

The Michigan State Police Crime Reporting Section will be hosting a Crime Conference at the Michigan State Police Training Academy in Lansing, Michigan.

Summary

The purpose of this conference is to understand the Michigan Incident Crime Reporting System (MICR) and the role each agency plays in identifying state and national crime issues.

The conference will include resource information regarding new initiatives that will affect the way agencies collect and use data and legislative changes requiring updates to the MICR system.

The agenda also offers crime topics of interest for law enforcement personnel, as well as displays of vendor records management systems.

Who Will Be Present?

The target audience will include law enforcement chiefs, officers, managers, and agency clerks.

Vendors who have record management systems in Michigan will be invited to attend.
