

BENEFITS

for Clinical Practice Sites

M-SEARCH will Provide...

- ☑ Opportunities to introduce health professional students to your organization and community and to evaluate how well they might fit into your practice site in the future.
- ☑ The opportunity for your preceptor or recruiter to maintain contact with students during the remainder of their professional training and at graduation for future recruitment purposes.
- ☑ Counseling to students/residents on loan repayment programs.

Recruiting

Community

- ☑ Opportunities to promote primary care practice to fulfill the needs of your community.
- ☑ Health professional students who will complete community service projects tailored to the specific needs of your patient population and community at large.

- ☑ Improved academic and practice site linkages.
- ☑ Students and residents with an allowance to help cover their costs of transportation, housing, and meals.
- ☑ Access to an online automated rotation scheduling system.
- ☑ Preceptorship opportunities for clinical staff. In addition to the intrinsic personal benefits of teaching, preceptors may be eligible to receive specific benefits from a trainee's home academic institution, such as CME programs, hours toward relicensure, and e-library privileges.
- ☑ On-site students and residents who are covered by liability insurance from their home educational institution/program.

Rotations