2009 STATISTICAL REPORT

INTRODUCTION

Since the 2000 edition of the MDOC Statistical Report, bound paper copies have no longer been produced and distributed. Instead, these annual statistical reports are published only on the official MDOC web site on the Internet. The MDOC home page web address is <http://www.michigan.gov/corrections>, and the Statistical Reports are located under the Publications & Information link.

The crime breakdowns in the core tables of the first three sections of the report regarding felony court dispositions, prison intake, and prison population are all based on the longer 10-character offense codes, as was first shown in the 1999 report. They are also sorted by offense code rather than by crime frequency or maximum term. Since the new sort order keeps sequential offense codes together, similar crimes that have identical maximum penalties are no longer consolidated. This new level of detail provides much richer information than in the past.

However, the additional detail also makes the crime tables much longer; the reader must be careful to watch for related offense codes when attempting to examine the data for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes now appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B--) in each crime table because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

Summary narrative reflecting on the Department's observations about what the data show has again been kept to a minimum, as the Department now produces a separate Annual Report for that purpose.

Section Overview

This report is divided into ten major sections (A-J).

- Section A, Court Dispositions, contains data on statewide felony court dispositions broken down by offense, sentencing jurisdiction, and type of disposition.
- Section B, Prison Commitments, provides prison intake data by the number and characteristics of new prisoners received by the Department.
- Section C, Prisoner Population, presents descriptions of Michigan's correctional facilities and statistics regarding the characteristics of the prisoner population.
- Section D, Parole Board, summarizes data on offender movement to parole and Parole Board activity and decisions, and examines the parole outcomes.
- Section E, Probation and Parole Supervision contains data and information regarding the community supervision programs and functions of the Department's Field Operations Administration (FOA).
- Section F, Department Operations, contains data and information about a variety of Department programs and administrative functions/operations. Section F contains the following subsections:

- Prisoner Program, Misconduct and Litigation Statistics
- Michigan State Industries
- Bureau of Health Care Services
- Department Expenditures and Personnel Summaries

- Section G, Michigan Prisoner ReEntry Initiative (MPRI), was a new section in 2005 and reflects the development of the statewide initiative by several stakeholders, one of whom is MDOC. The first year that prisoners were paroled to the community under this initiative was in 2005.
- Section H, Community ReEntry Programs, brings the remainder of the Community Residential Program under the umbrella of the Michigan Prisoner ReEntry Initiative, along with the Residential ReEntry Program, and the Intensive Detention ReEntry Program.
- Section I, Special Alternative Incarceration Program (SAI) is administered by the Correctional Facilities Administration with Cooper Street Correctional Facility serving administratively as the parent institution. SAI has been redesigned to operate under MPRI principles.
- Section J, Office of Community Corrections provides data regarding the utilization of community sanctions and services for non-violent offenders in order to reduce admissions to prison.

Court Dispositions

This section contains data on statewide felony court dispositions broken down by offense, sentencing jurisdiction and type of disposition. Offenders may have committed multiple offenses that the felony courts handle as a single court disposition or sentencing event. Both offender-based data and offense-based data have distinct uses that are not interchangeable, therefore, offender-based data is presented in the tables on pages A-2 through A-6 and offense-based data is presented in the tables beginning on pages A-7, A-29, A-41 and A-44.

The tables on pages A-2 through A-6 aggregate multiple offenses and/or disposition (sentencing) dates into offenders. In other words, offenders with multiple offenses and/or multiple dispositions, from the same sentencing county, were reported as follows:

- Offenses/Dispositions for the same offender that occurred three or more months apart were reported as separate disposition events. (It is possible that these separate events were combination events, as discussed in the next bullet.)
- Offenses/Dispositions for the same offender that occurred less than three months apart were aggregated together into one disposition event using the following sequence in order to report the most severe details for the disposition event:
 - The most severe disposition was reported (e.g., a disposition to prison was reported over a disposition to jail).

- If the dispositions were of equal severity, then the disposition with the longest minimum term was reported.
- If the dispositions and minimum terms were of equal severity, then the disposition with the longest maximum term was reported. (Minimum term is used as the first severity tie-breaker, since it represents the minimum penalty imposed by the judge based on the mitigating/aggravating facts of the offender's current criminal activity, whereas the maximum term represents the Legislature's statutory limitations on judicial discretion for the current criminal activity.)

The table on beginning on page A-2, shows the state-wide prison commitment rates of offenders for the current year and the previous fourteen years.

The table on page A-3 shows the court dispositions of offenders broken down by disposition type and by sentencing county circuit within each of the two Field Operations Administration (FOA) regions. The tables on pages A-4 through A-6 show the information in the table on page A-3 broken down by major crime categories (i.e., non-assaultive, drug and assaultive offenses). The series of tables on pages A-3 through A-6 are based on offenders, so multiple offenses/dispositions for the same offender are aggregated and reported per the above sequence.

The table beginning on page A-7 "2009 Criminal Court Dispositions by Offense and Type of Disposition — All Offenses," shows the court dispositions of offenses broken down by disposition type and offense. This series continues by breaking down the information into three subcategories: ". . . — Non-Assaultive Offenses" beginning on page A-29; ". . . — Drug Offenses" beginning on page A-41; and ". . . — Assaultive Offenses" beginning on page A-44. This series of tables is based on all offenses, so multiple offenses/dispositions for the same offender are reported individually by offense.

The crimes in the above series of tables starting on page A-7 are sorted by Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) numbers and Prosecuting Attorney's Coordinating Council (PACC) codes (the sort order used since 1999). Since this sort order keeps related codes together, similar crimes that have identical maximum penalties are not consolidated. This level of detail provides much richer information, but the reader must be careful to watch for related codes when attempting to examine the frequency and disposition pattern for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B--) because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

Prison Commitments

This section provides data on prison commitments and intake — the number and characteristics of prisoners receiving court commitments to the Department of Corrections (DOC).

The difference between commitments and intake is the exclusion of one category of commitments, called additional sentence imposed. Additional sentence imposed commitments are excluded from intake because rather than new offenders committed to the DOC, these are active prisoners who, while incarcerated receive an additional sentence, either because of a crime committed while incarcerated or because of later sentencing on a previously existing pending charge. Additional sentence imposed commitments do not represent additional prisoners but instead represent additional sentence time for known prisoners.

The tables and charts on page B-2 and B-3 show prison intake, excluding additional sentence imposed commitments, which show the volume of new prisoners committed to the DOC. All of the other tables and charts in this section include the additional sentence imposed commitments and show characteristics of all court commitments to the DOC.

The tables and charts on pages B-4 through B-8 summarize these characteristics — including age, race, gender, commitment type, and major crime type. New this year is the twenty year trend of these characteristics which show how these characteristics have changed over time.

The table beginning on page B-9, “2009 Commitments by Minimum Term Distribution — All Offenses,” shows the prison commitments broken down by offense and minimum sentence. This series continues by breaking down the information into three subcategories: “. . . — Non-Assaultive Offenses” beginning on page B-27; “. . . — Drug Offenses” beginning on page B-35; and “. . . — Assaultive Offenses” beginning on page B-38. The table beginning on page B-46 shows female intake broken down by offense and minimum sentence.

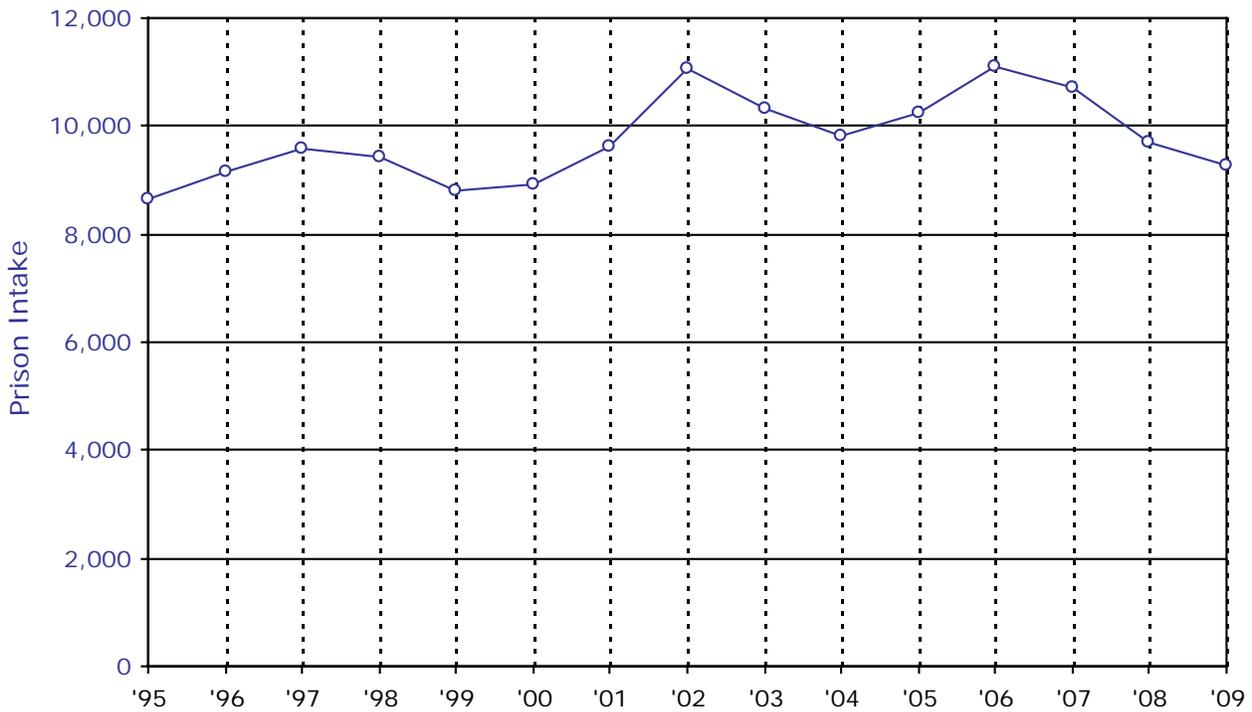

The offenses in the tables showing commitments by minimum term distribution are sorted by Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) numbers and Prosecuting Attorney’s Coordinating Council (PACC) codes (the sort order used since 1999). Since this sort order keeps sequential codes together, similar crimes are not consolidated. This level of detail provides much richer information, but the reader must be careful to watch for related codes when attempting to examine the prison intake frequency and minimum term distribution for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes now appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B--) because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

Reported Index Crimes and Prison Intake (Excluding "Additional Sentence Imposed")

Calendar Years 2002 - 2009

State index crime totals are calculated by combining actual figures with estimates of missing data, using an estimation process adapted from that used by the FBI. The MSP's estimation process is designed to help ensure an accurate portrayal of crime trends, and minimize fluctuations due to reporting discrepancies.

Year	Reported Index Crimes* (Estimated)	Prison Intake
2002	395,239	11,050
2003	384,162	10,311
2004	362,958	9,811
2005	371,345	10,239
2006	379,992	11,094
2007	359,479	10,714
2008	341,662	9,715
2009	329,556	9,292

* Index crimes include murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, motor vehicle theft and arson.
  Updated with 2009 reported index crimes when the data became available, 9/22/10.

*Sentences with Insufficient Information = 26.

Largest minimum term is reported. When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc. Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

NOTES: Be sure to check for related offense codes when examining a particular type of crime. They may or may not be in sequential order or even on the same page.

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

*Sentences with Insufficient Information = 8

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Prisoner Population

This section presents descriptions of Michigan's correctional facilities and statistics regarding the characteristics of the prisoner population.

The map on page C-2 shows the location of each Michigan prison and camp, as well as a geographic breakdown of the Correctional Facilities Administration (CFA) regions. The map is followed by a description of each facility starting on page C-3.

The chart on page C-14 shows a breakdown of the net operating capacity of the institutions and camps by security level.

On page C-15 the end-of-year institution and camp population from 1995 through 2009 is displayed.

The table on page C-16 shows total prisoner population, prison commitments and Michigan census data. The data is charted on page C-17 displaying trends in the prisoner population, prison commitments and Michigan census as far back as 1950.

Beginning on page C-18, the total prisoner population broken down by minimum sentence and offense is shown. The total population includes prisoners housed in institutions, camps, the SAI-Prison program and Community ReEntry Program.

The tables appearing on pages C-41 through C-65 show the prisoner population broken down by major crime categories (i.e., non-assaultive, drug and assaultive). The total female prisoner population broken down by minimum sentence and offense appears on page C-66.

The offenses in the tables showing total prisoner population by minimum term distribution are sorted by Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) numbers and Prosecuting Attorney's Coordinating Council (PACC) codes (the sort order used since 1999). Since this sort order keeps sequential codes together, similar crimes that have identical maximum penalties are not consolidated. This level of detail provides much richer information, but the reader must be careful to watch for related codes when attempting to examine the prison population frequency and minimum term distribution for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes now appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B--) because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

The tables on pages C-76 through C-81 summarize the 2009 total prisoner population broken down by age, race and location.

The movement of prisoners into and out of the institution and camp population during 2009 is summarized in the table on page C-82. To demonstrate the effect of prisoner movement on the size of the institution and camp population, the table reports only the movements onto and off of the institution/camp count. In other words, the table ignores movement types that do not affect the total count (e.g., movements between institutions). It also does not show prisoner movements that do not involve prison/camp locations (e.g., prisoner movements to parole from CRP locations).

The table on page C-83 shows the number of escapes from secure DOC custody from 2002 through 2009.

*Sentences with Insufficient Information = 378

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

NOTES: Be sure to check for related offense codes when examining a particular type of crime. They may or may not be in sequential order or even on the same page.

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

NOTES: Be sure to check for related offense codes when examining a particular type of crime. They may or may not be in sequential order or even on the same page.

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

*Prisoners with Insufficient Information = 21

Largest minimum term for each prisoner is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Escapes from Secure DOC Custody

Calendar Years 2002 - 2009

Escapes from secure DOC custody include any and all escapes from:

- CFA institutions and camps.
- CFA custody (i.e., while under CFA control, such as while in transit or hospitalized).
- Special Alternative Incarceration (for prisoners and probationers).
- Community ReEntry Program for CRP & parole violators.

Parole and Commutation Board

This section summarizes 2009 data on offender movement to parole, and Parole and Commutation Board activity and decisions. It also examines the parole outcomes of offenders who paroled in 1998-2006.

The table and chart on page D-2 show the total number of prisoner movements to parole each year from 1995 through 2009.

On page D-3, the table compares 2009 Parole and Commutation Board activity and decisions to that of the previous twenty years. The table on page D-4 provides more detail regarding the 2009 activity of the Parole and Commutation Board.

The table on page D-5 in this report was the product of work to re-engineer the tracking of offender outcomes following parole. The new effort began with tracking outcomes for a standardized two years (shorter only in the event of return to prison as a failure). This has since been extended to a standardized follow-up period of three years to meet legislative reporting requirements—thus eliminating the table tracking outcomes for a standardized two years. The table shows outcomes for several annual parole release cohorts to enable comparisons over time.

Once again, the table on page D-5 represents a change from what was reported on this subject in annual MDOC Statistical Reports prior to 2005; so further explanation is warranted. The genesis of the Michigan Prisoner Reentry Initiative (MRPI) – discussed in Section G – required a re-engineering of the old parole outcomes analysis methodology. The past table format was based on very old computer programming that tracked outcomes only until the parole terms expired. So, there were no controls on time at risk of failure in the tables because parole terms ranged from as short as a couple of months for parole-to-max cases to as long as four years for paroled lifers, while the most common parole terms are 18 to 24 months. Outcomes subsequent to the expiration of the parole terms were not reflected in the data.

The old production analysis that was generated by the data system for parole outcomes also provided only statewide results and could not be analyzed in greater depth than was present in the report tables. As the MPRI began to be planned and implemented, it quickly became apparent that a more robust method of outcome tracking would be needed. And that a bridge to the past would also be needed to enable new annual parole cohorts to be compared to older release years using a consistent methodology.

Calendar year 1998 was established as the baseline parole release year of the analysis for comparison with the outcomes of future annual parole cohorts. Calendar 1998 was selected as the baseline year because it was the most recent year that would provide a full four years of potential follow-up for an entire cohort year before the follow-up periods would reach into calendar year 2003 when the MPRI initiative began.

As can be seen from the table on page D-5, the current primary definition of failure continues to be return to prison as either a parole violator technical return or with a new sentence (although the latter can now occur after the parole term expired).

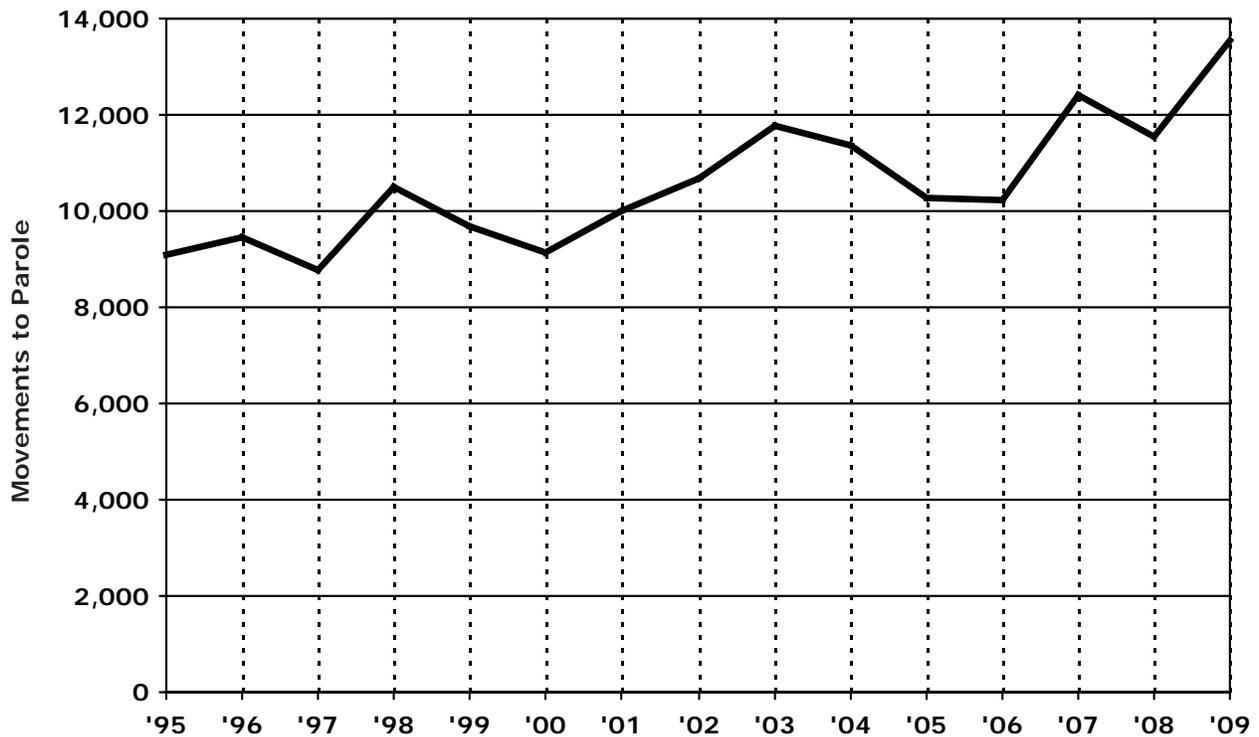

The table on page D-5 also shows offenders who were on parole absconder status at the end of the follow-up period. While on absconder status, parolees are obviously not succeeding at that point; but it is also important to note that they are not automatically headed back to prison. The determining factor in the disposition of a parole absconder is an assessment of offender risk. When risk is determined to be low (such as when an absconder is still employed and generally following parole rules, but failed to report), then the parole agent may continue to work with the case and impose local sanctions, possibly increase supervision of the case, and engage the community in service delivery designed to intervene in the behavior that led to the abscond and enable the absconder to become a successful parolee.

In the future, the Department will be working to gather data to expand the outcomes definition to include additional measures of re-offending such as arrests and convictions.

Probation and Parole Supervision

This section contains data and information regarding the supervision programs for probationers and parolees within the Department's Field Operations Administration (FOA).

FOA is responsible for the supervision of all adult felons on probation and parole. Selected parolees and probationers are also supervised on electronic monitoring.

In addition, FOA is responsible for administration and operation of the Department's residential reentry programs located in Tuscola and Lake Counties. These programs assist parolees with housing, employment, substance abuse treatment, and other adjustment problems. These programs are now included under the umbrella of the Michigan Prison ReEntry Program (MPRI), a collaborative effort between the Michigan Department of Corrections and the departments of Community Health, Labor and Economic Growth, Human Services, and numerous community partners.

Field operations are administered through Regional and Area offices (see the map on page E-2). The Metropolitan Region covers Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, and Washtenaw counties; and the Outstate Region covers the rest of the lower peninsula and all of the upper peninsula.

The table on page E-3 shows the number of parolees returned to prison for technical violations and new sentences, broken down by gender and year. This table also shows the number of parole revocation hearings held each year.

The charts on page E-4 present breakdowns of Field Operations personnel by type of offender supervised and by employee job classification. Another chart also displays a breakdown of Field Operations funds by type of offender supervised.

The charts on page E-5 show the distribution of investigations conducted by type, and a breakdown of the average number of offenders supervised by type. The average agent workload was 88.0 to 1 in 2009.

The chart on page E-6 displays the number of pre-sentence investigations conducted each year for the last ten years.

The charts on pages E-7 and E-8 show the average number of parolees and probationers under supervision for the last ten years.

- [1] PRE-SENTENCE INVESTIGATIONS: in-depth analysis of the individual and circumstances of the offense.
- [2] SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS: assignments completed at the request of the Governor, other states, the parole board, or the court.
- [3] PRE-PAROLE INVESTIGATIONS: prior to inmate release, living arrangements and job placement are investigated.
- [4] VIOLATION INVESTIGATIONS: reports prepared following a parole or probation violation.

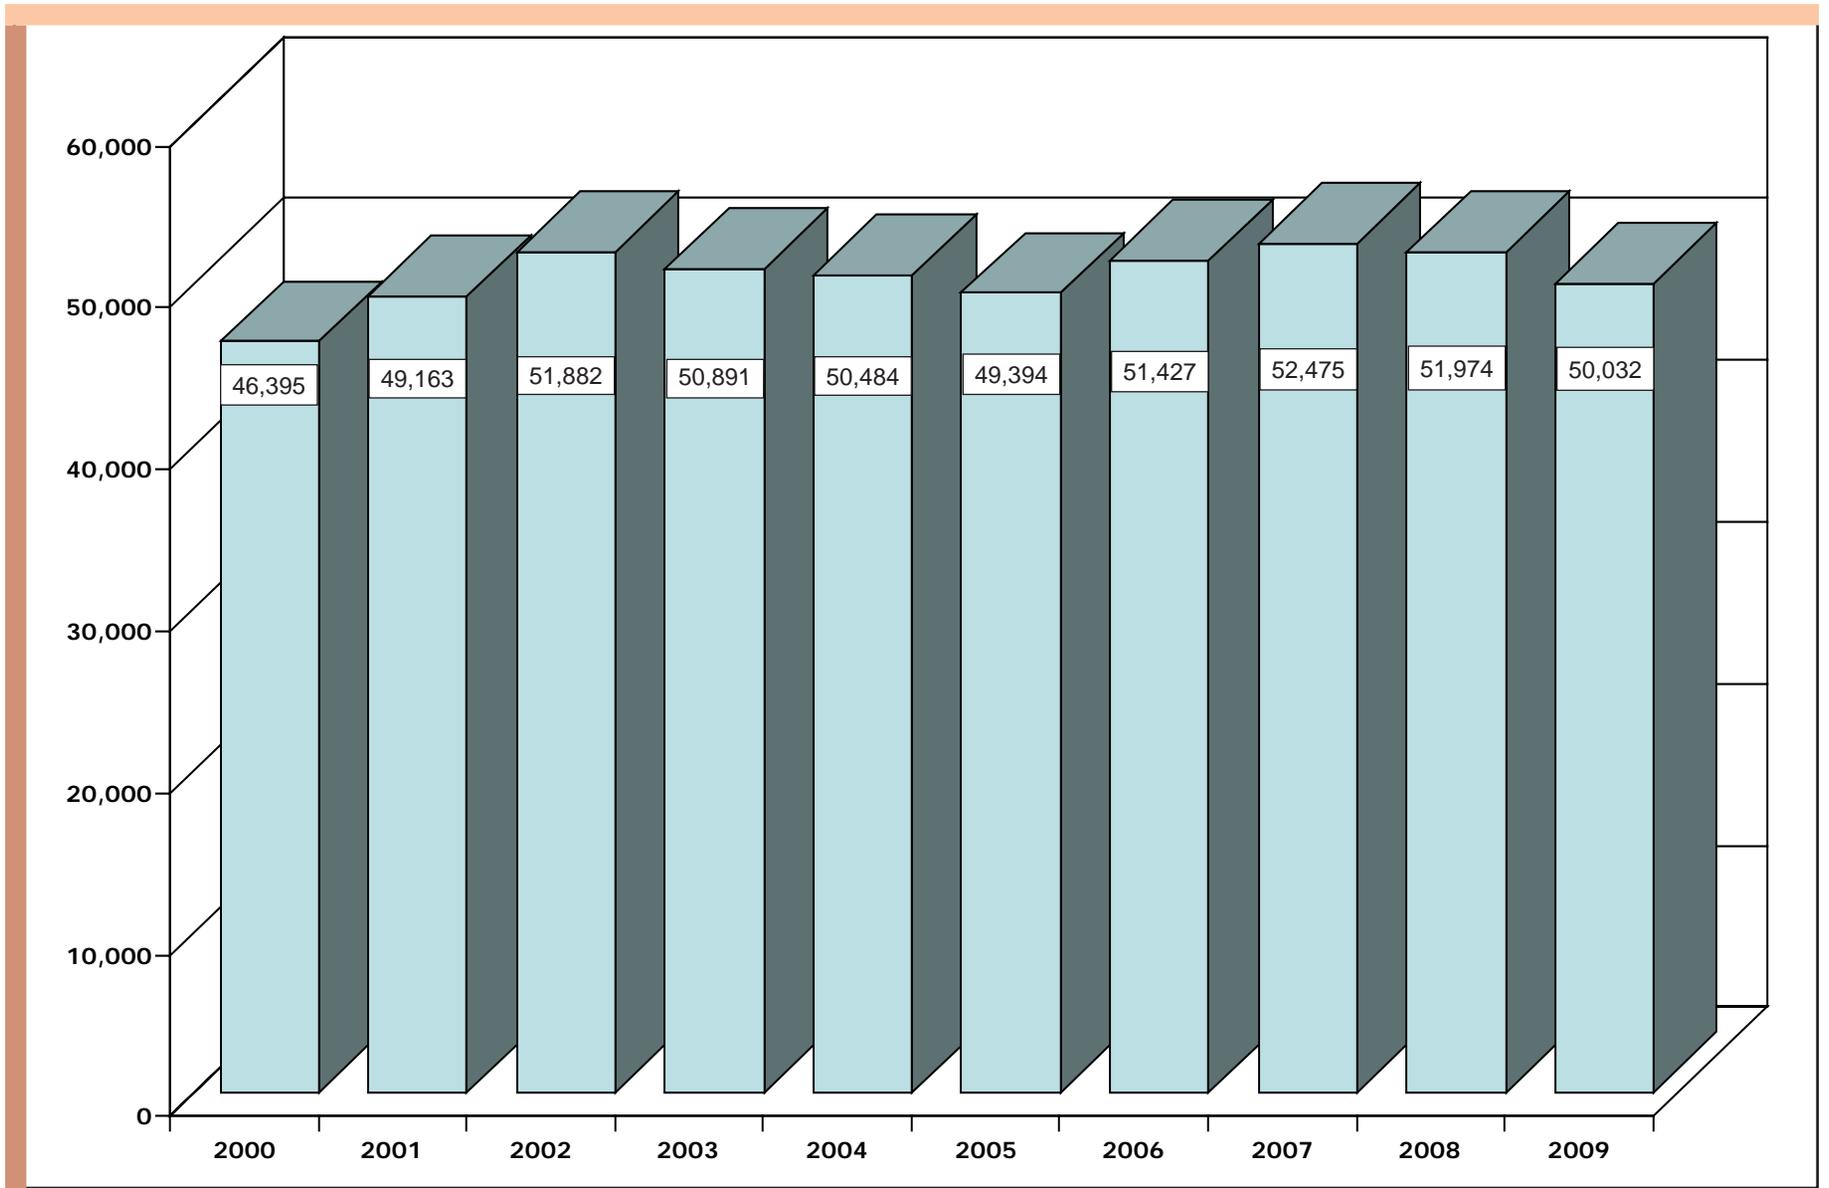

SUPERVISION - AVERAGE NUMBER OF OFFENDERS SUPERVISED = 78,264

Supervision is the process in which parole or probation agents work with offenders who are under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections (parole) or the jurisdiction of the Courts (probation, Holmes Youthful Trainee, and delayed sentences). The case numbers in the chart represent the average number of cases under supervision during the year.

Department Operations

This section contains data and information about a variety of Departmental programs and administrative functions, operations and services.

There are four subsections.

- Prisoner Program, Misconduct and Litigation Statistics
- Michigan State Industries
- Bureau of Health Care Services
- Department Expenditures and Personnel Summaries

Prisoner Program, Misconduct and Litigation Statistics

The table on page F-4 provides statistics regarding prisoner participation in religious services broken down by faith preference.

The number of prisoners enrolled in academic and vocational programs is represented in the table on page F-5. The education statistical reporting format was revised in 2005. The year-to-date (YTD) figures represent cumulative totals for FY 2008 - 2009, while the enrollment figures are based on numbers enrolled during the month of September 2009.

The table on page F-6 shows the number and disposition of misconduct charges, by location, that were issued against prisoners in 2009.

On page F-7 is a summary of the number of lawsuits filed against the Department, by category and year (2006 - 2009).

2009 Prisoner Faith Preferences

This table represents the number of approved religions in the MDOC facilities and the number of prisoners claiming each as their religious preference.

Faith Preference	Number of Participants	Percent

Bureau of Health Care Services

This section presents charts regarding the cost of health care services for prisoners. Services are provided by the Bureau of Health Care Services. The Bureau has two main goals:

- Provide cost-effective care.
- Provide quality care.

The charts on pages F-14 and F-15 summarize the Department's prisoner health care costs.

- On page F-14 is a table/graph combination showing costs per prisoner health care for FY 2000 through FY 2009. Further, the Health Care Expenditures Profile distinguishes between medical, dental and psychological services provided or controlled directly by the Department of Corrections versus mental health care costs provided directly by the Department of Community Health (DCH) for prisoners with serious mental illness.

- The chart on page F-15 shows a detailed breakdown of the trend of prisoner health care costs for FY 2000 through FY 2009 under direct control of the Department of Corrections, (i.e. excluding the DCH costs).

Michigan Prisoner ReEntry Initiative

The Michigan Prisoner ReEntry Initiative (MPRI), implemented in the summer of 2005, is a state-wide initiative, spearheaded by the Governor and supported by various state departments, local elected officials, and faith-based and community-based organizations in partnership with the Michigan Department of Corrections.

The VISION of the MPRI is that every inmate released from prison will have the tools needed to succeed in the community.

The MISSION of the MPRI is to reduce crime by implementing a seamless plan of services and supervision developed with each offender — delivered through state and local collaboration — from the time the offender enters prison through the offender's transition, reintegration, and aftercare in the community.

The GOALS of the MPRI are to:

- Promote public safety by reducing the threat of harm to persons and their property by offenders who have been released (re-entry) into respective communities.
- Increase success rates of offenders who transition from prison by fostering effective risk management and treatment programming, offender accountability, and community and victim participation.

THE THREE-PHASE, SEVEN-DECISION-POINT MPRI MODEL

The MPRI Model involves improved decision making at seven critical decision points in the three phases of the custody, release, and community supervision/discharge process.

PHASE ONE – GETTING READY

The institutional phase describes the details of events and responsibilities which occur during the offender's imprisonment from admission until the point of the parole decision and involves the first two major decision points:

1. Assessment and classification:

Measuring the offender's risks, needs, and strengths.

2. Inmate programming

Assignments to treatment programs that reduce risk, address need, and build on strengths.

PHASE TWO – GOING HOME

The transition to the community or re-entry phase begins approximately six months before the offender's target release date. In this phase, highly specific re-entry plans are organized that address housing, employment, and services to address addiction and mental illness. Phase Two involves the next two major decision points:

3. Inmate release preparation

Developing a strong, public-safety-conscious parole plan.

4. Release decision making:

Improving parole release guidelines.

PHASE THREE – STAYING HOME

The community and discharge phase begins when the inmate is released from prison and continues on community parole supervision until discharge. In this phase, it is the responsibility of the former inmate, human services providers, and the offender's network of community supports and mentors to assure continued success. Phase Three involves the final three major decision points of the transition process:

5. Supervision and services:

Providing flexible and firm supervision and services.

6. Revocation decision making:

Using graduated sanctions to respond to behavior.

7. Discharge and aftercare:

Determining community responsibility to "take over" the case.

The maps on pages G-4 through G-6 show the first round of eight pilot sites consisting of 18 counties, and the second round adding seven more counties. The last round brought all remaining counties onboard. Also, the maps show the counties to which the in-reach facilities release parolees. For each county or group of counties, a community coordinator was hired to seek community input in the development of a local Comprehensive Prisoner ReEntry Plan to help prepare each community for the re-entry of prisoners into their communities. The map on page G-7 brings us to the current status of the statewide MPRI sites and in-reach prisons.

The key to the MPRI Model is the development and use of Transition Accountability Plans (TAP) at critical phases in the prisoner transition process. The TAPs succinctly describe exactly what is expected for a successful re-entry process as illustrated by the chart on page G-8 .

Institutional Parole Agents begin the process of case management and TAP development. The TAP process begins soon after offenders enter prison.

The objective of the TAP process is to develop a seamless system of programming and service delivery ensuring that upon the prisoner's return to the community, appointments for needed services and 'real world' needs are met. Examples of these needs include:

- mental health treatment;
- substance abuse treatment;
- housing;
- financial assistance;
- identification documents;
- transportation;
- employment or vocational training; and
- family reunification and support, when appropriate.

TRACKING MPRI OUTCOMES

The follow up of MPRI-related offenders who are released to the community is being done by systematically tracking individual offender release cohorts since the MPRI is being implemented in stages to build toward the full MPRI Model. For example, the Intensive ReEntry Units (IRU's) that were implemented in 2005 were actually "precursors" to the MPRI because while they served as a testing ground for some initial MPRI practices, the full MPRI Model had not yet been implemented.

Similarly, the activity for the first and second rounds of official MPRI pilot sites and subsequent statewide implementation was concentrated on Phases II and III of the MPRI Model because the new, dynamic risk/needs assessment instrument (COMPAS) that is the linchpin of Phase I at the point of reception into prison was not fully implemented at the reception and guidance centers until October 2008. COMPAS is being used to develop TAPs at each In-Reach Facility to inform community-based planning. Thus, as each cohort of MPRI-related cases transitions to parole with the escalating benefit of the MPRI Model in place, it is expected that progressively improving recidivism outcomes will be apparent.

In recognition of variable failure rates among offenders with different characteristics, and in light of the fact that the prisoners chosen for the MPRI by the Parole and Commutation Board (PCB) tend to be moderate to high risk for re-offense, the Office of Research and Planning has developed matched comparisons, rather than just continuing to compare all cases to the overall baseline. While this complicated undertaking will continue to be refined, Office of Research and Planning analysts have already determined that county of release and a history of returns to prison as a parole violator (recidivism) are the two most significant factors identified so far in the differentiation between parole outcomes.

In the case of county of release, the differentiation is likely driven by local prosecutorial charging and plea bargaining practices as well as local issues such as economic/employment and housing prospects within depressed areas. The formal MPRI evaluation will eventually include examination of local community dynamics such as these.

In the case of history of prior parole failure, supplementary analysis of the 1998 baseline recidivism data shows that parolees who have a history of being returned to prison as parole violators (for either technical violations or new sentences) have a 24% greater likelihood of again failing on parole when next released, compared to parolees with no prior history of parole failure.

As proof of performance that the MPRI is targeting offenders who are otherwise likely to fail on parole, 51% of the MPRI cases paroled through December of 2009 had a history of prior parole failure, while only 35% of the 1998 baseline paroles had a history of prior parole failure. Thus, when controlling for history of prior parole failure the overall MPRI recidivism outcomes through May of 2010 show a 33% relative rate reduction in total returns to prison so far when compared against the 1998 baseline, or an absolute reduction off 2,793 fewer returns to prison.

It is also important to reiterate that these outcome results are based on preliminary tracking methodology. They represent neither statistically significant findings derived from rigorous evaluation, nor definitive demonstration of the cause and effect of MPRI on offender success. While very encouraging, these preliminary results will eventually have to be subjected to more statistical controls and a more sophisticated array of methodologies, as well as broader outcomes measures (e.g., intermediate outcomes such as offender employment, and additional recidivism outcomes such as re-arrests and re-convictions), and, of course, full completion of standardized, uniform follow-up periods by each of the individual cohorts.

The table on page G-9 shows the more detailed status and recidivism levels of the first 11 offender release cohorts as of the end of February 2009.

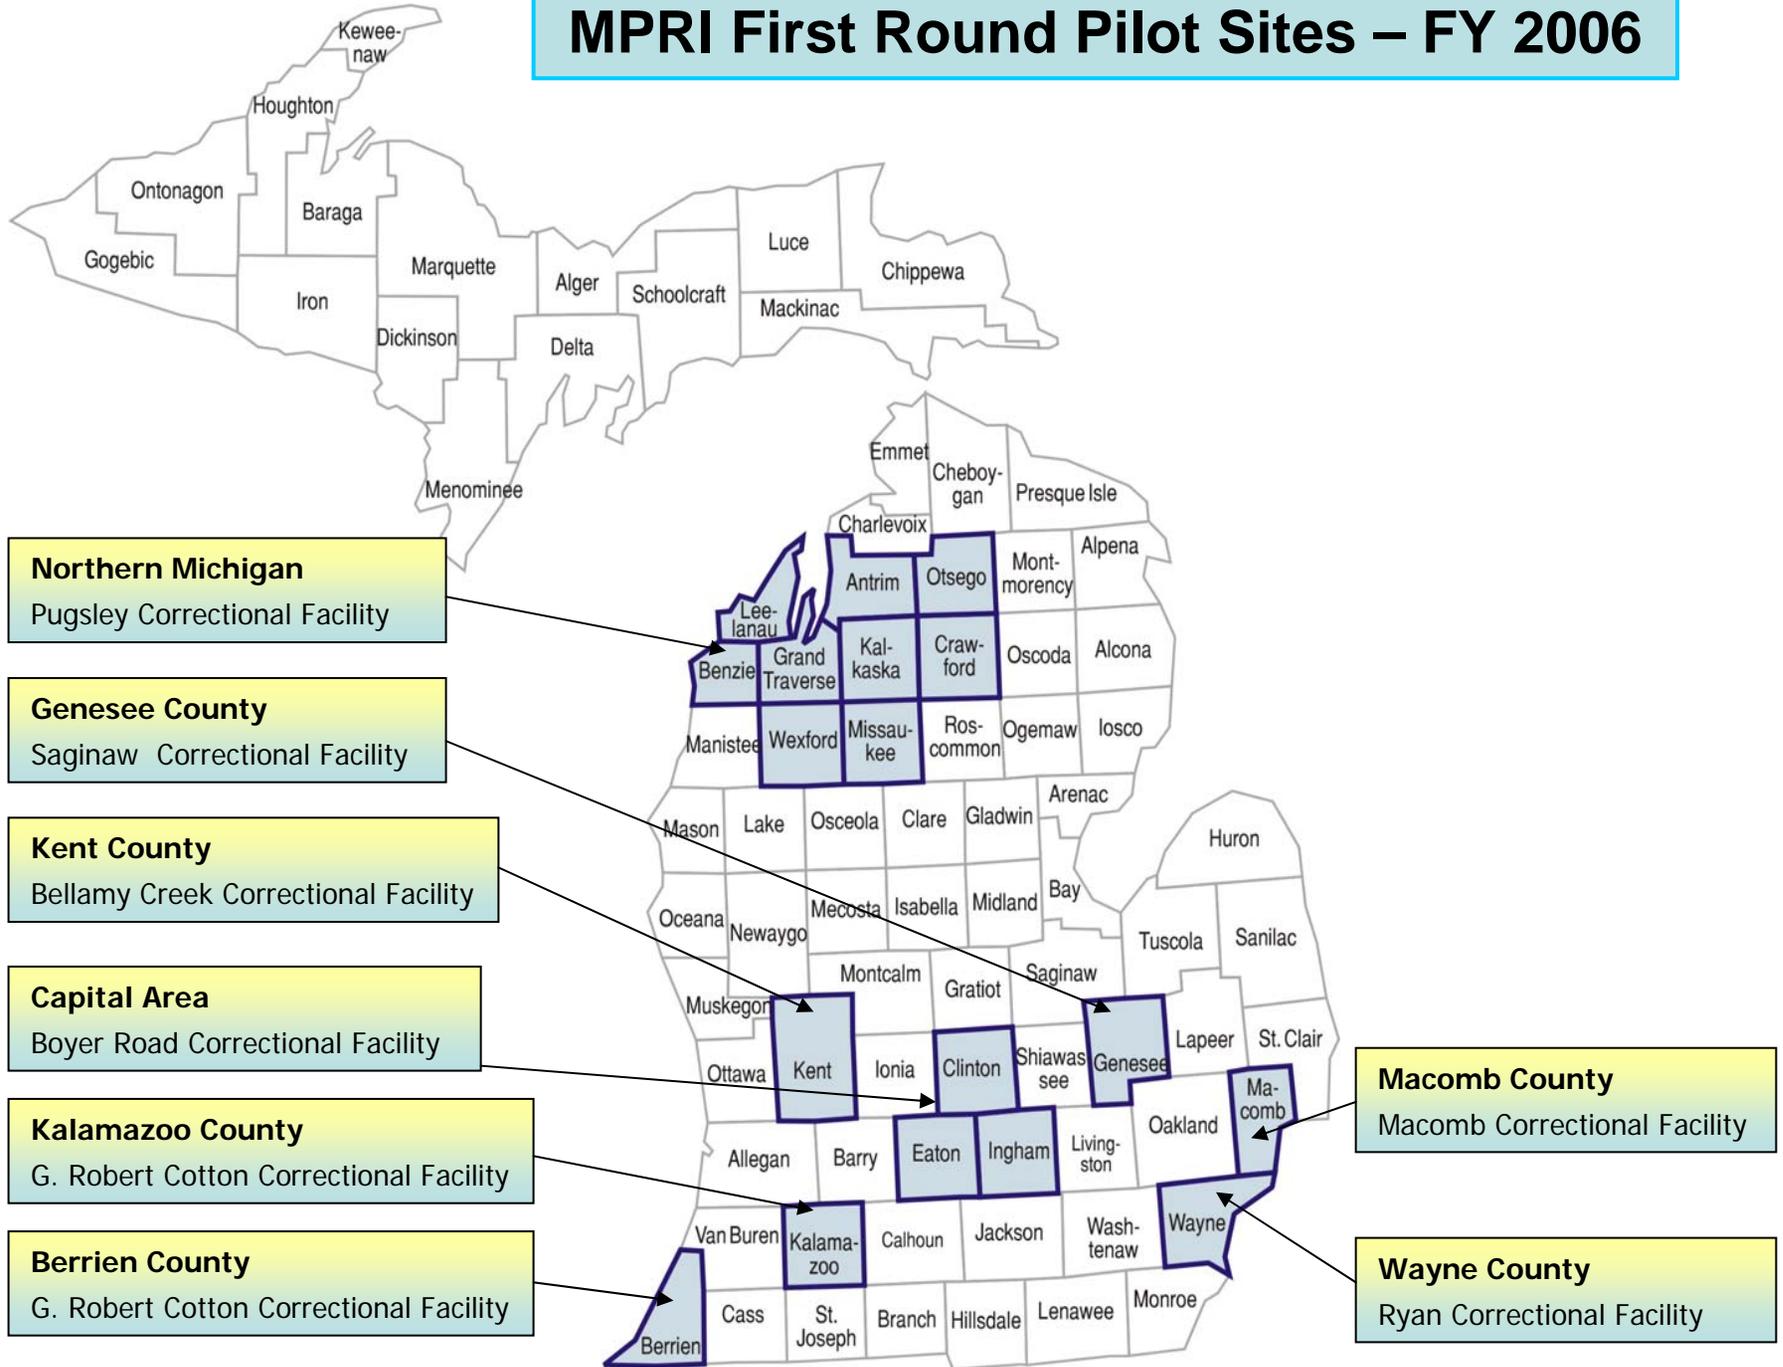

The table on page G-10 shows the principal crimes for which sentences were being served among those offenders transitioned to parole (or discharged) by offender release cohorts. Sentences for drug and other nonassaultive crimes are understandably the most common for the initial offender release cohorts. As successes were achieved and PCB confidence in positive outcomes grew, the mix of offenses has gradually included a higher proportion of assaultive and sex offense cases. Furthermore, the higher proportions are also due to the addition of COMPAS assessments of general and violent recidivism risk and VASOR assessments of sex offender reoffense risk which have provided new tools to gauge an offender's potential for reoffense.

Progress towards fuller implementation of the MPRI Model was made in 2009 as the Learning Site began operations. The Learning Site is the testing ground to advance the processes needed to further implement the MPRI Model. This is the first site where offenders participate in all aspects of the MPRI model, including Phase I (institutional phase), with assessment, case planning, treatment and progress monitoring. In addition, enhancements to the data system are being piloted at the Learning Site to ensure that the system is ready to be launched statewide to improve the tracking of key variables.

Community ReEntry Program

The Community ReEntry Program impacts prison admissions by intervening and diverting eligible parole violators and CRP violators who would otherwise be returned to prison. At the end of 2009, the average time before reparole for a parole technical violator was 18.4 months. The 2009 average successful Residential ReEntry Program (RRP) stay was 75.0 days, or 2.5 months, which saved an average of 15.9 months per parole technical violator RRP participant. The following three programs fall under the Community ReEntry Program:

- The Residential ReEntry Program (RRP) currently operating at two sites – Tuscola Residential ReEntry Program (TRRP) and the Lake County TRV, changing its focus to reentry by becoming the Lake County Residential ReEntry program (LCRRP) in 2008.
- The Intensive Detention ReEntry Program (IDRP) which provides parole agents the opportunity to detain parolees with compliance problems before they become more serious parole violators. The department contracts with the Clinton County Jail and the Ingham County Jail to house parole violators. Two field agents, placed in the jails to supervise the IDRP population, assist field agents in the community by developing an updated release plan for the parolee.

- The Community Residential Program (CRP) provided community supervision on electronic monitoring for eligible low-risk prisoners while they got re-established in the community serving the last months of their sentences before parole. The Electronic Monitoring Center is responsible for monitoring the CRP prisoners. The Electronic Monitoring Center has equipment to handle approximately 3,100 offenders on monitoring. While fully operational at that level in the past, a considerable reduction in numbers has occurred since the implementation of the 1998 Truth-in-Sentencing legislation, due to the continuing impact of the 1998 Truth-in-Sentencing (TIS) law's prohibition on housing State prisoners anywhere other than in secure institutions and camps until their full minimum sentences are served. This prohibition has caused the number of prisoners in the CRP program to fall from around 1,500 prisoners on electronic monitoring to no prisoners in the CRP program as of December 31, 2009.

The table on page H-2 shows the number of new Community ReEntry Program participants by month and program site. MPRI expansion is driving the program's growth.

On page H-3, the table shows the number of Community ReEntry Program terminations by month and program site.

This section's final table on page H-8 shows the 2009 end of month populations experienced by the GPS Electronic Tether program.

New Community ReEntry Program Participants Monthly by Program Site

Calendar Years 2008 and 2009

As of October 2007, the Intensive Detention ReEntry Program (IDRP) falls within the Community ReEntry Programs. The IDRP began in July of 2004 as a result of the need to have an alternative for technical parole violators in counties where jail overcrowding had diminished the Department's ability to detain them. The goal was to provide parole agents the opportunity to detain parolees with compliance problems before they became more serious parole violators and, if needed, repeated incidents of noncompliance could be handled with repeated detentions.

Currently, the Department contracts with the Clinton County Jail and Ingham County Jail to house parole violators for up to 45 days, with an average stay of about 30 days. In rare circumstances, stays can be extended up to 120 days. Two field agents are assigned to the jails to supervise the IDRP population. The field agents at the jails assist field agents in the community by developing an updated release plan for the parolee. While in the jails, parolees receive cognitive programming and Michigan Works employability skills training.

The Residential ReEntry Program (RRP) is currently operating at two sites. In 2006, the former Tuscola prison camp (closed in 2005) was reopened as the Tuscola Residential ReEntry Program. In 2008, the last Technical Rule Violator (TRV) center, Lake County TRV, changed its focus to reentry by becoming the Lake County Residential ReEntry Program.

Both sites house and work with parolees who need a ReEntry refresher course when their behavior exhibits early signs of parole failure. Tuscola also provides programming to new parolees placed as a condition of their parole. Tuscola houses male parolees. Lake County houses both male and female parolees when they begin to exhibit violation behaviors and need additional programming assistance. Lake County housed CRP prisoners while that program was active.

Table 1 shows the number of new Community ReEntry Program participants by month and program site.

Community ReEntry Program Terminations Monthly by Program Site

Calendar Years 2008 and 2009

In 2009, out of the total 2,573 IDRPs terminations (Clinton and Ingham), there were 2,547 parolees that successfully completed the IDRP. Among the total 1,934 RRP terminations (Lake County and Tuscola including a handful of CRP prisoners), 1,835 parolees successfully completed the RRP. The 2009 average successful stay for parolees in the IDRP was 30.9

days (up from 28.6 days in 2008), and for the RRP 79.3 days (up from 71.3 days in 2008).

Unsuccessful IDRPs and RRP terminations occurred in about 2.8% of all terminations for 2009. Parolees failed the RRP after an average of 48.5 days in 2009, compared to 30.5 days in 2008. Typical reasons for unsuccessful terminations from the RRP include:

- Abscond violation
- Medically/Psychologically unmanageable
- Substance abuse violations
- Rule violation (non-substance abuse)
- New felony/misdemeanor
- Threatening/assaultive behavior
- Creating a disturbance
- Failure to follow rules of ReEntry Center

New Electronic Monitoring Participants Monthly by Offender Type

Calendar Years 2008 and 2009

The Electronic Monitoring Center is staffed 24/7 year round. Monitored probationers and parolees are assigned to and supervised by field agents throughout the State, but all monitoring of the equipment, alert processing and notification, and inventory control is managed through the Monitoring Center. The Center also contracts to provide monitoring services for Community Electronic Monitoring (CEM) and for the Regional Detention Services System (RDSS).

The last prisoner was admitted to the Community Residential Program (CRP) program in December 2009.

The table below breaks down the new electronic monitoring participants by month and type of offender.

Monthly Electronic Monitoring Terminations by Offender Type

Calendar Years 2008 and 2009

The table below shows the monthly electronic monitoring terminations by offender type. Prisoners had successful electronic monitoring completions in 82.5% of the 2009 prisoner terminations. Successful prisoners stayed on electronic monitoring for an average of 202 days in 2009 and prisoners who unsuccessfully terminated electronic monitoring stayed for an average of 31 days in 2009.

Below are typical reasons for unsuccessful terminations on electronic monitoring:

- Failure to pay for tether services
- Substance abuse violations
- Curfew violations
- Tampering with tether device
- Escape or abscond violation
- New felony
- Administrative— occurs when the offender is unable to continue for reasons beyond their control, such as, loss of home placement, hospitalized, or commitment to a treatment program.

Monthly GPS Electronic Tether Program Activity

Calendar Year 2009

The use of Global Positioning System (GPS) monitoring allows for the tracking of parolee movement in order to determine compliance with supervision plans. In early 2008, the department began phasing out "Passive" GPS by transferring cases to "Active" GPS. Since the end of June 2008, parolees were monitored on "Active" GPS only.

GPS electronic monitoring shall be used for prisoners granted parole for offenses listed below, including Attempts and Conspiracies to commit these offenses:

- Group 1: Criminal Sexual Conduct (CSC) 1st degree (MCL 750.520b) and CSC 2nd degree – victim under 13 (MCL 750.520c(1)(a)) – GPS monitoring for life.
- Group 2: Any current offense for CSC 1st, 2nd, or 3rd other than those in Group 1 – GPS for the entire term of parole.
- Group 3: Any offense that requires registration under the Sex Offender Registration Act - GPS for a minimum of the first 6 months, and then RF monitoring for the remainder of the parole term. If the offender screened low risk on the VASOR, the first 6 months of GPS may be waived and the offender can be supervised on RF monitoring for the entire term.
- Group 4: A conviction for Failure to Register as a Sex Offender - GPS for a minimum of the first 6 months, and then RF monitoring for the remainder of the parole term.

- Group 5: A conviction for felony Aggravated Stalking or serving a sentence for any other crime along with a concurrent probation term for Aggravated Stalking - GPS for the entire term of parole.
- Group 6: A conviction for felony Domestic Violence - GPS for a minimum of the first 12 months, and then RF monitoring for the remainder of the parole term.
- Group 7: Any other offender ordered by the Parole and Commutation Board and identified by the Parole Release Unit - GPS for a minimum of 6 months, and then RF monitoring for a minimum of 6 additional months.

GPS monitoring may also be used in addition to RF monitoring as an intervention or sanction for non-compliance with the order for parole for parolees who have breaking and entering-type convictions.

The Parole and Commutation Board may not require GPS when medical and/or mental capacity issues make it impractical.

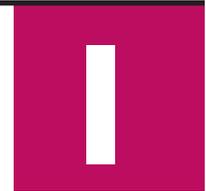

During 2009, there were 2,352 GPS activations and 1,255 terminations. Of the 1,255 terminations, 227 (18.1%) were for administrative reasons. The remaining 1,028 terminations, 417 (40.6%) were a result of technical violations, 32 (3.1%) were a result of new sentence failures, 48 (4.7%) are currently absconders, and 531 (51.7%) were a result of successful completion of GPS. Of the 417 terminations that were a result of technical violations, 52 were for uncharged criminal behavior, making up 12.5% of technical violations and 5.1% of all terminations.

The table below shows the 2009 end of month GPS populations.

Special Alternative Incarceration Program

This section describes offenders committed to the Special Alternative Incarceration Program (SAI) In-Reach Facility. Mid-year 2008, SAI was redesigned to adhere to the evidence-based practices of the Michigan Prisoner Re-Entry Initiative (MPRI). Most significant was dropping the old military-style, “boot camp” setting. Under the “boot camp” philosophy, trainees received a complete set of standard programs whether they had the need for the programs or not. As an In-Reach Facility under MPRI, each trainee now receives individualized custom programming based on their needs, risks, and strengths as determined by a COMPAS assessment.

Previous to mid-year 2008, SAI was known as a boot camp program for prisoners and probationers and was a two-phase program (these phases differ from the MPRI phases drastically).

Phase I, patterned after military basic training, involves physical fitness and programming (education, substance abuse awareness, basic life skills and counseling).

Phase II is an optional residential placement in the community while on parole or probation.

In 2003, Phase III, the intensive parole or probation supervision in the community, was replaced with regular community supervision. FTEs and funding previously under Phase III are now included in Field Supervision.

The program’s objectives are to end criminal behavior by developing offender self-esteem and self-discipline, a sense of individual responsibility and a positive work ethic.

Data regarding SAI prisoner and probationer intake by offense is provided on pages I-2 through I-5.

SAI Phase I program performance is summarized on page I-6. Remember, that SAI changed philosophy mid-year 2008 from a “boot camp” to an MPRI In-Reach Facility. SAI Phase I post-program outcome is summarized on page I-7. Additional information about the SAI program (such as the offender eligibility criteria) is available in a separate annual report, Special Alternative to Incarceration Program.*

The responsibility of the SAI program is under the Correctional Facilities Administration with Cooper Street Correctional Facility serving administratively as parent institution.

Office of Community Corrections

This section provides data on the Office of Community Corrections (OCC).

OCC works with local units of government and criminal justice professionals to implement Michigan's Community Corrections Act, P.A. 511 of 1988. The purpose of the Act is to increase the range and utilization of community sanctions and services for non-violent offenders in order to reduce admissions to prison. The OCC implements program policies, guidelines and standards, and provides technical assistance to local units of government to develop and implement locally-developed comprehensive corrections plans. These plans outline criminal justice problems and how policies and practices and P.A. 511 funds will address them.

Local governments voluntarily participate in the implementation of the Act through forming Community Corrections Advisory Boards (CCABs) which have responsibilities for developing comprehensive corrections plans. The plans establish the framework for applications for funds. Since 1989, 80 counties across the state have elected to participate in implementation of the Act through the formulation of single-county, multi-county and county-city Community Corrections Advisory Boards.

During Fiscal Year 2009, $12,521,532 was awarded for comprehensive corrections plans and services to 74 counties, $17,075,500 for probation residential services, and $1,740,100 for the drunk driver jail reduction and community treatment program.

The OCC continued to work with local agencies to upgrade criminal justice information systems and to facilitate data sharing and the development of integrated information systems in FY 2009. This included efforts to integrate information from jails, courts, probation, service providers and local community corrections agencies. The goals are to reduce redundancy in data entry, improve the quality of the data available at local and state levels, improve communication among agencies and improve the efficiency of criminal justice decision making.

The number of new enrollees in community corrections programs during FY 2009 was 50,887. The charts on page J-2 show the number of offenders determined eligible and enrolled in programs by crime class and legal status. The chart on page J-3 shows the award of comprehensive plans and services funds by program category. The table on page J-4 details the authorized and actual utilization of probation residential services.
