Expressing Ideas

This booklet contains sample Expressing Ideas items from previous test administrations. The information contained in this booklet may be used by schools, teachers, and parents as a resource for understanding the content and format of the assessment items. This document is not secure and may be copied and distributed as needed.

Each sample item contained in this booklet is preceded by the Extended Grade Level Content Expectation (EGLCE) code and a brief description of what the item measures. This EGLCE code and abbreviated descriptor is provided as a reference for educators, and does not appear in the student test booklet. The complete set of Michigan’s Extended Grade Level Content Expectations and Extended Benchmarks is located at www.michigan.gov/mi-access.

Since the grades 3-8 assessments are administered during the fall of the school year, only content from the previous grade level is measured on the assessment. For example, items eligible for the grade 4 assessment will measure grade 3 EGLCEs.

In the Functional Independence Expressing Ideas Assessments, students in grades 4, 7, and 11 are asked to respond to two prompts by “expressing ideas” related to practical, real-world situations. The prompts have been developed to accommodate various response modes, which means that students may write, draw, or use a combination of the two modes to express themselves. Students whose disabilities prevent them from writing or drawing may dictate their responses. A checklist is provided for students to use as they review and proofread their response to the prompt. During test administration, the teacher reads the directions, the prompt, and the checklist to the student before the student begins his/her response to the prompt.

Student responses are evaluated by external, specially trained hand-scorers using a four-point rubric that measures topic focus, organization, and use of language and visual conventions. Sample student papers, the scores earned, and annotations for each response are included. The scoring rubric is shown at the end of the section.

My favorite season of the year would be summer because I like tanning. I like the feel of the sun soaking up in my skin. One of my favorite things about summer is that my grandma lives on two beaches: one in the Bahamas and one in MI. The one in MI is so fun; she has rock climbing in the water, a water slide, and a trampoline. Barbacubes and ottubeparties are fun, too; we have them a lot with our friends and we have ottubeparties.

Anchor Paper 1
Score Point 4
This response effectively focuses on the topic. The text includes appropriate details based upon the student’s prior knowledge and experience (one of my favorite things about summer is that my grandma lives on two beaches). The writing demonstrates precise word choice (tanning, rock climbing, Barbacubes, hottube parties) and syntax. The text provides a clear organizational structure resulting in a unified whole. Errors in language conventions do not interfere with understanding.
My favorite season is spring because it not too cold and not so hot, the leaves just start coming on the trees, the plants start singing, it’s not very rain in spring. The best reason I like about spring is the nice people coming out of their homes now and having a BBQ and other areas swimming. I can’t wait until spring comes again such a beautiful season of the year. That’s why I the spring more than any season in the year.

Anchor Paper 2

Score Point 4

This response effectively focuses on the topic. The text includes appropriate details based upon the student’s prior knowledge and experience (the leaves just start coming on the trees, the plants start singing, it’s not very rain in spring). The writing demonstrates some use of mostly precise word choice and syntax. The text provides a clear organizational structure, including the use of transitions (The best reason, I can’t wait until, that’s why) resulting in a unified whole.
Anchor Paper 3

Score Point 3

This drawing is mostly on topic (with the reader inferring that the writer’s favorite season is summer). The image provides many appropriate details to support the topic (a beach with a swingset, happy children in swimsuits, a sand castle, a partly sunny day, flying birds and moving clouds, lapping waves, swimming fish). An attempt at a logical arrangement of figures is provided. It is not a static drawing; there is a sense of movement portrayed.
I like fall because it is warm and could. Sometime I like the days could
But some days I like them worm, fall is a fun season because the leaves fall down on they changing to red, green, an brown they look nice when they changing.

Anchor Paper 4
Score Point 3
The writing in this response is mostly on topic. (I like fall because it is worm and could - warm and cold). The writing also provides some descriptive details (fall is a fun season because the leaves fall down an they changing to red, Green, an brown...). The errors in language conventions slightly interfere with understanding.
Anchor Paper 5

This response is somewhat on topic (Summer). There is limited development with simplistic details. (NO School ITS waRm ITS BeutaFul we go camping). The writing lacks a clear organizational structure with its listing of ideas and showing no attempt to include transitions.
Anchor Paper 6

Score Point 2

The drawing is somewhat on topic but is developed with limited details that are present in the drawing and supported through minimal written explanation (I love summer). The visual needs more details or examples to obtain a higher scorepoint.
My favorite season is winter because winter is my favorite season.

Anchor Paper 7
Score Point 1
The writing shows only a minimal attempt to respond to the prompt (winter is my favorite season) with no further development or direction. Vocabulary is limited.
Anchor Paper 8

Score Point 1

The drawing shows a minimal attempt to respond to the prompt and is supported with little written explanation (Fall) with no further development or direction.
