I am employed at National Heritage Academies (NHA), an educational management organization based in Grand Rapids, Michigan, where I work as a Grants Associate. I assist several of the company's Michigan-based public school academies with their management of state and federal programs such as Title I and 31a, among others. My responsibilities include advising schools on effective, research-based intervention strategies, providing guidance to school leadership on Federal and State guidelines and regulations, assisting schools with the acquisition of grants and grant-funded investments, and the general management of Federal and State grants.

Additionally, I have been a participating member of school quality reviews, the goal of which is to provide schools with meaningful feedback about the strengths and needs of their programs based on data collected through onsite visits to the school. I have also worked with a number of schools as they have implemented research-based school improvement process activities, and I have assisted in school improvement plan and schoolwide plan development, comprehensive needs assessments, the identification of and development of schoolwide reform strategies, and school improvement evaluation efforts. I find great personal reward in the opportunity to work with schools as they implement Title I programming, and I am dedicated to the mission of assisting schools in their efforts to better serve children in the State of Michigan through schoolwide programs.
