In 2015, Michigan had one Trooper killed in the line of duty. This Trooper's death is not classified as a LEOKA per the Federal Bureau of Investigation's guidelines; however, Michigan wishes to pay tribute to this Trooper. Here is his story.

Trooper Chad Wolf was on motorcycle patrol and traveling northbound in the right lane of Dixie Highway and crossing over southbound I-75 when a vehicle towing an empty trailer traveling in the left lane quickly changed lanes in an attempt to access the I-75 entrance ramp around 6:30 a.m. As the vehicle changed lanes, it struck Trooper Wolf's motorcycle. Trooper Wolf was dragged for several miles on I-75 before the driver pulled over at a rest area in Springfield Township, where the driver found Trooper Wolf still alive and beneath the trailer.

Trooper Wolf was rushed to Genesys Regional Medical Center in Grand Blanc Township, where he died later the same day. Trooper Wolf became the 52nd state trooper to die in the line of duty. Trooper Wolf served with the Michigan State Police for seven years.

End of Watch: August 28, 2015
