ATTENTION VIDEO PRODUCTION

BECOME A COURAGEOUS PERSUADER

Just create a 30-second commercial to warn middle school students about the dangers of underage drinking. The competition is open to high school students only, who compete for scholarship money and a chance to air their commercial on TV.

HOW TO ENTER

High school students nationally can participate; emphasis is placed on concept and the message, not on production values. Students are encouraged to use whatever video equipment is available to them. Teachers and principals, school audio/visual departments, parents and community leaders are urged to share their equipment and lend local support by promoting the program as a very unique scholarship competition that is fun to participate in and has a powerful impact on a serious problem.

ABOUT 2010-2011 COMPETITION

The Courageous Persuaders video deadline is February 10, 2011. Winners will be announced at the Awards Celebration in May 2011. Please continue to visit courageouspersuaders.com for further updates.

JUDGING

Middle schools interested in participating in the Courageous Persuaders program can volunteer to be judges of the competition. Questionnaires administered to middle school students gauge the persuasiveness of the commercials produced by high schoolers. Ratings on these questionnaires determine the winners. To participate in judging, register at courageouspersuaders.com.

The DADA also sponsors other charitable efforts, including: (1) The Charity Preview, the largest single night fundraiser in the world held each January at the North American International Auto Show in Detroit, and in 2010 donated more than $2.1 million to 12 charitable organizations in southeast Michigan; and (2) The DADA Charitable Foundation Fund, a fund of the Community Foundation for Southeast Michigan, which has donated more than $3.1 million in grants to 96 local charities since its inception in 1999.

2010-2011 COMPETITION OFFICIAL RULES & INSTRUCTION GUIDELINES

The following rules must be followed, or your video will be disqualified:

1. Your commercial must be 30 seconds long or less.
2. There are two ways you may enter your commercial: (a) Upload video entry to the Internet (i.e., YouTube, Vimeo, or SchoolTube) along with the completion of the online entry form; or (b) you can mail the entry form and DVD/VHS to Courageous Persuaders, 1900 West Big Beaver Road, Troy MI 48084.
3. The deadline for entry is Thursday, February 10, 2011. Your entry must either be submitted online or postmarked by this date.
4. More than one commercial may be submitted by one student.
5. Should your commercial be selected as a winning entry, please save all original work.
6. You may enter as an individual or as a team. All team members listed on the entry form must be a High School student, in grades 9-12 and a United States citizen attending a United States high school. Team members are decided by the team captain. Team members must be listed on the entry form. Should your commercial be selected as a winning entry, the scholarship money would be divided evenly among all team members listed on the entry form.
7. A completed Consent Form is required for each individual involved with creating or producing the commercial, including any music and sound effects. This includes all team members, all on-camera actors, all voiceover announcers, individuals in photographs, music composers, sound effect creators, and musicians who have participated in any way. You will only be contacted and required to fill out and return the Consent Form if selected as a semi-finalist, prior to your entry being sent for final judging, aired on television or added to the Courageous Persuaders website. Every person involved in developing or producing the commercial submission must each sign a Consent Form.
8. A completed Work Cited page is required and must be completed under an MLA or APA format and submitted with the Consent Form if chosen as a semi-finalist. This includes any photographs, researched facts and statistics. Do not use any family photographs, published photographs, website photographs, or film footage without written permission from the owner or all people in the photograph/film footage. This includes footage of school activities and sporting events. Photos that appear on the Internet and in magazines usually have copyrights and cannot be used (all movie, video game and TV footage is protected, as are news photos and film footage). Any video or photographs submitted using images without signed permission of the video or photograph's owner will be disqualified.
9. Music and Sound Effects: The only music and sound effects allowed on your entry must come from one of three sources: (a) Courageous Persuaders Free-Use Music* (see detailed information at end of Rules, below); (b) Garage Band Software, consistent with the Garage Band Software License Agreement; or (c) your own music you created and performed alone or with your team members.
 - i. Please note: other resources/websites for music or sound effects that may indicate "copyright-free" may not be completely and legally copyright-free; use of any music or sound effects from other so-called copyright-free websites will disqualify your entry. Option (c) in Rule #9, above, allows you to include work that is original to you. Everyone involved in composing and performing the music and sound effects must sign the Consent Form. You may not play

(i.e., "cover") anyone else's music or use their sound effects unless that person is a team member who is available to sign the Consent Form. You may, however, use Garage Band as an element of your original music consistent with the Garage Band Software License Agreement. Do not use any other music, songs or sound effects.

10. No alcohol can be consumed or appear to be consumed during the making of your commercial. You may dramatize the drinking of alcohol if you use a non-alcoholic beverage and cut the scene when the container reaches the lips of the actor. Nothing can be ingested. All "real" alcohol brand names must be removed from bottles or covered up so that they are not seen. Do not use any distinguishable alcohol containers, even if the labels are removed.
11. Commercials must be acceptable for airing by television stations; vulgar language and graphic content are not allowed.
12. Commercials that contain dangerous stunts, unsafe driving, vomit or toilet scenes will be disqualified.
13. Do not show any company names or logos (i.e., businesses, high schools, universities, cemeteries) trademarks or art, including those on hats, shirts, and other items of clothing.
14. Do not include any phone numbers or web site addresses except for www.courageouspersuaders.com. You may include your name and those of your team in the video as producers of the video, if you choose, although it is not necessary.
15. You may not use images in your video of tombstones with legible names and dates on them unless you have written permission from the family of the deceased. Permission must be submitted with your entry. You may edit the names and dates by blurring or blacking them out.
16. Videos submitted to the Courageous Persuaders competition will not be returned, and may be displayed, duplicated, edited and exhibited for educational or promotional purposes as deemed appropriate by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association Education Foundation, Inc. Submission of the video constitutes your approval for such use and exhibition. We suggest you make a duplicate of your commercial in case it is damaged in mailing.
