PART 1: PROTECTED ACTIVITIES (Check all that apply to your business in the current year.)

1. Soliciting orders for sales by advertising.
2. Soliciting orders by an employee or representative of the entity so long as the individual does not, for the benefit of the entity, maintain or use any office or other place of business in Michigan other than an "in-home" office.
3. Carrying samples and promotional materials only for display or distribution without charge or other consideration.
4. Furnishing and setting up display racks and advising customers on the display of the company's products without charge or other consideration.
5. Providing automobiles to sales personnel for their use in conducting protected activities.
6. Passing orders, inquiries and complaints on to the home office.
7. Missionary sales activities; i.e., the solicitation of indirect customers for the company's goods. For example, a manufacturer's solicitation of retailers to buy the manufacturer's goods from the manufacturer's wholesale customers is protected if such solicitation activities are otherwise protected.
8. Coordinating shipment or delivery without payment or other consideration and providing information relating thereto either prior or subsequent to the placement of an order.
9. Checking of customers' inventories, without a charge therefore, for re-order (but not for other purposes, such as quality control).
10. Recruiting, training or evaluating sales personnel, including occasionally using homes, hotels or similar places for meetings with sales personnel.
11. Mediating customer complaints when the purpose is solely for improving the relationship between the sales personnel and the customer and facilitating requests for orders.
12. Owning, leasing, using or maintaining (i) personal property for use in the employee's or representative's "in-home" office, and/or (ii) an automobile that is solely limited to the conducting of protected activities. For example, the use of personal property such as a cellular telephone, facsimile machine, copier, personal computer and computer software will not subject the out-of-state business to the Business Income Tax so long as the use of these items is limited to the carrying on of protected solicitation.
