Under the Final Requirements for School Improvements Grants, as defined under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended, Title I, Part A. Section 1003(g) and the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act as amended in January 2010, one of the criteria that the MDE (SEA) must consider when an LEA applies for a SIG grant is the extent to which the LEA has taken action to “recruit, screen, and select external providers...”. To assist LEA’s in this process, the MDE is requesting information/applications from entities wishing to be considered for placement on a preferred provider list that will be made available to LEA’s on the MDE website. If an LEA selects a provider that is not on the list, the provider will have to go through the application review process before engaging in the turnaround intervention at the LEA. Applications will be reviewed on their merits and not on a competitive basis. Please note that the application and accompanying attachments will be accessible online to LEA’s seeking to contract for educational services.

Preferred external providers will be required to participate in a state-run training program that specifies performance expectations and familiarizes providers with state legislation and regulations. External providers will be monitored and evaluated regularly and those who are not getting results will be removed from the preferred provider list.

All decisions made by the MDE are final. There is no appeal process.

Please note that being placed on the Preferred Provider List does not guarantee that a provider will be selected by an LEA to provide services.

Two or more qualified reviewers will rate the application using the scoring rubric developed by the Michigan Department of Education (MDE).

Applications will only be reviewed if:

1. All portions of the application are complete;

2. All application materials, including attachments, are submitted electronically prior to the due date;

Applications will only be approved if:

1. The above conditions are met for review;

2. The total application score meets a minimum of 70 points

Exemplar 1: Description of Comprehensive Improvement Services (25 points possible)

Describe how comprehensive improvement services that result in dramatic, documented and sustainable improvement in underperforming urban secondary schools will be delivered to LEA’s that contract for your services. Comprehensive services include, but are not limited to the following:

- Support systems to ensure student and teacher success and sustain improvement
- Content and delivery systems and mechanisms proven to result in dramatic and sustained improvement linked to student achievement
- Job embedded professional development at leadership, teacher and support levels to increase internal capacity for improvement and sustainability linked to student achievement
- Comprehensive short cycle and summative assessment systems to measure performance and goal attainment linked to the building school improvement plan.
Capitol Advisor & Consulting Services (CACS) has provided services to schools in improvement in Chicago, Virginia, and North Carolina. CACS has provided Title I funded services to High Priority Schools in the Alexandria County School District (Virginia), in partnership with Jefferson Hueston Elementary School. Jefferson Hueston improved in three areas. CACS provided Title I funded services to Louisa County District Schools (Virginia) from 2009-2011. Serving one school in the district in 2009, which achieved full accreditation and met AYP, the district employed CACS for services to the two remaining elementary schools in the district. Two out of the three elementary schools met state accreditation and AYP rating. CACS provided Title I funded services to King George School District (Virginia) 2009-2011. CACS serviced two schools the first year. Both schools meet state accreditation and one met AYP rating. In 2011, CACS was requested to provide services to the third elementary school in the district. All three schools met full accreditation and two school met AYP rating. CACS has provided consulting services for the Virginia Department of Education, serving in the capacities as a state monitor, PASS Coach and state facilitator for SIG schools, serving the districts of Hopewell, Brunswick, Louisa, Colonial Beach. All four schools met state accreditation. CACS provided Title I funded services to the Hertford County School District in North Carolina (2007-2008) serving Riverview Elementary. After one year of service, CACS was requested to provide another year of service. Riverview Elementary made substantial improvements in all content areas the second year of service, achieving the first gain in scores in five years. The senior consultant is currently providing consulting services through Teachscape to four Detroit schools. One of the schools served (Dixon Learning Academy) is recognized by the state for its improved growth in the area of student achievement. The senior consultant for CACS has been contracted by Teachscape to service a number of the Detroit schools in the last three years (Dixon Learning Academy, Hutcheson Elementary-Middle, White Elementary-Middle, Schulze Elementary-Middle, Parker Elementary-Middle, Burns Elementary-Middle, Law Elementary-Middle, and Brewer Elementary-Middle).

CACS service model for these schools has been to work in partnership with the schools and school district to establish a core set of services for each school. CACS has utilized a comprehensive needs assessment in order to provide customized services based on the needs of the school and the culture of the school. CACS services are based on five modules: Restructuring, Leadership Coaching, Preparing to Lead, Curriculum Alignment – Instructional Resources – Assessment and Data Analysis and Inquiry. The CACS modules, based on the needs of the schools, school leaders and teachers are provided job-embedded professional development in the areas of supervision of instruction, formal and informal observations, teacher feedback, documentation, effectively utilizing present system of teacher evaluation, instructional best-practices based on research-based findings, effective teacher-practices, building sustained leadership and teacher capacity and instructional based decision-making based on data. CACS instructional and leadership services are known as ‘side-by-side.’ We work along with the school leaders and teachers to “move to more excellence” in total school operations. Side-by-side serves provides professional coaching services on an individual basis to support school leaders and teachers. Professional development is followed by side-by-side support to monitor and assist with the implementation practices after job-embedded professional development. Support is provided by experts in the field of school leadership and instructional matters (content/instructional practices/classroom management/school restructuring and operations/instructional and leadership coaching). CACS services engulf implementation, monitoring, evaluating progresses based on the school’s improvement plans. CACS will employ the same method of progress with Michigan schools.

SUPPORT SYSTEM PROVIDED TO SCHOOLS
In order to assure sustainability of services, CACS will utilize research-based modules to assist teachers and leaders to achieve and sustain measurable growth in school leadership and student outcomes. The provisions of job-embedded professional development accompanied by side-by-side coaching for teachers and leaders will assist in developing and sustaining skills in data analysis to understand student needs, defining needs of students and establishing and using resources to meet student needs, building of collaboration among teachers and development and support of instructional leadership teams.

CACS will conduct a comprehensive needs assessment for the school that will focus on student achievement data, classroom observation data, district interviews, school, parents and stakeholder interviews. CACS will frequently examine and analyze school performance data in order to assist the school in uncovering the cause of low performance. The process of data inquiry will be utilized in order to assist school leaders and teachers in developing a laser focus on student mastery. Providing assistance to teachers will be paramount in identifying and implementing research-based instructional strategies. Teachers will be afforded the opportunity to become skilled in developing a school culture that is data-driven. The process of continuous school improvement will build around the knowledge of gathering data, data inquiry, effective leadership in the arena of change agents, moving students in the process of understanding individual growth data and teachers understanding the procedures and processes of pre-post assessments; common assessments; and formative and summative assessments. CACS will assist school leaders in structuring school operations with the concentration on school instructional leadership which will aide the support and sustainability of continuous school improvement. The process will employ the need for rigorous and relevant instructional practices in the area of teaching all contents. CACS will assist in developing a school culture that will be an arena of training and monitored growth in the area of school leadership. Emphasis will be placed on structured school operations (preparation of pre-week activities/trainings, daily operations – supervision of instruction, recognition of teachers and students, involvement of parents and stakeholders, facility appearance, classroom norms and operations, classroom management, and rigorous and relevant standard-focused instructional planning of daily lessons). Instructional leaders will be provided training in establishing school wide classroom instructional models (norms for operation), gathering of instructional data that will be used to develop action plans in improvement as well as evidence of job-embedded professional development and the establishment of functional professional learning communities (PLCs) based on collaboration and reflective dialogue among teachers and school administrators.

The accomplishments of the aforementioned practices by CACS will be achieved with the assignment of:

- A Senior Consultant that oversee all facets of services to the school.
- A Leadership Coach that will work with the school’s administrative team and assist in building and providing support to instructional leadership team. The leadership coach will provide side-by-side coaching services, job-embedded professional services to the school leadership team and administrative team, training in conducting classroom walkthroughs and utilizing the approved school’s district’s teacher observation and evaluation system, assist school leadership team in developing a job-embedded professional development calendar and the implementation and monitoring of the school’s professional growth activities. The leadership coach will assist instructional leaders in developing skills to lead professional learning communities/grade bands and how to report efforts of their assigned group to the instructional leadership team. The leadership coach will be an expert in SIG work, providing opportunities for assistance in implementing and monitoring SIG goals, assisting in monitoring the progress of the requirements, appropriate methods of gathering and filing documentations of proof of efforts, preparations for SIG Benchmarks and assistance in building a SIG Sustainability Plan.

- A Professional Development Coordinator to work with school leaders in developing, monitoring and evaluating the services of professional trainings in order to evaluate effectiveness of services, training of teachers and administrators in presenting professional development activities.
- Coaches in the areas of content, Title I, special education, and ELL will be provided as based on the needs assessment. Coaches are experienced with years of success in their content areas and seasoned professional developers.

CACS delivers a unique service to each school based on the needs. The five modules are outlines of topics in school improvement. The services for each school are patented according to a collaborative effort by the district and school. The outcome is an aggressive professional learning environment moving expeditiously towards addressing the needs in increasing student performance, and the building of sustainability in leadership and instructional capacity.

JOB EMBEDDED PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT:

With success in urban, rural and suburban schools (2007-2013), CACS will employ the following model for sustained, job-embedded professional learning based on the needs of the school.

- Utilizing formative and benchmark assessment to monitor student achievement
- Transitioning to Common Core Standards
- Informal and formal classroom observations (collecting school-wide instructional data using present tool, designing focus plan from observational data, practice and feedback)
- Effective teaching
- Effective instructional practices
- Data collection, analysis and data inquiry
- School improvement processes / SIG requirements
- Instructional leadership team
- Building Positive School Culture
- Collaborative practices for special needs teachers / inclusion practices for special needs students
- Instructional design of classrooms
- Instructional best practices and implementation

CACS, using the senior consultant in Detroit schools for the last three years are aware of the Michigan state requirements for SIG schools, have worked with the state SIG monitors extensively, attended MDE net-working meetings and has served prior positions in another state as a state monitor and understands the aggressiveness in change that is required of schools in improvement. CACS has an established group of experts in all areas of school improvement that brings a proven record of assisting school in the areas of school improvement. CACS has worked alongside other providers in the school and has assisted in developing a seamless supply of services. Collaboration among these providers is paramount and success of operating together in providing the school services has been achieved with each venture. CACS initiates meetings with other providers to assure that planning together will avoid duplicate services and that all providers are servicing the school at a quality level.

CACS offers tools and practices that will assist schools in school turnaround or transformation. Tools utilized are progress monitoring of instructional team, plan of actions to guide decided upon goals for school leaders and PLCs, Data Assessment Cycle Protocol, Individual Student Plans, Agenda templates for school instructional meetings, state standard data forms for collecting and analyzing data, a system of color coding data to easily identify gaps in achievement, professional development calendar format, and numerous forms and templates that teachers and administrators may find useful. The tools and processes have been successfully implemented for the past six years by CACS to improve teaching effectiveness, instructional leadership and planning and monitoring for increased student performance.
Exemplar 2: Use of Scientific Educational Research
(15 points possible)

Describe how scientific educational research and evidence based practices will be used as the basis for all content and delivery systems and services provided to the LEA.

- The applicant should provide detailed data that supports successful performance in utilizing research and evidence-based practices in the delivery of systems and services, especially as applied to secondary school settings.
- Cite and reference available research studies (as appropriate) and provide data that indicate the practices used have a positive impact on the academic achievement of students in the subjects and grade levels in which you intend to provide services.
CACS will employ the following research base professional development services described in Exemplar 1. CACS modules engage teacher leaders and teachers in a continuous learning process that enables participants to be independent of external services.

Classroom observations and teacher evaluation services for school leaders professional development is based on the work of Charlotte Danielson Professional Practice – A Framework for Teaching, Bruce Joyce and Beverly Showers the prime movers of instructional coaching and mentoring. Blended Coaching, Gary Bloom’s research based practices provides skills and strategies to support principal development. The perspectives of coaching instructional leaders are enlisted through the research base work of Jim Knight. CACS leadership coaches and instructional coaches are trained in the works of Sam Redding’s Mega System – a comprehensive approach to school improvement in which school reform moves the whole school forward, dramatically changing the way it operates. The work of increasing student achievement will be employed through the research base strategies based on the works of Robert J. Marzano, Debra J. Pickering and Jane E. Pollock – Classroom Instruction that Works and utilizing the nine strategies to address improving instructional practices. The works of Ruby Payne, Under-Resourced Learner are employed addressing the eight strategies to boost student achievement.

CACS will provide research based professional development in order to assist school leaders and teachers to:

- Utilize a laser focus to guide classroom observations and assist in developing “Look fors” which will become a focus based school needs.
- Data focused school – collecting, analyzing and inquiring about assessment results.
- Curriculum delivery – instructional practices, bringing relevance and rigor (connecting learning to the real world, instructional practices that engages students)
- Utilizing action plans to drive school improvement
- Collecting instructional data, decisions on adjustments, monitoring of action plans

At the completion of a needs assessment, CACS will work with the school community to select appropriate instructional strategies to focus on with the assistance of job-embedded professional development, leadership and instructional coaching and mentoring.

CACS has used the aforementioned research based strategies and schools served have shown improvement in numerous states.
Exemplar 3:  Job Embedded Professional Development
(15 points possible)

Describe how a job-embedded professional development plan will be put in place to support principals, school leadership teams, teachers, and support staff.

- The applicant should provide detailed data that supports successful performance in developing job-embedded professional development plans for:
  - principals
  - school leadership teams
  - teachers
  - support staff
Exemplar 3 Narrative Limit: (2 pages)

“A truism in education is that professional learning is a process, not an event “ (Learning Forward, January 31, 2013). CACS prime interest is to build leadership and teacher capacity in order to increase student achievement. It is evident if change is to occur in schools, teachers and school leaders must use their learning to improve their practices. If this does not occur professional development is stunted and limited to its benefits. CACS will utilize its five research based modules established to build sustainability that has demonstrated progress in urban, suburban and rural school district across the country.

The modules includes the following:

- Restructuring – implementing federal and state laws, and district policies; administrative and teacher leader effectiveness support; data analysis and school improvement planning and professional development based on data accompanied with monitoring of efforts and support in implementation.

- Leadership Coaching – A school improvement methodology through side-by-side leadership coaching established to strengthen leadership skills, assist and train school leaders in analyzing school needs and planning to meet federal requirements, assisting and training school leaders in examining, operationalizing and monitoring school improvement plans and assisting and training school leaders in the process of school improvement.

- Preparing to Lead – Assistance to zero experience school principals or school principals determined by the district as performance below the minimum level of expectations through side-by-side coaching to assist in developing and exercising a school vision, developing a methodology in improving student performance, providing professional development based on school needs and managing time, facility and school budget.

- Curriculum Alignment / Instructional Resources / Assessment – provisions to assist school leaders and teacher in areas of curriculum alignment with state standards, instructional resources appropriate to address state standards, state assessment system.

- Data Analysis – assistance and training in the areas of analysis and a system of inquiry concerning student learning data, operational data (forming of grade bands, administrative teams, instructional team and daily operations), providing school leaders and teachers with the ability to utilize research base processes in making data driven decisions.

CACS development of the above mentioned modules for services are based on the Learning Forward’s third addition of national professional standards with support from the MetLife Foundation:

- Professional Communities - Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students occurs within learning communities committed to continuous improvement, collective

- Leadership - Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students requires skillful leaders who develop capacity, advocate, and create support systems for professional learning.

- Resources - Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students requires prioritizing, monitoring, and coordinating resources for educator learning.

- Data - Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students’ uses a variety of sources and types of student, educator, and system data to plan, assess, and evaluate professional learning.

- Learning Designs - Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students integrates theories, research, and models of human learning to achieve its intended outcomes.

- Implementation - Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students applies research on change and sustains support for implementation of professional learning for long-term change.

- Outcomes - Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students aligns its outcomes with educator performance and student curriculum standards.

Through a collaborative decision making process, CACS will lead schools in building an annual professional development calendar that is built on the needs of the school. Through the training, school leaders will build the capacity to recognize school needs, build a capacity of school leaders and teachers qualified to conduct professional development, monitor implementation and a system of evaluating effectiveness based on increased student achievement.
Exemplar 4: Experience with State and Federal Requirements
(15 points possible)

Describe your experience with State and Federal Requirements, especially as it relates to the following:

- Aligning model(s) to be implemented with the School Improvement Framework
- The Michigan Comprehensive Needs Assessment
- Individual School/District Improvement Plans, North Central Association (NCA)
  - Response demonstrates alignment of the above mentioned elements, AKA “One Common Voice - One Plan.”
- Understanding of Title 1 (differences between Targeted Assistance and School-wide)
- State assessments — Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) and the Michigan Merit Exam (MME)
- Michigan Grade Level Content Expectations (GLCEs)
- Michigan High School Content Expectations (HSCEs)
- Michigan Merit Curriculum
- Michigan Curriculum Framework
- Section 504 of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)
Exemplar 4 Narrative Limit: (2 pages)

As a successful partner to over 14 school districts and state agencies across the nation, CACS bring to the districts eight years of qualified experience in the area of school improvement and hundreds of years in successful teaching and school administration.

CACS senior consultant has provided turnaround services to high priority schools in Detroit employed by Teachscape. In Detroit schools, CACS senior consultant has worked with four SIG schools in supplying information and guidance in meeting requirements, preparing for Benchmark meetings and preparing the instructional team in complying with the school improvement plan. As a result, one of the schools is noted for improvement with double-digit improvement in student achievement in reading and math and improvements in all content areas. CACS has served as an external provider for Alexandria Public Schools and was successful in assisting the school in operational management, developing an effective instructional team and noted increases in the area of math (deficient area) in the next assessment cycle (66 to 74).

CACS senior consultant has serviced schools in four districts of Virginia contracting as a state SIG monitor and has utilized turnaround experiences in six school districts. CACS senior consultant was employed in one district as a turnaround specialist, taken over an alternative middle school (New Bridge Middle) and leading the school to achieve state accreditation and meet AYP within eight months of service. The school celebrated double-digit improvements in math, English and writing. A number of the staff assisting this effort are presently employed by CACS and continue to be successful in the school turnaround process.

CACS services are familiar with Title I requirements (all consultants have served as administrators or supervisors of Title I schools) (secular services, neutral, non-ideological, services based on student data and needs, and improved effectiveness of teachers providing services to low income students). CACS has serviced schools similar to Michigan in which Title I service providers deliver services targeted to all students and professional development is delivered and supports all teachers. CACS employs a Title I specialist to assist schools with compliance, grant writing and understanding the Title I components.

CACS has employed special education coaches each possessing over 30 years experience in meeting special needs of students.

CACS work with each school to align services based on school improvement plans and district goals. Teachers and leaders are engaged in the process of developing plans based on the needs assessment conducted by CACS. Based on the Progress Cycle for School Improvement, teachers and leaders are directly engaged in a collaborative method of gathering data, analyzing and inquiring of the results, implementing and monitoring, developing actions plans to address data, evaluating school efforts and understanding, embracing and articulating the school improvement plans.

In order to understand the needs of the school, CACS incorporate the MEAP and MME data in development of plans for each school.

CACS has experience in working with high priority schools in several states as well as Detroit in the need to develope a laser focus on the GLCEs and now moving schools to the common core standards. CACS will assist teachers in building knowledge and skills in identifying students needs in order to be successful in both building cognitive knowledge and equipping students to be proficient on state standard tests.
Exemplar 5: Sustainability Plan
(15 points possible)

Describe how a sustainability plan will be put in place for the building to become self-sufficient at the end of the 3-year grant period.

- The applicant should demonstrate significant knowledge and experience in developing sustainability plans.
The primary goal of CACS in providing services is the assistance in aiding schools to sustain and build on their staff capacity to increase student achievement and implementation of the fourth year of their plan without the assistance of the SIG Grant. Three years of service should provide the school the ability to perform the various steps without assistance:

- Improved classroom teaching and learning through the effective functioning of teacher collaboration and the oversight of PLC leaders along with the effective use of classroom observation data.
- Effective instructional team branching off to service and lead PLC meetings, grade band/cluster meetings, vertical planning meetings; and job-embedded professional development conducted by staff.
- Continued leadership training of instructional team members by the principal and teacher involved peer/classroom observations.
- Share classroom observation data with staff, engage in collaborative efforts with teacher to develop focus areas and assist teacher leaders in developing action plans for improvement in instructional delivery, survey teachers twice a year, and continue data meetings.
- Instructional leaders capable of assisting teachers in examining the alignment and pacing of the curriculum, knowledge of best instructional practices and capability of observing instruction and developing plans to improve teacher effectiveness.

The above steps will be possible along with the training provided in the process for school improvement. Schools will follow the six-step process:

- Identify the problem
- Analyze
- Develop a plan
- Implement the plan
- Monitor/evaluate the plan
- Modify the plan

CACS will provide schools with evidence-based practices and indicators to inform improvement efforts. The skills in utilizing the identification process (data-driven decision-making), developing research-based interventions and methods of establishing appropriate monitoring processes will be built within the three years.

CACS will assist school in building sustainability capacity through:

- Coaching and mentoring school leaders and teachers (providing coaching skills for school leaders)
- Developing school leaders to perform professional development activities (modeling professional development planning and delivery)
- Utilizing prepared templates, forms, samples (e.g., collaborative logs, action plans, agenda templates, data graphs, observation feedback questions, teacher workweek schedules, staff handbook sample, school discipline plans, student individual plans) school leaders will have the opportunity to use examples in building forms and procedures
Engaging in reflective dialogue captured by collaborative logs will provide school leaders support in conducting effective feedback sessions.

Engaging in side-by-side sessions with leadership coaches and instructional coaches will provide school leaders skills in coaching that can be carried over past the grant period.

CACS work with schools to build leadership and instructional sustainability through modeling, coaching, mentoring and supplying templates that they may adjust/alter to fit their needs, as well as, forms and engagements in discussions of procedures that meet the school’s needs.

Fairfield Middle School
Principal
July 2000 - July 2004

A fully accredited middle school under my direction, Fairfield made great gains in the areas of Annual Yearly Progress (AYP) and Standards of Learning (SOL). I worked to sculpt an instructional leadership team, which possessed a shared vision for excellence. Amidst my four-year tenure at Fairfield, teacher retention was drastically decreased while parent participation in the PTA and volunteer avenues soared to exciting levels. The Custodial staff won county honors consecutive years under our leadership, while we were continuously featured on Channel 36 and showcased during the technology initiative.

- Henrico County Instructional Leader of the Year (2005)
- Implemented an innovative system of reporting school wide data (RED AMBER GREEN)

Jacob L. Adams Elementary School
Principal

Provided leadership that resulted in a National Blue Ribbon School of Excellence. Adams Elementary soared to new heights under the administration. As the school worked to achieve the National Seal of Excellence the School was fortunate to see increased participation in the PTA as well as parent volunteers. Implemented a rigorous new reading program, “Success for All” John Hopkins University that served to increase reading scores across the board. By implementing practices of team building, data analysis, classroom management and thematic units, the foundation was laid during these four years, which led Adams to become a Fully Accredited Elementary School in 2001.

Fairfield Middle School

EXPERTISE: Professional Development - Teaching and Leadership Standards - Curriculum Development and Instructional Alignment - Literacy - Differentiated Instruction - School Improvement - Education Technology - Author - Coach - Administrator

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I have divided my Professional Experience into: Administrative and Consultative. As a consultant, I have designed and delivered professional learning programs, provided leadership support, professional development and technical assistance to schools, school districts, state and federal agencies. During my career, I have co-founded a California Distinguished school -Rooftop School in San Francisco. I have been a mentor teacher, an effective program and school administrator, supporting quality programs and services for children and families. I have developed and presented hundreds of innovative and inspiring professional development seminars, courses and workshops, responsive to adult learning styles, with documented evaluations of my work. As an Executive Coach and Senior Consultant, I have provided effective technical assistance with measurable outcomes to school and school district teachers, administrators, and parents both locally and nationally. I have been responsible for recruiting, hiring and training instructors, directing and managing educational programs, which have provided certification, professional development and administrative support to educators throughout Northern California. More recently, I have worked to improve the educational programs of Turnaround schools (SIG) in Nevada and Michigan and I have served on Regional Advisory committees for the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Innovation and Improvement, focused on providing comprehensive instructional improvement. Currently, I serve as interim Executive Director for Scholastic Achievement Partners West Region. As a result of my consultative and administrative experience, I have defined scalable and effective methodologies which have improved the educational and professional outcomes for PreK-12 students, teachers, and administrators. I am committed to educational excellence, and to the work of charting the course for the next generation of learners.

2012-Present  Interim Executive Director Scholastic Achievement Partners, West Region
As a member of the Education Partnerships team currently providing products and services to the the following states-Idaho, California, Washington, Nevada, Hawaii, Arizona, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, and Utah, I possess a deep knowledge of the K-12 educational market. I am responsible for all activities related to fiscal performance target/goals and collaborate with Senior Associates, the implementation team, district and county offices to drive renewals and Expansions, generate new business, and meet client needs.

2009 – Present  Co-founder / Advisory Board – A+ Educators
In 2009 I formed a new non-profit along with eight other distinguished educators, university faculty, county superintendents, county curriculum directors, college trustees, principals and classroom teachers. Our mission is to provide opportunities for the professional development of teachers and administrators, to support and develop after school programs, and to provide for tutoring and access to community health services. A PLUS currently offers an after school program consisting of tutoring and mentoring for students at risk in Alameda County. This summer A PLUS will offer a variety of services to districts including best practices coaching/mentoring for teachers, leadership mentoring, professional development, differentiated instruction, classroom management, and literacy/language support for English Learners.

Consultant - Teachscape
I currently work with significantly under-performing schools as part of the School Improvement Grant Program. Achievements: I established cycles of inquiry to align assessment, resources, and instruction and supported responsive systems of professional development which included professional learning communities and differentiated instructional resources, peer coaching and lesson study models. I developed coaching logs, differentiated rubrics, lesson plans for differentiated instruction using technology-enabled diagnostic tools. I am a certified Danielson Framework Trainer.

2009 - 2011 Program Director - UC Berkeley Extension, Education Department
As Program Director I developed curricula and managed viable certification programs of support for teachers. I currently manage programs for college career counseling, career and technical education, literacy, curriculum support, English language teacher authorization, and school reform/turnaround for instructional leaders. Achievements: I worked to foster relationships between the University and the broader community. I secured partnerships with the San Francisco Unified School District, Oakland Unified Schools, The Oakland Museum, and the Bay Area Writing Project to determine needs for building new courses, curricula and programs that are effective, meaningful and relevant. More recently, I developed course content for persistently under-performing schools which included best practices for school reform and turnaround. This has been a highly regarded program specifically designed for secondary school leaders (School Leadership Network). I researched and developed a series of courses for educators and parents, which include: observing, assessing and instructing the early and intermediate literacy learner, differentiated instruction, young adult literature and literacy and the community. The courses were submitted to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing and were approved for the Reading Certificate. Based on enrollment data, these programs have provided certification and professional development support to over 1,000 teachers and administrators throughout the Bay Area.

2005-2009 Director of Outcomes / Administrative Team - Oakland United School District - Oasis High School, Lighthouse Charter
As a consultant for Lighthouse Charter I was a BTSA coach to three new teachers. I also developed and taught a program of literacy intervention to 56 under-resourced middle school students. Achievements: The program was a measurable success and was expanded to include 32 high school students. Based on pre and post STAR measurement, 84% of the students in the program made gains of one to two years in reading comprehension and fluency. At Oasis High School, I was part of the administrative staff as the Director of Outcomes. In this capacity, I led the leadership team, comprised of teachers, board members, and parents, who were responsible for revising the school charter and creating a new school improvement plan. Although the school charter was not renewed, the school improvement template was used for selected charter schools within the Los Angeles Unified School District.

2003-2005 Regional Associate Director, California Reading and Literature Project - San Jose Region University of California, Office of the President
I designed and presented materials for reading and literacy staff development and managed a budget in excess of $1,750,000. I managed the program which included partnerships with over 50 districts within the San Jose region. I expanded the number of school and district partnerships from 175 to 300 and secured the funding for this increased capacity. I found and selected talented, enthusiastic educators to present literacy workshops to a broad audience of parents, staff and community members. Achievement: The Summer Institutes for teachers were well attended; evaluations of these Institutes were consistently high. I developed and instituted curricula as a part of the CAPI-PAD program designed to specifically address middle school and high school students-at-risk. This program was used in schools throughout the San Jose region.
Executive Coach/Consultant, Lodi, Madera and Fresno USDs Springboard Schools

As a consultant, I provided professional development support to the principals, teachers and parents of Madera Unified School District. I presented research-based workshops in data inquiry, analysis of student work, literacy, ELL Best Practices, child development and family literacy. I presented the Japanese lesson study model as well as my own research concerning Differentiated Instruction. Achievements: In 2007 and 2008, three focal school sites made double-digit improvement on both AYP and API measures, and are no longer Program Improvement schools. The consensus of opinion among teachers and administrators was that these documented gains were the result of the concerted efforts of all staff and parents, and my consistent, effective professional development.

As an Executive Coach, I provided professional development support for the principals, staff and parents of Lane Elementary and Carver Middle schools in Fresno and Delta Sierra and Morada Middle schools in Lodi. Achievements: As the Team Lead and member of the Fresno and Lodi DAIT teams, I provided coaching and mentoring to county, district and school administrators involving data review, school and classroom cycles of inquiry, curriculum development, instructional alignment, ELL support and support for differentiated instruction. In Lodi, I also instituted a Japanese lesson plan study model. Teacher and administrator evaluations of my work were outstanding. As a Team Lead in coordinated efforts with district, school administrators, teachers, and parents, nine of fourteen focal school sites in Fresno, six focal school sites in Lodi, three focal school sites in Madera successfully exited Program Improvement status. Documentation consists of AYP and API metrics, (2007-2008)

Consultant, LeapFrog, Emeryville, CA

As an educational consultant I worked on a project with Dr. Robert Calfee of Stanford University, which provided the initial development of literacy content for the Leap Pad. This content was incorporated into much of the interactive media currently in use with the Leap Pad.

Principal, Monroe Elementary School, (Mission District) San Francisco USD

I administered the Title I and SIP program: 485 students, 26 teachers, 13 paraprofessionals Achievements: Established Professional Learning Communities and rigorous professional development in reading and math content areas. During my administration, fourth grades achieved on average a 1.7 year gain; fifth grade: 1.4 year gain; third grade 1.6 year gain; second grade 1.6 year gain in reading comprehension and vocabulary development, as measured on pre-post STAR tests and on HM curriculum embedded tests. Our family literacy program, which supported the families of English Language Learners, was designated “notable” by the San Francisco School Volunteers.
