Global Technology Services-Salesforce.com

Cindy Warner is an accomplished business executive, presently serving as the Senior Vice President of Salesforce.com, leading the global technology services division of the fastest growing software company in the world today. She has spent the last 9 years of her career as a global partner with Accenture and CapGemini, leading high growth technology practices. Prior to consulting, she worked in executive positions for FEDEX and The Gillette Company, helping to redefine the customer experience through the use of technology and process innovations. Cindy has also achieved great success as an entrepreneur, owning several restaurants and other commercial ventures that she considers her “hobbies”. Despite her career success, Cindy achieves her greatest satisfaction, participating in non-profit work that she has done through the years as a Director for the Special Olympics, member of the Salesforce.com Foundation Advisory Committee, and founding member of Schools for Humanity, and other similar contributions. She is an avid outdoor enthusiast, who enjoys hiking, biking, kayaking, and many other very active sports!
