Designing a flag from the country I was born in. This project is part of the larger topic "Communicating About Me Through Art."

The Mexican flag has some difficult shapes to draw, but is divided into three main sections.

Inside the envelope, which have been saved from the landfill, is a wish for the world, something positive.

About the Cuban flag, which is where I was born, but I live in the U.S. now. So I decided to change the colors of the flag so they combined something of the U.S. I learned about myself, and how to communicate using lines, shapes, colors, textures, & space.

Born - Cuba
