Circular No. 23 – Depression-Era Agencies

During the Great Depression a number of state and federal programs were established to help Michiganians cope with the consequences of widespread unemployment and dislocation. Some evidence of this assistance can be found in records at the Archives of Michigan, as revealed in the following descriptions.

Civilian Conservation Corps

On March 31, 1933, the Emergency Employment Act was signed, thereby authorizing President Roosevelt to sign Executive Order 6101 on April 5, 1933. This order established the Emergency Conservation Work (ECW) as an independent agency. Its purpose was to provide employment for young men in the performance of useful conservation work and public service. The ECW was succeeded on June 28, 1937, by the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC). The CCC, in turn, was discontinued on June 30, 1943.
