New Television Documentary Explores Painful Condition Debuts in September:
Recognizing Pain Awareness Month

Tuesday, September 15, 2009, @ 10:30 p.m.

Sunday, September 20, 2009, @ 6:00 p.m.

Helping Our Pain and Exhaustion, Inc. (H.O.P.E.) presents a new 30-minute patient focused version of the award winning documentary Fibromyalgia: Fitting the Pieces Together to be aired twice on Detroit Public Television (WTVS-TV, Channel 56) in September.

Throughout September, patients suffering from Fibromyalgia will feel validation and compassion while Michigan residents will learn more about this condition on select PBS stations, set to air the new special TV program. It is based on the 90 minute documentary called, Fibromyalgia: Fitting the Pieces Together, which recently won a prestigious 2009 Telly Award for excellence in the Film/Video-Health Wellness Category.

The new 30-minute patient-focused version of the documentary will air on Detroit Public Television and digital sub channels.
