Civil Rights Commission Visits Communities, Collecting Testimony on the State of Migrant and Seasonal Farmworkers

Lansing, MI – In July, the Michigan Civil Rights Commission began accepting testimony on the state of migrant and seasonal farmworkers in Michigan. A series of five visits are taking place to speak with migrant and seasonal farmworkers and others in the agricultural industry. Testimony may be submitted at any of the announced local forums, a Commission meeting scheduled for August 24th in Allendale, or in writing to the Department. All testimony, which will result in a Commission report to be released later this year, must be received by the August 24th Commission meeting.

The remaining scheduled visit will take place on August 18 at the Bay/Arenac Migrant Head Start, located at 2801 Sterling Road, Omer, MI 48749.

Testimony can be submitted to Commission and Department staff at this location between 6:00 pm and 8:00 pm. Anonymous testimony will be accepted. Spanish language translation and child care services will be available for those wishing to testify.

In addition to representatives from all aspects of the agricultural industry, the Commission is also accepting testimony from representatives of government and social service agencies.

Written testimony should be submitted between now and August 24, 2009. Please submit to: Harold Core, Director of Public Affairs, MI Department of Civil Rights, 110 W. Michigan Avenue, Suite 900, Lansing, MI 48933.

This effort is a collaboration between several entities, including the Department of Civil Rights, Farmworker Legal Services, Telamon Migrant Head Start and the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. The purpose of the effort is to ensure that Michigan can continue to attract migrant and seasonal farmworkers, who are critical to the agricultural industry. The agriculture industry is the third largest industry in Michigan, and critical to the state's economy.
