(c) Minimum basic training requirements that a person, excluding sheriffs, shall complete before being eligible for certification under section 9a(1).

(2) If a person's certification under section 9a(1) becomes void under section 9a(4)(b), the commission shall waive the requirements described in subsection (1)(b) for certification of the person under section 9a(1) if 1 or more of the following apply:

(a) The person has been employed 1 year or less as a commission certified law enforcement officer and is again employed as a law enforcement officer within 1 year after discontinuing employment as a commission certified law enforcement officer.

(b) The person has been employed more than 1 year but less than 5 years as a commission certified law enforcement officer and is again employed as a law enforcement officer within 18 months after discontinuing employment as a commission certified law enforcement officer.

(c) The person has been employed 5 years or more as a commission certified law enforcement officer and is again employed as a law enforcement officer within 2 years after discontinuing employment as a commission certified law enforcement officer.

(d) The person has successfully completed the mandatory training and has been continuously employed as a law enforcement officer, but through no fault of that person the employing agency failed to obtain certification for that person as required by this act.

(3) A commission certified law enforcement officer who is a member of any of the reserve components of the United States armed forces and who is called to active duty in the armed forces is not considered to have discontinued his or her employment as a commission certified law enforcement officer under section 9a(4)(b). The person's certification under section 9a(1) shall not become void during that term of active military service. However, the certification of a certified law enforcement officer described in this subsection may be revoked under section 9b if the officer committed an offense during the period of active duty in the armed forces that resulted in a conviction enumerated in section 9b(1). As used in this subsection, "reserve components of the United States armed forces" means that term as defined in section 2 of the military family relief fund act, 2004 PA 363, MCL 35.1212. This subsection does not apply to a commission certified law enforcement officer who volunteers for a term of active military service or who voluntarily extends a term of active military service that began when he or she was called to active duty. This subsection does not apply to a commission certified law enforcement officer who is dishonorably discharged from a term of active military service.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a regularly employed person employed on or after January 1, 1977 as a member of a police force having a full-time officer is not empowered to exercise all the authority of a peace officer in this state, or be employed in a position for which the authority of a peace officer is conferred by statute, unless the person has received certification under section 9a(1).
(6) A law enforcement officer employed before January 1, 1977 may continue his or her employment as a law enforcement officer and participate in training programs on a voluntary or assigned basis but failure to obtain certification under section 9a(1) or (2) is not grounds for dismissal of or termination of that employment as a law enforcement officer. A person who was employed as a law enforcement officer before January 1, 1977 who fails to obtain certification under section 9a(1) and who voluntarily or involuntarily discontinues his or her employment as a law enforcement officer may be employed as a law enforcement officer if he or she was employed 5 years or more as a law enforcement officer and is again employed as a law enforcement officer within 2 years after discontinuing employment as a law enforcement officer.
(7) A law enforcement officer of a Michigan Indian tribal police force is not empowered to exercise the authority of a peace officer under the laws of this state and shall not be employed in a position for which peace officer authority is granted under the laws of this state unless all of the following requirements are met:
   (a) The tribal law enforcement officer is certified under this act.
   (b) The tribal law enforcement officer is 1 of the following:
      (i) Deputized by the sheriff of the county in which the trust lands of the Michigan Indian tribe employing the tribal law enforcement officer are located, or by the sheriff of any county that borders the trust lands of that Michigan Indian tribe, pursuant to section 70 of 1846 RS 14, MCL 51.70.
      (ii) Appointed as a police officer of the state or a city, township, charter township, or village that is authorized by law to appoint individuals as police officers.
   (c) The deputation or appointment of the tribal law enforcement officer described in subdivision (b) is made pursuant to a written contract that includes terms the appointing authority under subdivision (b) may require between the state or local law enforcement agency and the tribal government of the Michigan Indian tribe employing the tribal law enforcement officer.
   (d) The written contract described in subdivision (c) is incorporated into a self-determination contract, grant agreement, or cooperative agreement between the United States secretary of the interior and the tribal government of the Michigan Indian tribe.
employing the tribal law enforcement officer pursuant to the Indian self-determination and education assistance act, Public Law 93-638, 88 Stat. 2203.

(8) A law enforcement officer of a multicounty metropolitan district, other than a law enforcement officer employed by a law enforcement agency created under the public body law enforcement agency act, is not empowered to exercise the authority of a peace officer under the laws of this state and shall not be employed in a position for which peace officer authority is granted under the laws of this state unless all of the following requirements are met:

(a) The law enforcement officer has met or exceeded minimum standards for certification under this act.
(b) The law enforcement officer is deputized by the sheriff or sheriffs of the county or counties in which the land of the multicounty metropolitan district employing the law enforcement officer is located and in which the law enforcement officer will work, pursuant to section 70 of 1846 RS 14, MCL 51.70.
(c) The deputation or appointment of the law enforcement officer is made pursuant to a written agreement that includes terms the deputizing authority under subdivision (b) may require between the state or local law enforcement agency and the governing board of the multicounty metropolitan district employing the law enforcement officer.
(d) The written agreement described in subdivision (c) is filed with the commission.

(9) A public body that creates a law enforcement agency under the public body law enforcement agency act and that employs 1 or more law enforcement officers certified under this act shall be considered to be a law enforcement agency for purposes of section 9d.

(10) The commission may establish an evaluation or testing process, or both, for granting a waiver from the law enforcement officer minimum standards regarding training requirements to a person who has held a certificate under this act and who discontinues employment as a law enforcement officer for a period of time exceeding the time prescribed in subsection (2)(a) to (c) or (6), as applicable.

28.609a Employment as law enforcement officer; certification requirements.
Sec. 9a. (1) The commission shall grant certification to a person who meets the law enforcement officer minimum standards at the time he or she is employed as a law enforcement officer.

(2) The commission shall grant certification to a person who was employed as a law enforcement officer before January 1, 1977 and who fails to meet the law enforcement officer minimum standards if the person is authorized to be employed as a law enforcement officer under section 9.
(3) The commission shall grant certification to an elected sheriff, which certification shall remain valid only while that sheriff is in office.

(4) Certification granted to a person under this act is valid until either of the following occurs:
   (a) The certification is revoked.
   (b) The certification becomes void because the person discontinues his or her employment as a commission certified law enforcement officer.

(5) The commission shall issue a certificate to a person who has received certification. A certificate issued to a person remains the property of the commission.

(6) Upon request of the commission, a person whose certification is revoked, or becomes void because the person discontinues his or her employment as a commission certified law enforcement officer, shall return to the commission the certificate issued to the person. A violation of this subsection is a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for 90 days, a fine of not more than $500.00, or both.

Compiler's note: For transfer of statutory authority, powers, duties, functions, and responsibilities of the Michigan justice training commission, the Michigan justice training fund, the commission on law enforcement standards, and the law enforcement officers training fund to the new Michigan commission on law enforcement standards by type III transfer, see E.R.O. No. 2001-2, compiled at MCL 28.621 of the Michigan compiled laws.

28.609b Revocation or suspension of certification; judicial review; jurisdiction; subpoena.

Chapter 1 – Unit 4

Michigan Commission On Law Enforcement Standards

Philosophy Statement for the Basic Training Program

POLICY

The Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards (MCOLES) Basic Training Philosophy shall be the basis upon which the mandated recruit training is designed and delivered at approved training academies.

PURPOSE

This chapter presents the rationale for the MCOLES basic training program. This document serves as a statement of the Commission’s organizational philosophy as it relates to the design and conduct of Michigan’s mandated program.

DEFINITION

“Commission” and “MCOLES” are synonymous terms for the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards and are used interchangeably in this manual.

INTRODUCTION

The MCOLES was established in 1965 by Public Act 203 of 1965 which authorized the creation of the MCOLES and enumerated its responsibilities. One critical responsibility required the Commission to prepare and publish minimum employment standards for the entry-level law enforcement officer position.

Initially the Commission’s standards were voluntary. Since 1971, however, the enactment of various amendments to Public Act 203 has resulted in the Commission’s standards becoming mandatory for any law enforcement agency that employs one or more full-time sworn officer(s). This includes more than 600 law enforcement agencies in Michigan, ranging in size from one full-time officer to a complement of over 5,000. The types of agencies include city, township, county, state, university, airport, railroad, and conservation. Functions of officers vary from primarily custodial or traffic-related through a full range of police services, including major crime investigations.

Training standards for the entry-level position are embodied in the mandated MCOLES curriculum. The curriculum is presented to prospective law enforcement officers through the basic training program which is mandated, monitored, and controlled by the MCOLES. The MCOLES employment standards require that an individual successfully complete the basic training program in order to be eligible to enforce the general criminal statutes of the state.

The Commission approves regional academies, strategically located throughout the state in community colleges and police departments, and contracts with those academies to teach the mandated curriculum. The MCOLES has also approved several pre-employment criminal justice academic programs located in universities and community colleges.

EMPLOYMENT CONSIDERATIONS

The MCOLES has an obligation to ensure that individuals are properly trained and licensed prior to becoming law enforcement officers. At the same time, the Commission must avoid setting employment standards which are irrelevant, arbitrary, or unnecessarily high. Failure to meet this obligation could jeopardize the safe and efficient operation of an agency and thus endanger public safety.

In recent years a considerable amount of legislation, both at the state and federal levels, has been passed in regard to “equal opportunity.” One aspect of this legislation focuses on removing artificial barriers to an occupation of one’s choice. This wave of legislation has particularly affected public sector organizations, including law enforcement agencies, in that the organizations are coming under increasing scrutiny concerning the job-relatedness of their employment standards.

Considering the Commission’s statutory responsibility, and to satisfy the principles of merit selection, while at the same time ensuring that state and federal fair employment regulations are not subverted, the MCOLES has promulgated the following _organizational mission_.

MISSION

Within the context of the mandated basic training program, it is the mission of the MCOLES to prepare recruit trainees adequately to perform those law enforcement officer functions which occur in the initial years on the job. Trainees will be prepared to perform job tasks included in six major operational areas: (1) Patrol Procedures, (2) Investigation, (3) Detention and Prosecution, (4) Police Skills, (5) Traffic, and (6) Special Operations.

EXPECTATIONS

It is recognized that the foregoing mission statement identifies a significant organizational responsibility for the MCOLES. At the same time it implies certain expectations on the part of the general public, the Michigan law enforcement community, and the recruit trainee. These expectations, which provide a foundation for the goals of the basic training program, as listed below.
PUBLIC EXPECTATIONS

The Michigan public expects that a graduate of the basic training program will:

- Meet the minimum employment standards.
- Have acquired the knowledge and practical skills essential to perform the job of law enforcement officer.
- Be able to independently address a law enforcement patrol situation, take an acceptable course of action, and deal with the situation in an efficient and effective manner.
- Have an understanding of the law enforcement officer’s role in a culturally diverse community relative to the performance of routine day-to-day activities, as well as, handling of emergency situations.
- Treat the public fairly, ethically and equitably; in a timely and courteous way; and demonstrate a professional bearing and manner.

LAW ENFORCEMENT COMMUNITY EXPECTATIONS

The Michigan law enforcement community expects that a graduate of the basic training program will:

- Have acquired the knowledge and practical skills essential to perform the law enforcement officer function.
- Be able to independently address a law enforcement patrol situation, take an acceptable course of action, and deal with the situation in an efficient, effective manner.
- Perform law enforcement officer duties in accordance with professional ethics and legal requirements.
- Perform the law enforcement officer function willingly and conscientiously and display interest and motivation to serve the public and enforce the law.
- Recognize that law enforcement officers represent only one component in the criminal justice system.
- Represent law enforcement both efficiently and effectively while interacting within the criminal justice system.
- Efficiently and effectively serve within the local community in a professional manner appropriate to the role of a law enforcement officer.
- Be in compliance with the training requirements of Public Act 203 of 1965, as amended, and thereby be eligible to enforce the general criminal statutes of the state.
Furthermore:

- Adequate training is a joint responsibility between the MCOLES and local law enforcement agencies. Law enforcement agencies have the responsibility to provide on-the-job training to ensure that all patrol officer job responsibilities not addressed in basic training are addressed at the local level.

TRAINEE EXPECTATIONS

Trainees entering the basic training program expect that upon graduation of the basic training program they will:

- Have acquired the knowledge and practical skills essential to perform the job, and be well prepared to exercise the functions of a law enforcement officer.

- Be able to independently address a situation, identify and select from a range of appropriate options an acceptable course of action, and deal with the situation in an efficient, effective manner.

- Have been well instructed and treated with dignity and respect as adult learners in an environment that is conducive to the acquisition of effective job skills.

Furthermore:

- The individual background, experience and ability of graduates of the basic training program will have been recognized in the development and acquisition of skills and knowledge during the basic training program.

- Upon successful completion, graduates of the basic training program will have satisfied the state training requirements.

VALUES

The expectations of the general public, the Michigan law enforcement community, and the recruit trainees lead to a set of values which provide a philosophical backdrop to the Commission’s mission. These values are contained in the following statements/principles:

- The law enforcement officer is perceived as a manager of various critical situations who is called upon to gather information and make immediate decisions leading to resolution of conflict or emergency conditions.
• It is recognized that the public must be treated fairly, equitably, and in a courteous, impartial manner by a law enforcement officer who demonstrates a professional bearing.

• It is important to recognize the dynamic nature of basic training if it is to reflect the changing needs of society as evidenced by emerging research and technology, as well as cultural changes.

• It is recognized that a professionally trained law enforcement officer is the cornerstone of the criminal justice system, and is critical to ensuring public trust and providing public safety in a changing contemporary society.

Therefore:

• The MCOLES has an obligation to ensure that individuals are properly trained and licensed to effectively perform the law enforcement officer function; failure to meet this obligation could jeopardize the safe and efficient operation of the state’s law enforcement agencies.

• The MCOLES must ensure that basic training can be justified relative to actual job functions of the entry level law enforcement officer and the requirements of fair employment dictates.

• The MCOLES must ensure that basic training imparts positive attitudes in graduates toward the law enforcement officer job, and that graduates are able to respond to the public in times of need and stress.

ROLE OF THE MICHIGAN COMMISSION ON LAW ENFORCEMENT STANDARDS

Within the context of these values, the Commission will:

• Be responsible for preparing and publishing valid entry-level standards for the law enforcement officer function.

• Ensure an adequate level of competence for the entry-level law enforcement officer.

• Establish and maintain a regional basic training system to meet state requirements and serve local community needs. The MCOLES will also maintain the pre-service training system that involves several colleges/universities in the state.

• Establish and enforce minimum knowledge and skill standards for the valid selection and licensing of entry-level law enforcement officers.

• Provide for continuing quality training experiences by promulgating instructional standards and providing support services.
• Recognize that adequate training is a joint responsibility; local communities must provide on-the-job training to ensure that all the law enforcement officer job responsibilities not addressed in basic training are addressed at the local level.

GOALS OF THE BASIC TRAINING PROGRAM

The previously stated expectations, values, and roles provide the basis for the establishment of the basic training program’s goals:

• Basic training graduates will perform the job tasks in each of the six major job operational areas adequately and consistently to meet professional ethics and legal standards.

• The MCOLES will ensure the job-relatedness of basic training in light of the changing needs of society.

• The MCOLES will ensure that training content, instructional strategies and testing procedures are consistent with the performance requirements for the job of entry level law enforcement officer and do not present artificial barriers to employment.

• The MCOLES will ensure that basic training program trainees acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to manage critical and stressful situations.

• The MCOLES will provide and maintain for the basic training program trainees a quality training experience which will stimulate interest and motivation for the job.

BASIC TRAINING CONSIDERATIONS

The basic training goals enumerated above will be achieved through the presentation of relevant training content and the application of modern training strategies. To achieve these goals, the following considerations guide the MCOLES actions.

• The training content has been based on the systematic analysis of the entry-level law enforcement officer’s job in which six operational areas were identified.

• The job responsibilities for each of the six areas have been identified, and a list of requirements recorded.

• These responsibilities and requirements make up the basic training program.

• These responsibilities influence the training strategies that are employed, in that they are designed for the practice and acquisition of particular skill areas.

• These job responsibilities determine the content of the testing procedures that are needed for valid and reliable licensing.
• The basic training program is performance-based and the goals and objectives reflect what law enforcement officers routinely do during the first few years on the job.

• Trainees must accept the responsibilities of adult learners, and will be held accountable for the arrangement of their own learning and continuance of their professional growth after licensing.

• Individuals need varying amounts of practice after initial instruction in order to develop skill levels which are consistent and acceptable.

CONCLUSION

The MCOLES basic training program seeks to reflect the values and expectations of the public, the Michigan law enforcement community, and the recruit officer trainee. In addition, the technical content of the basic training program has been derived from previous research, a statewide job-task analysis of the law enforcement officer job to ensure the job-relatedness of training and to prevent the establishment of artificial barriers to employment.

The MCOLES views its responsibility for training the entry-level (recruit) officer as complimentary to, rather than conflicting with, the efforts of local law enforcement agencies. The MCOLES is responsible for ensuring that trainees are provided with the basic knowledges and skills to perform job tasks in each of the six major operational areas of a law enforcement officer’s job. Local law enforcement agencies provide on-the-job training to acquaint new officers with local policies and procedures.

The content of the basic training program embodies several principles that serve to give the curriculum vitality and continuity. One of the curriculum’s underlying principles is that the patrol officer is seen as a “manager” of various critical situations who is called upon to gather information and make immediate decisions that are occasionally of a life-death nature. Therefore, the training is designed to impart the appropriate knowledge and skills to allow the trainee to become more than just a pure technician who operates within narrow, static job confines.

Secondly, it is believed that the trainee has certain responsibilities as an adult learner that directly affect his/her success in completing the prescribed course of study. The trainee must support the instructional efforts of the MCOLES basic training program by assuming the role of an adult learner. The trainee must thereby take the initiative to acquire, and demonstrate the enthusiasm to master, the essential job knowledge and skills.

Thirdly, it is recognized that individual differences in trainees result in the need for varying amounts of practice to acquire the necessary job skills. This important consideration has affected the manner in which the training content is presented and reinforced.
Lastly, the training content and instructional and testing strategies used to train and assess basic trainees have been developed within the context of constructing a “valid” training system; that is, a system which has validity in terms of its relationship to the job for which the trainee is being prepared and its congruence with the performance requirements for the law enforcement officer job.

In conclusion, the MCOLES is convinced that its training program accurately reflects the basic training “goals” identified, and that the program will continue to be dynamic in nature, changing with the demands and expectations of the various clienteles it serves and with the needs of a changing, contemporary society.

c. Vehicles shall consist of manufacturer’s designated “police package” vehicles. It is recommended that the vehicle should be equipped with job related Emergency Vehicle Operations equipment.

d. The driver training facility shall have an emergency response plan to respond to injuries, accidents or incidents.

e. The basic training academy shall have a vehicle use policy in place that conforms to the Commission’s published Vehicle Use Policy.

5. Reading and Writing Test Administration

Computer labs or test carrels for the administration of the reading and writing examination shall be configured so as to provide adequate lighting, ample seating, and a quiet and private atmosphere. The site shall conform to the specifications listed in the MCOLES Reading and Writing Test Proctor Manual. Each test taker shall have access to a computer, including a keyboard, monitor, and mouse. The examination shall be administered only by test proctors certified by the MCOLES approved vendor. The training director shall ensure all reading and writing test proctors are trained, updated and comply with the requirements for delivery of the test. If proctors conduct tests infrequently, the procedures shall be reviewed with proctors prior to any testing.

6. Physical Fitness Examination

The test site for the administration of the pre-enrollment, diagnostic, and exit physical fitness examinations shall conform to the specifications as listed in the MCOLES Physical Fitness Test Proctor Manual and the MCOLES Physical Fitness Policy and Procedure Manual. The tests shall be administered only by trained test proctors. The training director shall ensure all physical fitness test proctors are trained, updated and comply with the requirements for delivery of the entrance and exit tests. If proctors conduct tests infrequently, the procedures shall be reviewed with proctors prior to any testing.

Equipment used for testing shall conform to those specifications listed in the MCOLES Physical Fitness Test Proctor Manual.

7. Licensing Examination

Recruits shall have access to a computer lab or test carrel for the administration of the MCOLES Licensing Examination. The test shall be proctored by representatives from MCOLES. All test sites shall provide adequate lighting, ample seating, and a quiet and private atmosphere. Academies shall have access to the technology required to utilize the automated testing platform. Each test taker shall have access to a computer, including a keyboard, monitor, and mouse.

Basic Police Training Schools

Training Safety Guidelines

Adult learning theory promotes many interactive approaches to training delivery which have application in the academy setting. In recent years, law enforcement training has embraced problem-based learning (PBL), including experiential learning exercises like reality-based training scenarios, as an essential methodology to effective law enforcement training.

Scenario training is an excellent example and effective method of interactive adult learning, applying classroom studies to simulated situations requiring the appropriate law enforcement response. Scenario training will assist the recruit’s development in critical thinking, multi-tasking, and problem solving. The scenarios also provide an opportunity for instructors to evaluate the recruit’s skills and judgment (decision making), as they progress through the basic training curriculum.

The inherent risk involved in reality-based scenario training requires the establishment of strict safety policies, procedures, and protocols to maintain a safe training environment and reduce the risk of injury to everyone involved. These safety guidelines are meant to establish systems and protocols that will maintain safety during dynamic training.

Scenario Development

Scenarios shall be developed with specific performance objectives identified from the MCOLES Basic Training Curriculum and approved academy curriculum that is beyond the minimum requirements of MCOLES. Instructors with relevant expertise (e.g., firearms, subject control, legal, patrol tactics, etc.) shall participate in the scenario development process. It is extremely important that all scenarios afford the student with an opportunity to succeed. The intent is to cause the recruit to apply the appropriate law enforcement knowledges, skills and abilities necessary to perform appropriately and handle the situation presented in the scenario. In other words, the scenarios should be “winnable,” and reflect a realistic law enforcement job task that has been presented in the recruits’ training (e.g., traffic stop, building search, subject arrest, etc.). MCOLES recommends requiring the recruits to articulate the justification for their actions after each scenario, either verbally or by means of a written report.
Common Types of Simulation Training

The most common types of law enforcement simulation training involving the use of force and firearms are:

- role-plays utilizing marking cartridges;
- role-plays utilizing non-functioning / non-firing training weapons;
- role-plays utilizing training weapons other than marking cartridges and non-functioning weapons (e.g., weapons that fire blanks, primer rounds, cotton balls or wax projectiles, etc.);
- interactive role-plays using audio visual simulations;
- role-plays using laser based weapons and vests; and
- “red man” type scenarios involving the use of physical force.

Although these seem to be the predominate methods utilized in Michigan today, other systems and training methodologies exist (“Mirror Image” houses, “Hogan’s Alley” type, Manipulation Dummy equipment, etc.).

Safety Commentary

The primary objective of these safety guidelines is to enhance the safety of everyone involved, including the general public, while promoting a healthy and realistic training environment. The reduction of risk, based on pre-planning and the recognition of high risk circumstances, is the first step to maintaining a safe training environment.

Each type of simulation training offers specific advantages and disadvantages and varies in terms of realism, equipment, facilities, logistics, expense, number of instructors, and risk. It is not the purpose of these guidelines to recommend one training method over another. Rather, these safety guidelines are intended to enhance the management of risk by establishing appropriate safety protocols, individualized to each academy. The ultimate goal is to manage risk and prevent serious injury and death in training.

Special Note: When sworn law enforcement personnel are utilized in scenario training in any capacity (e.g., role player, monitor, officer backup, etc.), extra precaution must be taken to ensure that their firearms, ammunition, and other dangerous equipment are secured at a safe location and kept out of the secured training area.

Scenario training involving any weapon shall only occur after the student has been thoroughly trained and has demonstrated proficiency and knowledge of its use (e.g., firearm, impact weapon, pepper spray, electronic device, etc.). When utilizing weapons that fire a projectile (e.g., marking cartridge), never shoot a person within 3 feet or shoot at a subject’s head. All academy personnel assigned to a scenario are charged with the responsibility to manage the scene and to be ready to instantly stop the action if it is perceived as becoming too dangerous or the guidelines are being violated.

When a scenario script demands the use of a vehicle, the Officer in Charge (OIC) and the Safety Officer (SO) shall reinforce the academy’s driving policy and rules, the MCOLES... vehicle policy, and relevant Motor Vehicle Code. During scenario training, the students shall adhere to all traffic laws while operating academy vehicles. The exceptions would be pursuit movements and turns made within the context of the Emergency Vehicle Operations Module, supervised by an EVO instructor and confined within a secure training site that has been closed to the general public.

MCOLES recommends having a uniformed law enforcement officer on the scene of simulation training if possible. Everyone that enters the secured training area shall be checked for weapons, ammunition, and other dangerous equipment. Whenever anyone leaves the pre-designated “secured training area,” they must be checked again prior to reentry to ensure that they are not in possession of any unauthorized weapons, live ammunition, or other dangerous equipment.

Student Debriefing Commentary

The ideal time to debrief the recruits is immediately after they have worked through a scenario. It is important to take time with the recruits in order to evaluate their understanding of the scenario’s training objective. The instructor may wish to have the recruit begin the debriefing process by having them explain why they selected the tactics and level of force used, what the legal justification was for their use of force, what things they felt they did well, what aspects of their performance they felt need improvement, etc. After the recruit has had an opportunity to express themselves, the instructor can ask more specific questions (e.g., Why did they move to the right when they entered the room? Did they notice the cover to the left? Did they notice the subject’s behavior? Did they develop reasonable suspicion to detain, or probable cause to arrest? etc.). Give the recruit the chance to articulate what they were thinking as they progressed through the scenario. The instructor should always ask questions before critiquing the recruit, since there may be more than one acceptable solution. The recruit may actually have a reasonable explanation for their actions. Conversely, the recruit may physically perform in what appears to be an acceptable way, but their articulation and justification of their actions may highlight their confusion or lack of understanding regarding the law, tactics, officer safety, department policy, etc.

If resources allow, videotape the recruit’s performance in the scenario. This is an excellent way for the recruit to view what they actually did, and not what they thought they did. The videotape can be stopped at anytime, allowing the instructor to ask additional questions of the student that are critical to the training objectives in the scenario.

Research has shown that effective learning can take place in smaller pieces and at a slower pace. If necessary, allow for interruptions or slower action in scenarios if obvious errors are being committed to set the student on the right path.
MCOLES GUIDELINES

Each academy shall have a written safety policy in place prior to engaging in any reality-based simulation (scenario) training. This policy shall be individualized to each academy, based on facility limitations and resources available. The safety policy shall include specific rules, policies, procedures, and protocols that the academy will operate under regarding the overall safety of the training.

At a minimum, the written safety policy shall address the following:

I. Identification and responsibilities of the Officer in Charge.

Prior to actually engaging in scenario training, the training director shall establish an Officer in Charge (OIC), who is responsible for:

- conducting a site survey for hazardous conditions and the need for protective equipment (see MIOSHA Guidelines 408.13301, et seq. for statewide policies required of employers relative to site surveys, protective clothing and equipment);
- preplanning, managing, debriefing, and all other pre and post scenario matters;
- personnel issues, time management, and scenario implementation;
- maintaining up-to-date knowledge and tactical soundness in the subject matter being addressed in the scenario training; and
- managing and controlling the entire scenario operation.

Commentary: The OIC may be an active administrative participant during the scenario to help guide the scenario to an appropriate conclusion, and the academy training director has the option of fulfilling the role of OIC.

II. Identification and responsibilities of the Safety Officer(s).

Prior to actually engaging in scenario training, the training director shall establish a Safety Officer (SO), who is responsible for the overall safety of the training, including:

- pre-scenario, scenario, and post-scenario policies, protocols, practices and procedures as they relate to safety;
- verifying that the environment does not put personnel involved in the scenario at undue risk;
- ensuring role player, recruit, and evaluator safety;
- conducting a safety briefing for recruits and role players prior to engaging in scenarios (including the academy medical response protocol in case of an injury);
- securing and maintaining a safe, restricted training area; and
- ensuring that no loaded weapons, live ammunition, and other dangerous equipment are brought into the secured training area.

Commentary: If the primary SO is responsible for the overall safety of the entire training day, involving multiple scenarios and locations, then this SO shall not actually participate in any scenario. However, if there are multiple safety officers, and each one of them is responsible for only one scenario at one location, then the SO may participate in the scenario if necessary.

The SO shall be an experienced trainer and senior staff person, with tactical knowledge and training in safety protocols. If using a less-lethal weapon systems during the scenario training (e.g., weapons that shoot marking cartridges), MCOLES strongly recommends that the SO obtain appropriate certification by the weapon manufacturer prior to utilizing their training equipment in academy training.

III. Establishment of a secured training area and safety protocols to maintain its integrity.

The OIC, SO, and other involved trainers have the responsibility to maintain site integrity for the safety of the public and academy personnel. This would include:

- safety measures to prevent functional firearms, live ammunition, and other dangerous law enforcement equipment from entering the secured training area;
- utilization of the “triple-check” safety rule (self check, partner check, and safety officer check);
- prohibiting the use of functional firearms as training props;
- advance notification procedures regarding scenario training (of surrounding police jurisdictions, 911 communication centers, area residents, etc.);
- precautionary steps to prevent outside interference (steps to isolate training from the general public); and
- posting of “scenario training in progress” signs, at and around the training site.

Commentary: The best possible training location would minimize the possibly of the general public unintentionally entering the scenario scene. MCOLES recommends having a uniformed law enforcement officer on the scene of the training site. No one is permitted into the secured training area without being checked for weapons, live ammunition, or other dangerous equipment. Whenever anyone leaves the secured training area and returns, they must be checked again to ensure that they are not in possession of any unauthorized weapons, live ammunition, or other dangerous weapons.

The SO will conduct the third safety check (after self check and partner check) for ammunition, weapons, and other dangerous equipment on all personnel entering or re-entering the secured training area. The SO shall oversee the staging area when an academy has simulation weapons which require a conversion kit (weapons that fire marking cartridges). The SO is accountable for the safe storage, verification and issuance of simulated weapon cartridges and other training aids.
IV. Recognition and management of the risks associated with the specific munitions being utilized in scenario training.

The OIC, SO, and other involved trainers have the responsibility of recognizing the risks associated with the specific munitions being utilized in scenario training and appropriately managing these risks. This would include:

- Maintaining safe distances between participants,
- Utilization of safety equipment (including wearing all required protective gear),
- Utilization of professionally manufactured training weapons,
- Protocols for the inspection and distribution of training weapons (by instructors, not recruits),
- Utilization of clearly marked training weapons, immediately identifiable to all participants (e.g., grips painted red),
- Use of a “Stop Scenario” command (whistle, horn, shouting “stop scenario,” etc.);
- Use of an “Out-of-Role” command (to be removed from a scenario);
- Instruction regarding the strict adherence to scripted scenarios by all role-players;
- Pre-event safety briefings of all participants (recruits, role-players, monitors, etc.) covering specific role responsibilities and limitations, and safety policies and procedures (including important commands).
- Close monitoring of scenarios.

Commentary: No matter what type of simulation training an academy engages in, they all involve various levels of risk. Weapons that fire any type of projectile (e.g., marking cartridges), and those that fire blanks and primer rounds have the potential to cause serious injury or death (based on the distance between the fired weapon and the person shot by the weapon). When utilizing weapons that fire a projectile, distances between recruits and role-players shall be closely monitored. This is especially important in scenarios involving close quarters or confined spaces. Even when distance and space allow for the use of blanks and primer rounds, they should only be used with rigorous safety precautions in place. When using firearms that fire blanks, the weapons shall be modified with barrel plugs, barrel conversions, cylinder pins, or special adapters that prevent the insertion and discharge of a live round. Utilizing appropriately marked training weapons so they are easily identifiable as training weapons can greatly reduce the risk of introducing a functional weapon into a training exercise.

V. Scenario Management

Scenario management policies, procedures and protocols will be established and documented to specifically address the details regarding the execution of the scenario, including:

- The proper and close management of use of force scenarios.
- Confirming recruits’ fitness for participating in scenario training.
- Instructor demeanor – attitude of safety vigilance.
How the scenario will be monitored (by whom, how closely, what will warrant a “stop scenario” command, etc.).

Specific safety protocols regarding the use of vehicles in scenario training (driving policy, EVO policy, agency policy, law, etc.).

Selection of role players.

Utilization of properly trained instructors (minimum instructor qualifications).

Commentary: A signal shall be established by the SO to immediately STOP the scenario. This could be a series of short whistles, a blast of an air horn, and/or yelling the words “Stop Scenario-Stop Scenario”. The stop scenario command is not restricted to instructors, but can be used by a student if excessive physical force is being applied. It can be yelled out immediately by anyone if an unsafe condition is observed. Upon hearing the designated stop scenario command, everyone must freeze in place until further instructions are given.

VI. Operations Plan for Injuries:

This plan shall indicate specific protocols to follow if someone is injured, including:

- A specific reporting procedure for injuries,
- Appropriate contact information for medical responders,
- Specific protocols for hazardous materials (e.g., blood) clean-up procedures, and
- An emergency Medical Care Plan for serious injuries.

Commentary: MCOLES recommends utilizing a safety checklist to make sure the important points of the safety protocol are complied with (refer to sample safety checklist at the end of this document). Academies may enact additional safety precautions within a given scenario to ensure that the scenario provides a safe learning environment for everyone involved.

The International Association of Directors of Law Enforcement Standards and Training (IADLEST) recommends the following protocol:

Safety rules should be given to all trainees who enter the training facility. The rules, along with rules of conduct, should be discussed during orientation. A form attesting that the rules have been distributed and are understood should be signed by each student, collected by the instructor and filed. High-risk and high-liability curriculum areas should have safety rules posted in a conspicuous manner to remind the students of potential risks. Instructors should be periodically refreshed on the contents of these rules.

Basic Police Training Schools

Recruit Discipline Policy

The overall intent of this policy is to establish a proper framework in which an academy disciplinary process can help build and reinforce a positive work ethic, self-discipline, and principled conduct in the recruit. Accordingly, MCOLES discourages a negative, punitive approach to discipline in the basic law enforcement academies. Instead, MCOLES encourages a positive, remedial approach through the use of sanctions.

As used in this policy:

(a) "Abuse" means to treat someone wrongfully or harmfully in an offensive or contemptuous manner.
(b) "Corporal punishment" means punishment inflicted on the body for the specific purpose of causing pain.
(c) "Disciplinary process" means an approved mechanism through which recruits, who have violated academy or MCOLES policies and procedures, are held accountable for their behavior.
(d) "Harass" means actions or activities intended to annoy, taunt, bait, torment, or insult.
(e) "Humiliate" means to degrade or disgrace another individual, particularly if done publicly.
(f) "Punishment" means a negative, demeaning, or aversive consequence resulting from an inappropriate behavior, action, or condition; punishment is an immediate, reactive response that temporarily suppresses behavior and is independent of the nature of the behavior.
(g) "Sanction" means a proactive corrective action for non-compliance with academy or MCOLES policies and procedures; a sanction is a remedial intervention intended to modify the observed behavior; a sanction is intended to further develop long-term positive behavior, rather than to temporarily suppress behavior.

3.5.01 Recruit Discipline

1. Academy directors shall establish a disciplinary policy, which shall include a process for infractions of academy or MCOLES policies and procedures. The overall intent of the disciplinary process shall be to remediate the recruit as a means to change behavior, bring about compliance with academy norms, and foster self-discipline. Any sanction shall be specifically correlated to the behavior being addressed. The disciplinary policy shall be approved by the academy's Training and Education Advisory Committee.
2. Academy directors shall have some discretion in creating the components of a disciplinary process, consistent with the intent of this policy. Academy directors and their instructional cadre shall not, under any circumstances:

- abuse, humiliate, or harass a recruit;
- negatively affect any training content;
- foster negative conditions or context within the training environment;
- administer sanctions unreasonably; or
- jeopardize the health and safety of the recruit.

Controlled violent or obnoxious behavior on the part of the instructional cadre or scenario role players shall be allowed if such actions are a legitimate part of a reality-based training exercise or experiential learning session.

3. The disciplinary process shall include sanctions for inappropriate behavior and marginal academy performance, which shall be specifically directed to correct a problem so the behavior will not likely recur. The sanction shall be based on the intent of this policy, the seriousness of the inappropriate behavior, any aggravating or mitigating factors, and previous recruit behavior. Sanctions must be task relevant, individualized and intended to create a positive behavioral change. Examples include tutoring, practice sessions, verbal counseling, and a progressive demerit system of discipline, reprimands, additional training, personal improvement plans, or poor performance ratings. Any sanction must be timely and consistent. All disciplinary actions must be thoroughly documented.

4. MCOLES discourages the use of punishment for infractions in the academy setting. Academy directors shall avoid punishment if other strategies or tactics to alter inappropriate behavior can be used – strategies or tactics that are task relevant and individualized. Punishment only temporarily suppresses inappropriate behavior. A permanent change, particularly in a learning environment, is difficult to achieve through punitive measures. Punishment shall be used on a very limited basis and shall be appropriate only in rare circumstances. Such circumstances include situations where there is a threat to life, a threat to the safety of the recruit or recruits, or other emergency situations. After any punishment is administered, the disciplinary process must include a mechanism to reinforce positive behavior.

Under no circumstances shall the training director or the instructional cadre use corporal punishment as an intervention for inappropriate behavior, or engage in disciplinary action that would jeopardize the health and safety of the recruit.
Chapter 3 – Unit 6

Basic Police Training Schools

Disciplinary Action for Rule and Academic Violations

POLICY

A recruit who does not meet all of the mandatory basic training requirements specified in this Chapter shall be dismissed from the basic training program. In addition, a recruit shall be temporarily removed from training or dismissed from the training program for violating any of the established Commission minimum Standards of Conduct (Rules) listed below. Recruits who violate the published and MCOLES approved rules of the training academy may be disciplined or dismissed from the training program in accordance with those rules and the rules of the Commission.

PURPOSE

Public Act 203 of 1965, as amended, Section 9 (2) stipulates that a person shall not be empowered to exercise the authority of a peace officer in Michigan unless the person has complied with the minimum employment standards published by the Commission. Therefore, a person who does not meet the basic police training requirements shall be dismissed from the training program. The Commission Rules of Conduct are intended to represent minimum standards of conduct and may be expanded upon by the approved institution if consent is given by the Commission.

PROCEDURE

3.6.01 Academic Dismissals and Extension Requirements:

All dismissals shall be well founded and documented.

1. The failure by any recruit to do any of the following is cause for dismissal:

   a. Successfully complete the prescribed course of study established in R28.14101(i) and R28.14311.

   b. Meet all the firearms, emergency vehicle operation, subject control, physical fitness, health and wellness and first aid performance requirements during the training session. For exceptions when applicable, refer to MCOLES approved exemptions in R 28.14314 (c) (i-iv).

2. The failure by any recruit to comply with administrative rules R 28.14314-R28.14317 shall be cause for dismissal from the basic police training academy.
3.6.02 The Commission has a “zero tolerance” policy for being under the influence of, or the possession, consumption, or use of, alcohol or illicit controlled substances (or without valid prescription) during training hours and designated lunch and break times. A violation of this policy shall be cause for dismissal. The Commission’s protocols for determining violations of this policy are as follows:

1. Consuming or possessing alcoholic beverages, or reporting to any course showing a sign of use of alcoholic beverages is a violation of the “zero tolerance” policy. Zero tolerance means having a blood-alcohol content (BAC) above 0.00 as registered on a preliminary breath test (PBT) administered by a qualified operator.

2. Possessing or using a controlled substance, except pursuant to a valid prescription as declared on an accommodation form to the training director, is a violation of the “zero tolerance” policy. Drug testing procedures shall be conducted in accordance with the approved Commission Drug Testing Guidelines for law enforcement agencies in effect at the time for any controlled substance, notwithstanding the limited drug panel in effect.

3. At a minimum, an approved basic training academy shall have a written policy that enables the training director or his/her designee to test a recruit when the training director or an instructor determines there is reasonable suspicion to believe that the recruit is in violation of this policy. The policy shall be distributed to the recruits and shall stipulate that a recruit will be dismissed from the training program if the recruit:
   a. Registers a BAC above 0.00, or registers a positive test for controlled substance;
   b. Fails or refuses to report for testing; or
   c. Otherwise fails to comply with the testing protocols to obtain a valid sample.

3.6.03 Any of the following conduct is cause for disciplinary action up to and including dismissal:

1. Being dishonest in any form, including but not limited to academic dishonesty in relation to any testing process.

2. Engaging in behavior that is a violation of any criminal law. This includes violations of local, state, or federal laws or court ordered injunction.

3. Engaging in conduct that violates school or academy rules of conduct.

4. Failing to wear/use the mandatory accommodation(s) required to meet the Commission’s minimum selection standards unless otherwise directed by the training director of the academy.
5. Engaging in conduct which compromises the recruit’s ability to perform as a law enforcement officer, which includes any violation of the provisions of the Law Enforcement Code of Ethics, as adopted by the Commission.

3.6.04 If a Recruit is Enjoined by a Personal Protection Order (PPO):

1. The recruit shall immediately notify the training director of the academy of the existence of a personal protection order. A failure to do so shall be considered failure to disclose and shall be cause for discipline up to and including dismissal from the academy.

2. The recruit shall provide a copy of the order to the training director. The recruit shall also immediately file for a hearing before the Circuit Court requesting that said hearing be held as expeditiously as possible specifically for the purposes of adjudication.

3. The training director shall immediately advise MCOLES via telephone and in writing.

4. If the order contains an element of violence or stalking behavior, or the firearms prohibition section is applicable, the recruit shall not participate in training until the order is adjudicated. If these elements do not apply, a decision shall be made by the training director of the academy, after conferring with MCOLES, on a case by case basis as to whether to allow the recruit to continue participating in training until the status of the order is adjudicated.

5. The training director shall conduct an investigation into the incident. The training director shall keep MCOLES apprised of the status and may consult with MCOLES at any time. Upon completion of the investigation, copies of all reports and related materials shall be forwarded to MCOLES. The reports shall be included in the recruit’s training record.

6. If a recruit’s absence due to a PPO violates the attendance policy, the training director shall follow the dismissal policy in Chapter 3, Unit 7.

3.6.05 If a Recruit is Charged with a Violation of Michigan Law, Local Ordinance, Federal Laws, or the Laws of any Other State, including Civil Infractions:

1. The recruit shall immediately notify the training director of the academy of the charges and the facts surrounding the case.

2. The training director shall immediately notify MCOLES of all violations, excluding civil infractions. Basic Police Training Schools

RecruitDismissal and Appeal Procedures

POLICY

Basic police training programs shall follow the prescribed procedures for the dismissal of a recruit from an approved training session. A recruit and/or an agency shall be notified of the appeal procedure that shall be provided to all dismissed recruits and their employing law enforcement agency.

PURPOSE

This policy establishes a structured procedure to be followed in all dismissals. It provides for proper record keeping, documentation, notification, and due process regarding a recruit’s appeal.

PROCEDURE

3.7.01 Dismissals and Appeals of a Basic Police Training Program Recruit.

1. The procedure to dismiss a recruit is as follows:

   a. The training director of the academy shall:

      (i) Conduct an investigation into the alleged violation and prepare a report.
      (ii) Notify the MCOLES and the employer, if applicable, immediately prior to taking any action.
      (iii) Notify the recruit, verbally and in writing, that dismissal action is being taken.
      (iv) Advise the recruit regarding the appeal process.
      (v) Report to the employer, if applicable, and the MCOLES in writing, within two (2) working days, that dismissal action was taken, delineating the documented reasons for dismissal.

MCOLES Medical Accommodation Policy

Unit 1 Medical Investigations………………………………. 104
Chapter 4 – Unit 1

Standards Compliance Investigations for Medical and Psychological Standards & Accommodation Policy for Training and Testing
(Rev. 10/2012)

POLICY

It is the policy of the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards (MCOLES) to ensure that candidates for enrollment into a basic training academy or seeking employment with a law enforcement agency are thoroughly screened to all the Commission’s selection and employment standards by the enrolling academy or employing agency. This includes the medical standards published in administrative rule 28.14204.

The collection, recording and dissemination of necessary medical information and the procedures for conducting an investigation into a request for a reasonable accommodation to successfully perform the essential job functions shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Michigan Persons with Disabilities Civil Rights Act (MPDCRA). The sequencing of conducting an evaluation of a candidate’s ability to perform the essential job functions prior to enrollment or employment is important in order to comply with the requirements of the ADA and the MPDCRA, and offer reasonable opportunities to candidates.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidance to MCOLES staff, academy training directors, and agency administrators so that all candidates seeking enrollment or employment comply with the administrative rules (28.14205, 28.14312, and 28.14411) and to ensure that all candidates are able to perform the essential job functions of a law enforcement officer position with or without a reasonable accommodation. All candidates are expected to perform all physical and non-physical requirements of the academy training.

PROCEDURE

4.1 Publication and Notification to Candidates of the Medical Selection Qualifications (R 28.14204) and Medical Review Procedures

1. The Commission shall publish the Medical Selection Qualifications and essential job functions of a Michigan law enforcement officer in as many forms as are available and practical so that individuals, agencies and academies have access to the standards and procedures in this policy.
2. Identified Commission staff, with the appropriate level of responsibility and knowledge, shall provide general information to anyone seeking information on the medical standards and investigation procedures; however, there shall not be any determination of an individual’s qualifications or acceptance of any request for a reasonable accommodation until all the procedures in this policy have been completed.

3. Under the administrative rules, Basic Training Academies are required to have candidates obtain an individualized medical examination to determine the candidate’s physical and mental condition. Those candidates who do not meet the standards shall be evaluated further to determine the potential for a reasonable accommodation. The academy staff alone do not have the final authority to approve a request for an accommodation. This determination shall be done in consultation with the candidate, MCOLES, and medical personnel. MCOLES may seek the advice of the academy training director during the investigation of a request for a reasonable accommodation for enrollment into the academy.

4.2 Standards Screening and Conditional Offers of Enrollment or Employment; Obtaining Medical Documentation; Confidentiality of Record

1. Basic training academies and law enforcement agencies are required to conduct non-medical and medical evaluations of applicants. Medical evaluations shall be in accordance with the ADA, the MPDCRA and the MCOLES administrative rules.

2. A recruit candidate for enrollment in an academy or a candidate for employment with an agency shall be thoroughly screened to the MCOLES non-medical standards (R 28.14203 and R 28.14312) and provided a conditional offer of enrollment or employment prior to the medical evaluation.

3. Basic training academy staff shall not provide a candidate with a medical screening package, or make inquiries or comments about a candidate’s medical condition until all of the non-medical standards screening has been successfully completed and a conditional offer of enrollment has been provided in writing to the prospective pre-service recruit.

4. Academy training directors shall consult with medical professionals to ensure proper documentation of the medical evaluation; however, once it has been documented that a candidate does not meet one or more of the medical selection standards, the training director shall advise the candidate to contact MCOLES to discuss any request for a reasonable accommodation. Academy or agency medical screening, and a written request for accommodation, shall be completed fifteen (15) days prior to the beginning of the scheduled training session. This allows MCOLES staff enough time to investigate the request and make a determination. Recruit candidates who have not received a determination on a reasonable accommodation within 5 business days prior to the start of the session shall not be admitted to the session. (R 28.14312(4), 28.14312(8), and R 28.14312(9))

5. Obtaining Medical Records for Review; Consultation with Medial Professionals and Law Enforcement Subject Matter Experts

   a. Candidates seeking an accommodation shall submit their request for a specific accommodation(s) in writing to the MCOLES medical investigator. Upon receipt of the request, the investigator or a manager shall verify that a conditional offer of enrollment or employment has been made and that the candidate has been successfully screened to all the non-medical standards. A properly executed Authorization for the Release of Information form shall also be submitted by the candidate. The candidate shall supply all the pertinent information requested by MCOLES, including medical or psychological history reports, to conduct an investigation.

   b. MCOLES may consult with medical or psychological professionals, in conjunction with the candidate, when considering the requested accommodation and whether the candidate can perform the essential job functions with or without an accommodation. In addition, MCOLES may also consult with law enforcement subject matter experts to assess whether the candidate can perform the essential job functions employing the requested accommodation.

   c. Candidates requesting an accommodation may be requested by MCOLES to be evaluated by medical, psychological professionals or law enforcement subject matter experts during this process. Failure to cooperate with these evaluations may be cause to deny further consideration of the candidate’s application.

   d. Costs associated with consulting with medical or psychological professionals are the responsibilities of the candidate or agency. Waiving these costs must be approved by MCOLES administration. A process for payment may be established between the candidate, the medical consultant and MCOLES to facilitate the review process.

6. Record Keeping and Security of Medical Documents

   a. A standards compliance investigation number from the MCOLES Information and Tracking Network (MITN) shall be drawn and all pertinent information regarding a medical investigation shall be entered into MITN under separate secure access.

   b. Paper records shall also be maintained separately from other MCOLES investigations and non-medical documentation. These records may also be imaged into FileNet with separate secure access. Copies of all medical records received by MCOLES as well as all correspondence shall be maintained in these separate files.
4.3 Determination of Acceptance or Denial of a Request for an Accommodation; Notification to the Candidate; Appeal

1. After consulting with medical, psychological or law enforcement experts and the candidate, MCOLES staff shall make a determination whether the candidate can successfully perform the essential job functions with or without the requested accommodation, and whether the requested accommodation is reasonable. Input from the training director or prospective hiring agency may also be considered.

2. Previously identified accommodations may guide MCOLES staff in making determinations on a person’s eligibility for enrollment or licensing. Through the development of medical and psychological standards, and through MCOLES historical and legal resources, reasonable accommodations have been identified or may be developed. Some of these accommodations have become part of the administrative rules.

3. The candidate shall be notified by MCOLES, in writing, of the determination. The notification shall include the option of an appeal to the Executive Director of MCOLES.

4. In accordance with R 28.14602 (Investigations) the time frames in the administrative rules may be extended for up to 90 days during an investigation.

MCOLES Outstanding Performance Award

POLICY

There shall be an award entitled "The Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards Outstanding Performance Award." The award may be presented to an outstanding trainee in each Commission approved basic training session. The Commission shall be responsible for purchasing and presenting the award.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to provide recognition to basic training participants who exhibit high standards of performance measured by their mental, physical and moral fitness while in the training environment.

PROCEDURES

5.1.01 Description of Outstanding Performance Award and Criteria to be Measured

An award may be presented to the trainee who has demonstrated outstanding performance in the pre-service training program. Outstanding performance shall be measured by assessing the trainee's level of performance in the categories of knowledge, skill, leadership, interpersonal communication and appearance. Each of the 5 categories shall be given equal weight. The award shall be in the form of a plaque, entitled "Outstanding Performance Award".

5.1.02 Academy Session and Candidate Qualifications

An approved basic training program may nominate a graduate who has met the criteria for “The Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards Outstanding Performance Award" as follows:

1. A pre-service program having 10 or more graduates may present an Outstanding Performance Award to one of its graduates.
a. The award should be made at a time when the presentation affords the best opportunity for student and public recognition such as a formal graduation ceremony, or an occasion when other awards are presented, e.g., a dinner.

b. The training director shall first identify students who performed in the top 20% of the class in each of the two categories of knowledge and skill. These students then will be rated according to Chapter 5, Section 5.1.03 below.

5.1.03 Rating the Candidates

Candidates for the award shall be in the top 20% of the class in each category of knowledge, skills, interpersonal communication, leadership, and appearance. The candidates with the highest total number of points will receive the award.

   a. Consideration shall be given to their in-house test score average, including the comprehensive legal examination.

2. Skills (Rated by Training Director)
   a. All skills that are taught where the student is required to physically perform are to be considered. These include, at a minimum, emergency vehicle operations, firearms, subject control, physical fitness and first aid.

   b. Consideration shall be given to their in-house test scores, both written and performance-based. Each skill should be rated individually. For the performance based area, only those who did not need remediation shall be eligible for consideration.

3. Interpersonal Communication
   a. Rated by recruits, training director, and academy staff who each have one vote.

   b. Considerations: How the recruit relates to fellow students and instructors: Do they speak in a clear voice, express their views in a clear, concise, and non-offensive manner; are they a willing listener?

4. Leadership
   a. Rated by recruits, training director, and academy staff who each have a singular vote.

   b. Considerations: Willing to follow a person because of the example they provide in a courteous, mature, positive attitude towards meeting the school's requirements and the Law Enforcement Code of Ethics (not acting officiously, talking about fellow students, etc.) Raters shall not consider any factors addressed in other categories (appearance, communications, etc.)

5. Demeanor

a. Rated by recruits, training director, and academy staff who each have a singular vote.

b. Considerations: Hair, clothes, bearing, and carriage.

Tie Breaking

In the event of a tie, the tie will be broken by the training director due to the extensive and overall knowledge and background of the recruits.

5.1.04 Presentation Ceremony

The master of ceremonies for the graduation exercise shall schedule the MCOLES award to immediately follow the presentation of all other awards. The presenter shall be introduced by name along with the fact that a MCOLES award will be presented.

The presenter of the award shall be either a Commission member or a member of the MCOLES staff. The presentation shall be made in a uniform manner throughout the state so a traditional ceremony is established.
