Coventry benefits from a solid financial foundation, at a time marked nationally by health plans exiting the business. Coventry’s outstanding record of profitable growth is evidenced by the organization’s steadily increasing premium revenues. Two key indicators which reflect Coventry’s conservative balance sheet and ability to meet financial obligations are the organization’s total assets and cash & investments.

As a national organization, we continually benefit from our ability to bring “best practices” to each of our markets. Examples include standard member outreach and medical management programs that have been customized in multiple markets.

The networks of participating health care providers that have contracted with our health plans are independent contractors who practice in their own private offices. Through our innovative program, Coventry USASM, our organizations also can take advantage of national relationships for the provision of prescription drug benefits, transplant services, and rental networks to serve out-of-area members.

Coventry plans are ahead of the curve in using technology to better serve customers. Both employer groups and members have access to a wide variety of password-protected, self-service functions through our website at: www.cvty.com. Coventry’s website reflects the organization’s investment in technology to more effectively service customers and deliver increased value.
