US-131 and I-96 in Kent County will need major reconstruction over the next 20 years. Stakeholder and public involvement will play an important role in project decisions, from concept to completion. As a first step, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) is evaluating various transportation issues in the corridors, preliminary environmental impacts, and funding constraints. The PEL study will evaluate preservation, operational and capacity improvement options, and identify project segments for potential future consideration and further analysis. Please bring your issues, ideas and concerns to this open house-format meeting. Thank you.
