Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (“The Innovation Center”)

About the Innovation Center

Welcome to the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (“The Innovation Center”), a new engine for revitalizing and sustaining the Medicare, Medicaid and CHIP programs and ultimately to help to improve the healthcare system for all Americans. The Innovation Center, established by the Affordable Care Act, was given the flexibility and resources to rapidly test innovative care and payment models and scale up successful models.

Our goal: better care and better health, at reduced costs through improvement. The Center will accomplish these goals by being a constructive and trustworthy partner in identifying, testing and spreading new models of care and payment.

Better healthcare: Improve individual patient experiences of care along the Institute of Medicine’s six domains of quality: Safety, Effectiveness, Patient-centeredness, Timeliness, Efficiency, and Equity.

Better health: Encourage better health for entire populations by addressing underlying causes of poor health, such as physical inactivity, behavioral risk factors, lack of preventive care and poor nutrition.

Reduced costs: Lower the total cost of care resulting in reduced monthly expenditures for each Medicare, Medicaid or CHIP beneficiary by improving care.
