those related to negotiation;
3. Pricing of the modification; or
4. Performance of the modification.

Contractor shall make available at its office at all reasonable times the materials described in the paragraphs above.

If this contract is completely or partially terminated, the records relating to the work terminated shall be made available for 3 years after any resulting final termination settlement.

2.805 CHANGES

- (a) The Contract Administrator may, at any time, without notice to the sureties, if any, by written order designated or indicated to be a change order, make changes in the work within the general scope of the contract, including changes:
 - (1) In the specifications (including drawings and designs);
 - (2) In the method or manner of performance of the work;
 - (3) In the Government-furnished facilities, equipment, materials, services, or site; or
 - (4) Directing acceleration in the performance of the work.
- (b) Any other written or oral order (which, as used in this paragraph (b), includes direction, instruction, interpretation, or determination) from the Contract Administrator that causes a change shall be treated as a change order under this clause; Provided, that the Contractor gives the Contract Administrator written notice stating:
 - (1) The date, circumstances, and source of the order; and
 - (2) That the Contractor regards the order as a change order.
- (c) Except as provided in this clause, no order, statement, or conduct of the Contract Administrator shall be treated as a change under this clause or entitle the Contractor to an equitable adjustment.

Oak Wilt Control Project: Vibratory Plowing Service

PROJECT OBJECTIVES

The project goal is to detect and remove oak wilt, Ceratocystis fagacearum, from Michigan's Upper Peninsula (UP). Oak wilt has been detected in isolated areas of two UP counties (See figure below.) This goal will be addressed by using a USDA Forest Service Suppression Grant to:

- 1) Detect oak wilt epicenters
- 2) Remove oak wilt epicenters by:
 - a. Stopping the underground spread to neighboring oaks by using a vibratory plow to break root-grafts between trees
 - b. Stopping over-land spread by proper disposal of infected wood
- 3) Establish oak wilt expertise and resources to prevent the reintroduction of oak wilt via firewood or forest products, and to quickly detect and treat new introductions.

This contract is for the use of a vibratory plow to break root-grafts to a depth of five feet below the soil surface. Forest, Mineral and Fire Management, Michigan Department of Natural Resources owns a special vibratory plow blade which is used by the contractor to penetrate one foot deeper than normal operations for laying underground cable. Vibratory plowing is the most costly component of the suppression program.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Oak wilt is an aggressive disease that affects many species of oak (Quercus spp.). It is one of the most serious tree diseases in the eastern United States, killing thousands of oaks each year in forests, woodlots, and home landscapes.

Oak wilt is a serious pathogen of oak in Michigan and the surrounding seven states. Unlike most pest species, this pest always kills its host. Untreated infection centers spread slowly eventually killing all contiguous, root-grafted oaks. This fungus is established in many areas of the southern Lower Peninsula with spotty distribution in the Northern Lower and Upper Peninsulas. Epicenters are primarily on private land. As the public moves northward into forested areas, the risk of spreading this disease grows. Root graft barriers can stop tree to tree spread of oak wilt once established, but the process of detection, diagnosis and treatment is expensive and time consuming. Many trees are lost, and the threat of overland spread is increased with each new infection center. People often harvest dead oaks for firewood. This wood is often taken to camps or on camping trips where it serves as a source of inoculum the following year if nearby oaks are wounded in the spring or early summer.

In Michigan, the oak-hickory type occupies about 2 million acres of forestland. These woodlands yield important benefits, including water and watershed protection, grazing, wildlife food and habitat, recreation, and wood products.

High value ornamental oaks in urban landscapes are also heavily impacted and at risk. The expanding urban-wildland interface has increased both the distribution and intensity of oak wilt disease. Rural and urban forests are increasingly at risk of losing their oak resources.

State budgets in this time of economic distress are inadequate to address this serious threat. Thus, this US Forest Service Suppression Grant offers a welcome opportunity to manage and hopefully, remove oak wilt from the UP oak resource.

THE DISEASE

Oak wilt is a disease, caused by the fungus Ceratocystis fagacearum. All species of oak are susceptible to oak wilt. Generally, oaks die within 3 to 8 weeks after symptoms appear. Infected white oaks and bur oak may survive for several years but rarely recover.

Oak wilt spreads from tree to tree in two ways, overland and locally via root grafts. The two means of spread result in large scattered pockets of oak wilt, surrounded by smaller satellite infections that can gradually coalesce, killing entire oak stands. Overland spread, which can average 1500 feet per year, occurs when insect vectors carry spores from diseased to tree wounds. Oaks are most susceptible to this type of infection during the months of April, May and June. The fungus fruits in this time period, producing sweet smelling mats attractive to sap beetles. Wounds associated with weather events account for the background incidence of oak wilt. Wounds associated with home construction and incidental tree barking associated with human activity by cars, etc. have been known to contribute to epidemic levels of infection in some developing areas.

Once established, oak wilt can quickly spread to neighboring oaks. For the fungus to spread from tree to tree within an infection center, roots of adjacent trees must graft, or grow into each other. Most root grafts occur in the upper 2 - 3 feet of the soil where the greatest concentration of the roots exist. Occasional grafts may occur as deep as 4 feet.

OAK WILT CONTROL

The primary means of controlling below ground spread of oak wilt is through root-graft disruption using a vibratory plow. When an oak wilt infection pocket (called an epicenter) is detected, a control line is flagged which encircles all symptomatic and neighboring, potentially infected oaks. The accurate placement of the root-graft barrier line is critical to the success of the operation. Line placement is made by experienced professionals. In this case, Michigan DNR Forest Health Specialists, or persons they certify.

After lines have been flagged around detected oak wilt epicenters, an onsite inspection for buried utility lines is ordered (e.g. Miss Dig). Sites are also submitted to the State Historic Preservation Office and the Fish and Wildlife Service to check for potentially impacted sensitive features or artifacts, and possible threatened and endangered species in the area. If no constraints are found, the site is isolated from the surrounding oak forest by breaking root-grafts with a vibratory plow to a depth of 6 feet. The vibratory plow operator is guided by the flags and a certified professional to ensure proper placement and plowing depth, and to deal with unforeseen problems. Oaks inside the root-graft barrier are removed and disposed of properly; thus, removing the threat of oak wilt from the site. Oak wilt is an obligate parasite, meaning that it requires a living host to survive. Once stopped via root-graft barriers and infected oaks are removed, the disease has been removed from the site.
