Risk Factor Definition

Child Risk Factor	Definition/Documentation	Discussion
1. Extremely-low family income	Definition: Below 200% of federal poverty level (FPL). Documentation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Document gross income. • Copy of income verification on file: previous year's tax forms, paycheck stub, DHS child care verification form, subsidized meal form including income calculation, or staff signature verifying family produced the document and income was verified. • Include income of family members legally responsible for support of child. • See Implementation Manual, Sections 2 and 3, for additional information. 	Children living in families who are income-eligible for Head Start are referred to Head Start. This risk factor category is reserved for children eligible for Head Start who cannot be served in Head Start, and those just over the Head Start income guideline. Extremely-low family income is associated with inability to access many services and necessities that impact children's health, development, and learning. This risk factor counts as two risk factors when prioritizing children for enrollment.
2. Low-family income	Definition: Between 200% and 300% of FPL. Documentation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • See above. 	Families at this economic level cannot afford high-quality preschool experiences for their children. In conjunction with at least one other risk factor, this impacts the child's chances for school success.
3. Diagnosed disability or identified developmental delay	Definition: Child is eligible for special education services or child's developmental progress is less than that expected for his/her chronological age, or chronic health issues cause development or learning problems. Documentation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Referral or diagnosis from physical or mental health system or provider, or other early childhood program • Early On[®] transition referral at age three • Special education referral; developmental concerns noted, but not eligible for services • Individualized Education Plan (IEP) • Screening assessment results combined with professional or parental referral • Specific diagnosis on health form 	A child may be eligible because of a specific diagnosis or significant delay resulting in an Individualized Education Program (IEP). Developmental progress may be less than expected in one or more developmental domains (cognitive, social, emotional, physical), or child was eligible for Part C of IDEA (Early On[®]) services, but not Part B, 619 (i.e., not eligible for early childhood special education services, but at risk of becoming special education eligible). Child has health issues, including high lead level, that have a high probability of resulting in a developmental delay or learning difficulty, although not yet detectable. Physician referral, special education referral, developmental screening, or parent report may indicate delay. Parental report of developmental concern or chronic health concern should be referred to the local intermediate school district for observation and/or evaluation and recommendation.
4. Severe or challenging behavior	Definition: Child has been expelled from preschool or child care center. Documentation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Exclusion from other preschool/child care programs. • Social services or medical referrals. • Parent interview questions/report. • Legal report or restraining order. • Staff documentation on home visits or other contacts. 	Child's behavior has prevented participation in another group setting or mental health professional has referred. Interview question: "Does anyone in the household hit or throw things when he/she is angry?"
