Training Announcement

Virginia Tech Massacre

The Michigan State Police Training Academy is hosting a seminar presented by Mr. John Giduck, of Archangel Group, Ltd.'s. Mr. Giduck is a senior consultant, instructor, and author of Terror at Beslan. He will be presenting a briefing on The Virginia Tech Massacre (VT). This briefing examines the evolution of tactics in school attacks committed by disenfranchised and disaffected American citizens. Mr. Giduck provides highlights and details of the most recent major attacks – from Columbine to Bailey (CO), Nickel Mines (PA), and ultimately VT. The spectrum of extreme tactical threats to schools is presented with an analysis of the elements of each to help schools and law enforcement create a predictive model of behavior for students, citizens, and response. With the attack at VT being the most recent and resulting in the greatest number injured and killed, complete details of the manner in which Seung-Hui Cho studied these prior school assaults, adapted his tactics, carried out his assault plan, and the police response are provided, in addition to photos and floor plans.
