Communication and Coordination Summits

A series of Communication and Coordination Summits are being held across the state to facilitate a collaborative, coordinated, and consistent infrastructure asset management strategy in Michigan. The summits are designed to:

- Represent all stakeholders who use and manage Michigan's infrastructure
- Remove barriers that hinder efficient and effective infrastructure asset management
- Align standards and resources across all infrastructure assets – transportation, water, utilities, and communications

Summit #1

The first Communication and Coordination Summit will be hosted in regions across Michigan this Spring:

When: May and June 2019

Where: Regional locations across Michigan

Format: A mix of presentations, interactive problem-solving, and facilitated discussion will be incorporated into this fast-paced, 2.5-hour summit

Register: Regional registration is happening now!

Your Participation Matters

Background: The management of Michigan's transportation, water, utilities, and communications assets has become increasingly urgent as our state's vital infrastructure is aging and deteriorating. Your participation in the Communication and Collaboration summits gives YOU an opportunity to share your perspective, offer ideas, and voice concerns on this important topic.

- 2016: The 21st Century Infrastructure Commission was formed to initiate planning, development, and management of Michigan's complex infrastructure systems over the next 30 to 50 years. Through the publication of a comprehensive report (2016), the Commission emphasized that successful infrastructure asset management should leverage a well-documented, standardized, and collaborative approach.
- 2017: A regional Infrastructure Asset Management Pilot was conducted across 16 west Michigan and southeast Michigan counties to evaluate data availability and collection methods, develop processes that could be leveraged statewide, and initiate coordination activities across infrastructure sectors.
- 2018: Three councils were created and/or reconfigured to collaboratively guide Michigan's public and private utility and infrastructure owners, regional representatives, finance and policy experts, and state department leaders toward a 30-year management plan for Michigan's diverse infrastructure network.
- The Michigan Infrastructure Council established through Public Act 323 of 2018
  - The Water Asset Management Council established through Public Act 324 of 2018
  - The Transportation Asset Management Council received a broadened scope and realignment through Public Act 325 of 2018
- 2019: We need your input! Beginning in Spring 2019, the Michigan Infrastructure Council will be working with regions across the state to host Communication and Collaboration Summits. These summits are an opportunity to engage with your peers, contribute ideas and voice concerns from your unique perspective, and help drive the future of integrated, Infrastructure Asset Management in Michigan.
- 2021: Publication of Michigan's 30-year Integrated Infrastructure Strategy
