3. Definitions

A. Definitions in This Regulation.

1. Promotion means an employee's appointment to a different position at a higher classification level where the maximum rate of pay is higher than that of the former classification level, unless there is a de minimis difference between the maximum rates.
2. State Transitional Position (STP) means a position designated as transitional to protect an employee's pay. These positions are indicated in the Human Resources Management Network (HRMN) as "STP" in the position description. The designation is added to the position before appointment and removed after successful completion of the experience requirements.

4. Standards

- A. General Requirements. The transitional designation of an existing business and administrative technician, professional, or managerial position facilitates career movement of employees with status and specific education or experience to new careers.

1. Transitional designation may be requested only if the movement does not result in a promotion.
2. Transitional designation of an existing position may be requested only if there are no recall names for the classification of the position intended to be filled as shown on a recall list current as of the day of request.
3. Transitional designation of an existing position may be requested when the appointment to the position would result in reduced compensation because the prospective employee does not possess the required experience for the level in the class series.
4. The appointing authority must submit a Position Action Request to Civil Service and identify the position to be designated as transitional.
5. If the transitional designation is used to facilitate an employee's movement to a position at the advanced level, position-specific or universal advanced classification standards must be approved when the employee is appointed.
6. A credential review of the intended appointee must be conducted in accordance with regulation 3.04, § 4.D.
7. At the appointing authority's discretion, an employee with status appointed to a transitional position at a new classification may be required to complete a probationary period under regulation 3.03.
8. The transitional designation may be removed from the position after the employee successfully completes the experience requirements in §§ 4.B, C, or D. This requires Civil Service approval and the appointing authority's certification that the employee (a) meets the minimum requirements, (b) is satisfactorily performing the classification level's duties and responsibilities, and (c) has a current satisfactory performance rating.
9. For purposes of qualification credit, employees who successfully complete the transition period are considered to have the years of aggregate experience required for the classification and level to which they transition.
10. Regulation 2.01, § 4.D provides guidance for treatment of transitional positions during a reduction in force.
11. Regulation 3.07, § 4.A provides guidance for treatment of transitional positions during a recall.
12. Regulation 5.01, § 3.L establishes standards for salary upon appointment to a position designated as transitional. An employee's salary may be retained if the current rate of pay is less than or equal to the maximum of the classification level to which the employee will be classified upon completing the transitional period.

The transitional designation from an equivalent or higher professional P11 or 12-level position or 12-, 13-, 14-, or 15-level specialist or manager to a transitional P11- (experienced) or 12-level (advanced) position or 13-, 14-, or 15-level specialist may be removed after successfully completing the equivalent of six months of full-time transitional experience.
4. The transitional designation from a non-professional position to a transitional professional position may be removed after successfully meeting the classification's experience requirements. If removal would reduce pay, the employee remains in transitional status for another year.
5. The transitional designation from a SEMA 11, 13, or 15 position may be removed after successfully completing the equivalent of 6 months if to the intermediate level or 12 months if to the experienced level.
