

2009 Summit Held October 12-14, 2009

Putting Our Plans Into Action

The 2009 Summit Emergency Management Conference was held October 12-14 at the Grand Traverse Resort in Acme, Michigan.

Focusing on “Putting Our Plans Into Action”, the conference gave attendees the opportunity to expand and refresh their expertise by coming together to discuss a variety of projects, challenges, and new initiatives.

The conference presented a diverse line-up of topics, including effective leadership, urban search and rescue, the Hope College Norovirus outbreak, disaster services, hazard mitigation, and pandemic preparedness.

Instituted for the first time, the conference also offered a unique workshop for spouses and guests of attendees. The workshop provided them with an understanding of the types of stresses involved in emergency response and how they can help to reduce stress.

Overall, the 2009 Summit served as a tremendous opportunity for attendees to learn, grow, observe, and become enriched with greater knowledge and perspective in the many aspects of emergency management.
