

Folks:

We have received a color printing exception for Resource Assessment/Compartment Review imagery and maps. This requested was predicated on use of these materials with our publics. Color in imagery and maps conveys complex resource condition information and detailed treatment proposals. Although we rely heavily on electronic media to disseminate this information (web, email, disk), color printed copies are needed, especially at public Open Houses and Compartment Reviews, to accurately depict management of state forests.

Please apply this color printing exception judiciously as you prepare for Open Houses and Compartment Reviews.

If you encounter difficulty with printers (being able to print in color), please contact Joe Taylor.
