Purpose of This Document

Thanks to the efforts of various State, Local, and Federal agencies and organizations, as well as bus operators themselves, Michigan school buses and Michigan's motor coach industry have an excellent safety record- bus passengers are much safer on a bus than in the average passenger car.

However, bus accidents do happen- the purpose of the Moving Kids Safely campaign and this guide is to encourage the use of safe bus companies to transport schoolchildren to and from sporting events, field trips and extracurricular activities.

Deciding Between a School Bus or a Motor Coach

You have planned a school activity trip, and now you need to find the most appropriate means of transportation. Safety must be your first concern. According to a 2002 study by the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences, schoolchildren are safest in buses – school buses or motorcoaches. Any of these is significantly safer than transporting school children in vans or other passenger motor vehicles.

There are a number of important points to consider in making your decision. While cost is an important issue, it should not be the primary consideration. We have listed some questions and information to help you decide the type of bus that could meet your needs.

The decision as to whether you use a school bus or a motorcoach should be made after a full review and understanding of a wide variety of factors. This includes issues relating to time, distance, comfort, geography, and several other issues. What follows are specific questions and information about motorcoaches and school buses that you should consider.

1. What are your current Federal/State/Local regulations/policies/guidelines concerning the types of buses to be used for school activity trips?

Read, understand and follow any applicable regulations, policies or guidelines.

2. How long is the trip in terms of hours? Will the driver be able to complete the trip within a normal workday (no more than 10 hours of driving or 15 hours of duty, including any non-driving responsibilities)? Will you need to arrange for relief drivers at locations along the trip?

If a trip is interstate, commercial carriers are typically more familiar with shuttling drivers for longer distances.

3. Will the trip require students to have baggage or equipment? Where will this baggage be stored during the trip? (It should not be kept in the aisles or stacked in empty seats -- both of those practices are unsafe).

Many school buses have no external storage capacity. Motorcoaches generally have larger storage capacities for luggage and equipment than school buses. External storage capacity may, or may not, be better than transporting luggage or equipment in a separate vehicle.

4. Is the trip of such a time length that plans need to be made for rest stops and meal stops? What is the range of motorcoaches and school buses? Will the bus have to refuel en route? Are safe/clean facilities available along the planned route for rest stops?

Many motorcoaches are equipped with rest room facilities that can be used while the vehicle is in operation. School buses do not have such facilities.

In either type of vehicle, plans for meal stops may have to be considered. If a meal stop is necessary, passengers could use available rest room facilities, and school buses could also be refueled.

5. Is the bus properly equipped for the intended trip? A highway trip over mountains requires different transmission ratios than local routes over flat terrain. A longer trip may suggest more comfortably designed passenger seats, air ride seat for the driver, and air ride suspension for the vehicle.

Generally, motorcoaches are more comfortable for drivers and passengers on long trips. The performance capacity (hill climbing and braking) of the vehicle must be appropriate for the terrain. Importantly, all safety equipment must be in proper operating condition.

6. While at the destination, will the bus (and its contents) be in an area where it will be secure from theft or vandalism?

External storage areas on a motorcoach or on a school bus are usually lockable.

7. Passenger comfort- school buses generally do not have air conditioning, restrooms, or baggage compartments to store luggage and band equipment beneath the bus.
8. Michigan School bus speed limits are generally lower than motorcoaches- 50 mph vs. 70 mph.
9. Is the school adequately insured for this activity trip?

This question deals with the school, not the carrier. In the event of a crash, where the bus driver is "at fault", it is in your best interest to know you are adequately insured. If a district school bus is used, the school district will have insurance. For a motorcoach or school bus company, definitely determine their level of insurance coverage before hiring them. Interstate motor carriers are required to maintain $5 million of liability coverage.

If you choose a motorcoach, use the information in FMCSA's "Keeping Kids Safe" brochure. Please visit their website at www.fmcsa.dot.gov.

If you choose a school bus, check with your local school transportation director to make arrangements. Be sure to raise all of the questions above.

Interstate and Intrastate Bus Companies

The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration exercises jurisdiction over the interstate operations of for-hire motorcoach companies and contractor school bus fleets, when those buses are used for extracurricular activities. Interstate companies must register for a USDOT number and if for-hire, for interstate authority. The Safersys.org web site, and other FMCSA web based resources, supply information only for interstate companies.

Michigan has adopted the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations by reference, so intrastate only operations must comply with the same basic set of safety regulations. However, intrastate companies are not required to obtain a USDOT number, or federal for-hire authority. Interstate companies based in Michigan, and intrastate companies must register for passenger transportation with the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Non Profit Organizations and Private Buses

Churches are not required to obtain authority and licensing if they are used solely to transport church members or for uncompensated transportation of passengers. However, if the church collects fees or donations for transportation services, then the church bus is subject to the same registration, licensing and safety regulatory requirements as for-hire motorcoach operations.

There are many individuals who illegally offer charter bus services using privately owned buses. Any bus transportation that involves any type of payment must be registered and authorized with the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (in interstate commerce), and the Michigan Department of Transportation (Michigan based companies in interstate or intrastate commerce).

Hiring Bus Companies for Extracurricular Trips

Using a list of pre-qualified bus companies for transporting students to and from extracurricular activities is the simplest way to assure uniformity throughout a State, county, or school. Check with transportation coordinators to see if such a list has been developed. Whether or not you are working from a list of pre-qualified bus companies, the FMCSA also recommends that you verify the following information:

Bus Company Checklist

- Does the company have legal Federal and State authority to operate a charter bus service? Federal authority may be verified by checking a USDOT or MC authority number at www.safersys.org. Carriers authorized for interstate travel must have an MC number, the status of which can be verified from the "Licensing and Insurance" link on the company's Safersys summary information page. Additionally, the State of Michigan, Michigan Department of Transportation, issues "Certificates of Authority to Operate" to bus companies offering charter service (See Attachment A1). Michigan authorized companies are listed at:

<http://www.mdot.state.mi.us/ptd/licensedcarriers/carriers.cfm?type=B>

Note that valid licensing to operate does not necessarily mean that a company's operations are in compliance with safety regulations.

- Has the company received a Safety Compliance Review? If yes, what is the company's current Safety Rating? Carrier review histories and Safety Ratings can be checked at: <http://www.safersys.org>. (See Attachment A2)
- Does the company have a poor SAFESTAT ranking? A score of 75 or higher in any of the Safety Evaluation Areas indicates a poor record of compliance for that factor. Select the "Safestat Results" link from the company's Safersys carrier snapshot to get detailed SAFESTAT information. (See Attachment A3)
- Does the company have a driver drug and alcohol testing program that complies with USDOT regulations? Carriers must conduct pre-employment drug tests on all drivers, and random, post-accident and reasonable cause drug and alcohol tests. Note that access to individual test results is restricted for privacy reasons- ask for a description of the carrier's programs, policy statements, and written certification of compliance with the USDOT rules.
- Does the company obtain a motor vehicle records check for new drivers, and for each of its current drivers annually? This report indicates the driver's current license status, and lists traffic convictions. While access to these records is restricted due to privacy reasons, ask for the company's policies on obtaining and reviewing the license status reports, and the intervals at which they are obtained.
- Can the carrier produce proof of the required $5 million of public liability insurance? (See Attachment A4). Verify active insurance at the FMCSA or MDOT websites mentioned above.
- Does the company subcontract with others for equipment and/or drivers? If so, what is the name of the second bus company and its USDOT number?
- Does the company have notification procedures for roadside emergencies and breakdowns? Is the driver equipped with a wireless communications device?
- Can the company provide references for previous charters?

Bus Driver Checklist

The best defense against a life-endangering incident is a well-qualified, healthy, and rested driver. While motor coach operations, and contract school bus companies that engage in extracurricular trips must maintain an extensive set of driver qualification documents, drivers are also required to carry certain proofs of qualification and compliance with hours of service limits at all times when operating a bus for-hire.

- A current Commercial Drivers License, with a "P" endorsement for passenger transportation. (See Attachment B1)
- A current valid medical certificate. Medical certificates are marked with an expiration date. (See Attachment B2)
- The driver's logbook updated to his most recent change of duty status (if operating more than 100 miles from the driver's normal work location). (See Attachment B3)
- Will your trip be completed within the legal limit of 10 driving hours (since the driver's last 8 consecutive hours off-duty)? If not, will there be a second driver or overnight rest stop scheduled to legally complete the trip?
- In addition to the 10 hour limit, a bus driver may not drive after working (driving or other on-duty time) 15 hours since his last 8 consecutive hours off duty. A bus driver cannot legally drive after working 60 hours in a 7 consecutive day period, or 70 hours in an 8 consecutive day period. Ask the driver for his "available hours" to ensure sufficient legal time to complete your trip.
- Is the driver knowledgeable of company notification procedures for roadside emergencies and breakdowns? Is the driver equipped with a cell phone or other means of communications in the event of an incident?

Vehicle Checklist

Verify that the bus that arrives to pick up passengers is from the company that was contracted for the trip. If the vehicle is not from that company, ensure that the vehicle is from a valid subcontractor of the originally contracted motorcoach operator.

- A bus operated by an interstate for-hire operator should be marked with the company name, and USDOT number. Intrastate only for-hire buses should display a company name. Both interstate and intrastate for-hire motorcoaches must display a "Registered Motor Bus" decal (See Attachment C1).
- Has the bus received an annual inspection by the Michigan Department of Transportation, or the Michigan State Police? All for-hire motorcoaches based in Michigan must receive an annual inspection by the Michigan Department of Transportation. Buses that pass the annual inspection receive the "Registered Motor Bus" decal. (See Attachment C1). The Michigan State Police inspects all school buses, including those of fleet contractors, and has it's own decal for buses that have passed inspection.
- Have the bus driver explain the safety equipment and features of the bus, including the standee line (line painted on the bus aisle, just to the right and rear of the driver's seat) and emergency exits.
- Does the bus that comes to meet the trip have any obvious mechanical problems such as burned out lights, bald tires, obvious leaks, broken glass, broken seats, or inoperative heating, air conditioning, or toilets?
- Is the aisle clear of bags and equipment at all times, so that evacuation would not be hindered in an emergency?

This document is not intended to be a comprehensive guide to all of the considerations that should be taken into account when selecting transportation for extracurricular activities. For further information, consult the list of contacts and organization websites below.

SafeStat calculates a SafeStat score to rank carriers in descending order by their safety status (i.e. a carrier with the highest SafeStat score is the first ranked carrier in terms of poor safety status). SafeStat does not assign SafeStat scores to all carriers. To obtain a SafeStat Score, a carrier must be deficient in at least two different Safety Evaluation Areas (SEAs). SEA values range from 0 (best) to 100 (worst). A SEA with a value from 75 to 100 is defined as deficient (highlighted in BOLD type). SEA Values that are less than 75 are not used in the calculation of a SafeStat Score.

★ You must carry a minimum of $5,000,000 in liability insurance. This is typically done through a primary policy (Sample A) and an excess or secondary policy (Sample B). Please note the boxes that are marked on each policy. It is possible that you may only have one policy for the entire $5,000,000 amount, in which case your certificate would resemble Sample A with the $5,000,000 amount reflected.
