

Luckies Game Instructions

BACKGROUND

Luckies is a charity game designed to be played in conjunction with a random drawing of bingo numbers 1 through 75. Each box contains two deals of Luckies.

Each deal of Luckies contains 320 tickets, including 54 instant winners and 25 HOLD tickets (bearing three unique bingo ball numbers 1-75) that give players a chance to win a $150 prize.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. All tickets in a deal must be sold before a drawing takes place, therefore it is important that additional deals are not offered for sale unless there is time to sell all the tickets before the drawing(s).
2. As tickets are being sold, the licensee must announce each serial number being sold and with which bingo game or drawing the HOLD tickets will be played.
3. HOLD tickets should be retained by players until the $150 prize has been awarded for that serial number.
4. Just prior to the drawing of bingo numbers, announce the following:
 - a. The serial number(s) that will be played with the drawing.
 - b. Remind players to mark off the numbers on their HOLD tickets as they are called, once all three numbers on a ticket are called they must yell "bingo" or "balls" to stop the drawing, and that one of the numbers on a winning ticket must be the last number called.
5. Begin the drawing of bingo numbers.
6. Players can mark off the numbers on their HOLD tickets as they are called.
7. Once all three numbers on a player's ticket have been called, the player must immediately make their winner known by yelling "Bingo," "Luckies," or "Balls" in a manner where at least one worker or caller can hear the it to stop the game.
8. Once a worker hears the player making their bingo known, they must immediately notify the person calling the numbers. The caller must stop for the verification of the proposed winning ticket.
9. The worker takes the proposed winning ticket to a neutral table to read back the serial number and all three numbers on the ticket.
10. The caller verifies the serial number, that all three numbers have been called, and that the last number called is one of those numbers.
11. Once the winner has been verified, the caller announces that Luckies with that serial number is closed.
12. If more than one deal of Luckies is being played with that drawing, the drawing continues until a winner has been determined for each additional serial number that may be in play.
13. If Luckies is being conducted with a bingo game at a licensed bingo occasion,
 - a. If the bingo game has not ended, the drawing must continue until the bingo game has ended.
 - b. If the bingo game ends before determining all Luckies winners for all serial numbers in play, the caller announces that numbers will continue to be drawn until all winners have been determined.
