

Joan Livingston, Ed. D
Active Literacy Consulting
51067 Gold Ridge Lane
Canton, MI 48188
(734) 516 4547
jliving@aol.com

Objectives:

- To facilitate the development of a school-wide plan that meets the requirements of PA 25 and Title I
- To provide the necessary resources to schools to support them in a school-wide plan

Educational Background:

- Ed. D. in Reading, Language, and Literature
- Educational Specialist in Reading and Curriculum Development
- MA in Special Education
- BS in Child Development and Teaching

Educational Experiences:

Presently, I serve as an independent contractor for the High Priority Schools Initiative ELA and Special Education for Wayne County RESA. I support teachers and administrators on analyzing student achievement data to assist school improvement teams in making decisions for the continuous improvement of the teaching and learning process for all students. I provide resources and model instructional strategies on research based best practices for each school that I support. I am well versed in NCLB, IDEA, and the School Improvement Process

My classroom teaching experiences include supporting teachers as a Reading Specialist in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, Southfield Public Schools, and the Detroit Public Schools. I have taught all grade levels K-8 in both general and special education in these districts as well. In addition, I have taught courses in higher education focusing on Special Education, Inclusion, Teaching Learning Processes and Literacy at Wayne State University and Adrian College. I served as an administrator at Adrian College developing teacher education minors and coursework for pre-service and in-service teachers based on the Michigan Standards.