2. What happens after a complaint is filed?

After a complaint is filed, it is then assigned to a Regulation Agent. Regulation Agents are accountable for a specific area. It is their responsibility to investigate the complaint and licensee to determine if any violations of state law or administrative rules have occurred. They may reach out to the complainant if they have any follow-up questions.

An investigation may result in disciplinary action being issued against the licensee. More information on disciplinary action proceedings can be found in the following administrative rule set R 420.801 to R 420.809 \(michigan.gov\).

Please see the instructions on how to find disciplinary action for more details.
