Cannabis prohibition has had lasting effects in nearly all of Michigan's communities. So many have suffered lengthy incarceration, losing time they will never get back. Financial setbacks and lifelong psychological consequences have created a prison outside of the criminal justice system. Local Roots Cannabis will dedicate a portion of its profits to the Redemption Foundation. The Redemption Foundation non-profit organization that works to free people who are still incarcerated for cannabis and help those who were formerly incarcerated for cannabis. We are committed to ending the criminality and the stigma surrounding cannabis and its users. If you would like more information regarding the Redemption Foundation please see the links below:
