

Amanda Smith
BSN, RN

Amanda Smith, BSN, RN is a Sparrow Hospital nurse who works on the Cardiac Progressive Care Unit and a member of the Michigan Nurses Association (MNA). She is dedicated to her patients and families and strives for excellence in the care she provides. One of the ways that she promotes safe, high quality care is by serving on many committees at Sparrow and acting as a leader on her unit. A committee Amanda is most proud of focuses on the improvement of the nursing care environment throughout the hospital; these improvements facilitate all nurses in better caring for their patients. Amanda actively seeks opportunities to be innovative and was recently chosen by her peers as 'Sparrow Hospital's Critical Care Services Nurse of the Year'. Amanda loves learning new things and will be beginning her Master's Program this summer.
