Reports Converted from NetRMS to AICS

Converted unmodified reports are easily recognizable as: the "Sub" unit displayed will be "XX"; the narratives will be in the modified NetRMS format; and the Reviewers initials will be "ZZZ"

Closed converted reports that remain Closed do not require any action by the user. The attached procedures are for those converted reports that are going to be supped.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORTS -

The following quick procedure will need to be completed when adding a supplemental report to any NetRMS report that was converted into AICS and prior to any new narratives being typed if the below conditions are met.

If a converted NetRMS report into AICS needs a new Supp report added after the conversion process, and the report contains any of the following: Victim, Offender, Arrestee, or the report contains property for the File Classes of 23001, 23002, 23003, 23005, 23006, 23007, 24001, 27000, 29000, 30001, 30002, or 30003, the user will need to follow the attached procedures/screen shots.

If the above does not apply to the new Supplemental report, then a simple narrative can be completed and marked Ready for Review without following the attached procedures.

Converted NetRMS reports into AICS will trigger AICS edits/error messages including MICR requirements/edits that may need to be corrected by the user when the reports are checked Ready for Review. The following outlines the procedure that will greatly minimize if not eliminate the above edits/error messages presented to the user. All converted reports sent to MICR will appear as a new report and not an update to the previous MICR submitted NetRMS report. All MICR data duplication will be handled manually at CJIC and is transparent to the user.

Please telephone the AICS help desk at 517-322-5042 or Phylena Kline, Tpr. Jim Ellis at 517-336-6150 with questions or concerns.

- 5. All converted property was converted to Miscellaneous. Depending upon the File Class the property items may have to be Deleted from the Miscellaneous property screen and re-entered on the appropriate property screen for that item, see below caption.

If property is left as Miscellaneous without AICS errors proceed to Step 6.

The screenshot shows the A.I.C.S. - Property Segment - [Miscellaneous] interface. At the top, there is a menu bar with options: File, Print, Screens, Search, Actions, Help, and the date/time: Thu, Jul 26, 2007 (1300). Below the menu bar is a toolbar with buttons: Transmit - F11, Back - Ctrl+B, PreFill - F5, Close - F4, Clear - F3, TEST, and Ready. The main form area contains several input fields: Action (set to INQ), Incident (164), a hyphenated field (0003181 - 06), Sub (XX), ORI (MI6416400), and Sys (0001). Below these are dropdown menus for Class Type (27 - Miscellaneous) and Reason For Entry (Stolen). A text area labeled 'Miscellaneous Information' contains the text: 'D:2000 Gray Pont Grand PrixV:2000GrayPontiacGrand PrixQYJ655SN:1G2WJ52J7YF149867ST:MI'. To the left of this text area are fields for Prop Status (01), Lab Number, Date/Time Stole, Date/Time Recd, and Seizing Off First. A callout box with a blue border and a pointer to the text area contains the following text: 'All Property was converted into the Miscellaneous property screen. If your File Class is a: 23001, 23002, 23003, 23004, 23005, 23006, 23007, 24001, 27000, 29000, 30001, 30002, or 30003 you may be required to re-enter the particular piece of Property into the proper Property item screen that corresponds to you File Class - Drug, Vehicle, Securities, Gun...etc. i.e. If the file class is 2400-1 then remove the Vehicle from Miscellaneous Property and re-enter it on the Vehicle Property Screen.' At the bottom of the interface, there are several buttons: First, Next, Prev, Last, Prop Journal, Forfeiture, Final Dispo, and Property Search.
